TREVECCA NAZARENE COLLEGE

OCTOBER 5, 1960

Freshmen Arrive Early For Orientation

Dix Is New Head of Science Department

Professor John W. Dix is the new Science Department head. He comes to Trevecca from the University of Tennessee Medical College, where he has been teaching and studying for the Ph.D. degree. Mr. Dix has been engaged in research work in the field of neuro-anatomy. He will continue this work while at Trevecca.

Prior to his stay at the U.T. Medical College, Mr. Dix taught in Davidson County schools and at Northwest Nazarene College in Nampa, Idaho. He received the M.A. degree from Peabody College. He graduated from Trevecca in 1949.

Active in church work, Mr. Dix has served as N.Y.P.S. president, Sunday school superintendent, and as a pastor for five years. He joined the Church of the Nazarene in 1942.

As for club affiliations, the new science head is a member of Phi Delta Lambda, Beta Beta Beta, and an associate member of Sigma Si. His hobbies include raising pedigree "Pekes" and swimming.

Mr. Dix served in the European theater during World War II from 1943 to 1946. He and Mrs. Dix have two children, John Mark and Cathy Lynn.

The one man who is to be pitied more than a quitter is the one who is afraid to begin.

Zone Conference On Evangelism Slated For November 16-17

The Southeastern Zone of the Church of the Nazarene will present its first quadrennial conference on evangelism, "Evangelism First," at Trevecca Nazarene College on November 16-

Ed. S. Degrees Conferred On Professor and Mrs. Chambers

Professor and Mrs. Leon Chambers received their Ed. S. degrees from Peabody College this summer. This degree, specialist in education, is one year beyond the M.A. degree. The Chamberses have been on Trevecca's faculty since 1957, and Mrs. Chambers taught in Trevecca's high school the previous year.

Mrs. Chambers, biology professor at Trevecca, majored in biology and wrote her thesis on "The Use of Chemistry in Teaching of Biology." She has received a scholarship from Peabody and will complete her residence work for a Ph.D. degree next summer. Because of this she is teaching only one class of biology this year. She received the A.B. degree at Trevecca and the M.A. degree at Peabody.

Mrs. Mabel Greene To Give Recital

Mrs. Mabel Greene, head of the Department of Speech at Trevecca, will present a speech recital in the Fine Arts auditorium on October 14 at 7:45 p.m. She will be assisted by Mrs. Rose Pickard, soprano.

Mrs. Greene will present "The White Cliffs of Dover," a love story by Alice D. Miller. The story takes place in England. The main character is an American woman who always feels very patriotic toward her country, but who moves to England and falls in love. War comes, which brings a series of tragedies in her life, but she bears them bravely.

Mrs. Pickard will present several songs. Among others, she will sing "The White Cliffs of Dover."

17. Dr. V. H. Lewis, general superintendent, and Dr. Edward Lawlor, executive secretary of the Department of Evangelism, will be the special speakers. All twelve districts on the zone will be represented by their district superintendents, pastors, and laymen.

Services will be at 9 a.m. and 2 p.m. in College Hill Church both days, and at 11 a.m. and 7:30 p.m. in the chapel of the McClurkan Memorial building.

Local motels and the school cafeteria are offering special low convention rates to those who attend.

Roberta Peters Stars in Opening Symphony Concert

Roberta Peters, whose golden voice is well known at the Metropolitan Opera, on TV, and on concert stages round the world, will open the Nashville Symphony's 1960-61 series, singing a group of operatic arias with the orchestra, October 24 and 25.

Claudio Arrau, considered by many the world's greatest living pianist; Andres Segovia, who has revived single-handed the almost lost art of the classic guitarist; Henryk Szeryng, one of the outstanding violinists of our time; and Emmett Vokes, brilliant pianist who is a member of the Peabody College faculty, round out the year's list of distinguished guest artists.

The Nashville Symphony Orchestra, at a new standard of excellence under the inspired leadership of Willis Page, proudly presents its fifteenth anniversary season, featuring an exciting variety of the classics, and significant contemporary compositions.

Concerts are presented in the War Memorial Auditorium on Monday and Tuesday evenings. Season tickets at the special student rate of $4.00 for the six concerts will be available on campus and from the symphony office in the Hermitage Hotel.

Dr. Anderson Is Speaker For Fall Revival

The fall revival is upon Trevecca. It is to be from October 2 until October 9, with Dr. Mack Anderson as special speaker.

Trevecca's fall revival is held in conjunction with College Hill Church. The morning services are held in McClurkan chapel at 11 a.m. Monday through Friday, and services are being conducted at the church at 7:30 every evening.

Dr. Anderson, a graduate of Breese College, has been superintendent of the Georgia District of the Church of the Nazarene since 1947. Preceding this he spent fifteen years in full-time evangelistic work and was pastor in Oklahoma, Indiana, and Texas. He received the Doctor of Divinity degree from Trevecca Nazarene College on May 31, 1960. He has a wife and one daughter.

Trevecca students and faculty have prepared for the revival. Noonday prayer and fasting meetings were held last week. Students participated in a chain prayer Friday night with two praying at a time for about thirty minutes. These prayer activities were sponsored jointly by the Christian Workers Association and the class in evangelism under the direction of Professor Leon Chambers.

A friend of Clara Barton, founder of the American Red Cross, once reminded her of an especially cruel thing that had been done to her years before. But Miss Barton seemed not to recall it.

"Don't you remember it?" her friend asked.

"No," came the reply. "I distinctly remember forgetting it."

Placement Tests Are Given

Freshman Orientation activities, under the direction of Professor K. W. Phillips, began officially Thursday, September 15, although new students have been arriving all summer.

After a brief devotional service, the freshmen reported to the library and cafeteria for the College Qualification Test and the ACE English Placement and Exemption Test. Dr. Franklyn Wise was in charge of the College Qualification Test, and Dr. Lewis Pennington the ACE English Placement Test. A Campus Life Conference was conducted that evening in the Fine Arts auditorium, with dormitory house meetings after Professor Leon Chambers, dean of students, addressed the freshmen. Each head resident met with the students from his dormitory: Mrs. Mabel Orndoff, McKay, Smith, and Gibbs Halls; Miss Marie Peery, Hardy Hall; Mr. Walter White, Tidwell Hall.

On Friday, September 16, after the usual devotional service, the freshmen went to take the Iowa Silent Reading Test and Kuder Preference Record under the direction of Dr. Lewis Pennington, and the Bible Survey Test under the direction of Dr. Homer J. Adams. Interviews were held in the library for educational counseling and guidance on trial schedules. Choir and chorus auditions were in the Fine Arts building by Professor Ramon Unruh and Miss Barbara McClain.

The Junior Class, under the direction of Mrs. Alta Redford, was in charge of a faculty reception for the freshmen Friday evening. This was in the cafeteria because of rain. Professor K. W. Phillips was in charge, and Dr. A. B. Mackey was the special speaker for the occasion. Professor Ramon Unruh presented a special song. Refreshments were served.

Educational counseling and choir and chorus auditions took place on Saturday. The faculty gave the students a picnic supper on Hardy Green. An open-air service, with James Staley, president of the C.W.A., in charge was Saturday night. Dr. W. M. Greathouse, dean of religion, brought a message of inspiration.

Sunday, September 18, was a busy day for Christian workers with the new freshmen taking active part in Christian work.

LeJeune Welcomes Freshmen

Dear Freshman,

The time has arrived! You are now a full-fledged college freshman. You have taken the tests; you have become acquainted with students and faculty, and you have been oriented to college life in general. Now comes the time to really dig in and work. Your college career will be exactly what you make of it, nothing more.

When you become a senior, you will want to be able to look back and say, "I have had a good college career. I have studied hard, made the best grades that I was capable of making, entered into social activities, and kept a triumphant Christian experience."

In order to be able to say that, you must start now by being a good all-round student. Your relationship with the Lord must come first. Keep prayed up, especially in your private devotions, and participate in Christian work whenever you can. Your studies must be your other big concern. Start at the beginning of each quarter and work steadily; then you will not be left behind when exam time rolls around.

A good all-round student has some time left for extra-curricular activities. You should participate in the activities of your class, as well as sports, social functions, and the club or clubs of your choice.

You have a better opportunity than anyone has ever had at Trevecca. Take advantage of it, and you will look back on these years as the very best in your life.

Your friend in Christ,

Orval LeJeune,
Student Council President

Trevecca Address

Two score and nineteen years ago, our church fathers brought forth upon this hill a new college, conceived in faith and dedicated to the proposition that all men can obtain a Christian education. Now we are engaged in a great revival, testing whether that school, or any school so conceived and so dedicated, can long endure. We are met at the altar of that revival. We have come to dedicate our lives, our all, for the One who gave His life that all might be saved. It is altogether fitting and proper that we should do this. But, in a larger sense, we can not dedicate—we cannot consecrate—we cannot hallow—our lives. That brave One, who died but lives forever, has sanctified us, far above our poor power to add or detract. The world may little note, nor long remember, what we say here, but our influence can never be forgotten. It is for us the living, rather, to be dedicated here to the unfinished work which the saints who fought here have thus far so nobly advanced. It is rather for us to be here dedicated to the great task remaining before us—that to Christ we give increased devotion—that we here highly resolve that Christ shall not have died in vain—that this school, under God, shall have a new touch of the Spirit of God, and that college of the children of God, by the children of God, for the children of God, shall not perish from the earth.

—Adapted from Lincoln's
"Gettysburg Address"

"The fear of the Lord is the beginning of wisdom: a good understanding have all they that do His commandments: His praise endureth forever."

Psalm 111:10

Know Your Editor

The new Trev-Echoes editor is Mary Jane Still, a junior from Kingsport, Tennessee. Small but active, Mary Jane has been secretary and president of the Literary Club, secretary of the Christian Workers Association, treasurer of Trevecca Athletic Association, and recipient of the Sportsmanship Award for girls for 1960. She also belongs to the East Tennessee, Math, and Future Teachers Clubs. She graduated from Dobyns-Bennett High School where she was a member of the Journalism Club, the Junior Classical League, and an honorary mathematics club.

Mary Jane is usually an honor roll student, and is very active in Christian work and sports. Her main interests are music, good books, and people. She enjoys writing and hopes to publish a good paper with the aid of her capable staff. She plans to teach English and mathematics after doing graduate work at Peabody College.

Ed.S. Degrees Conferred

(Continued from Page 1, Col 2) students and professor of religion at Trevecca, undertook the course of counseling and guidance. He based his thesis on "A Test to Predict the Success of Ministers in the Church of the Nazarene." He received his material from 100 laymen, 100 pastors, and 35 church administrators on what they consider to be most important for the success of ministers in the Church of the Nazarene. He received the Th. B. degree at Trevecca, the B.D. degree from the Nazarene Theological Seminary, and the M.A. degree from Peabody.

Know Your Business Manager

Dwayne Little is the new Trev-Echoes business manager. Dwayne, a junior, is from Ludlow, Kentucky. He plans to major in education and minor in history.

Holding office is nothing new to Dwayne. He was elected treasurer of his freshman class. Last year he was president of the East Kentucky Club, and a member of the Trev-Echoes staff. He was business manager of his high school yearbook and received the Boy of the Year Award and the Science Award. He also attended the Nazarene International Youth Institute in Estes Park, Colorado, in 1958.

Dwayne plans to continue his education at Peabody College or Vanderbilt University. He says his main interests are sports and politics.

C.W.A. REPORTS

Some years ago a young man stopped and listened as a street service was being conducted. At the time his main interest was to satisfy his curiosity. He had no particular desire to become a Christian. However, as a result of that service he began to seek God and gave his heart and life to Him. Since then he has become a leader in his church and a Christian gentleman in whom people have confidence because of his daily walk with the Master.

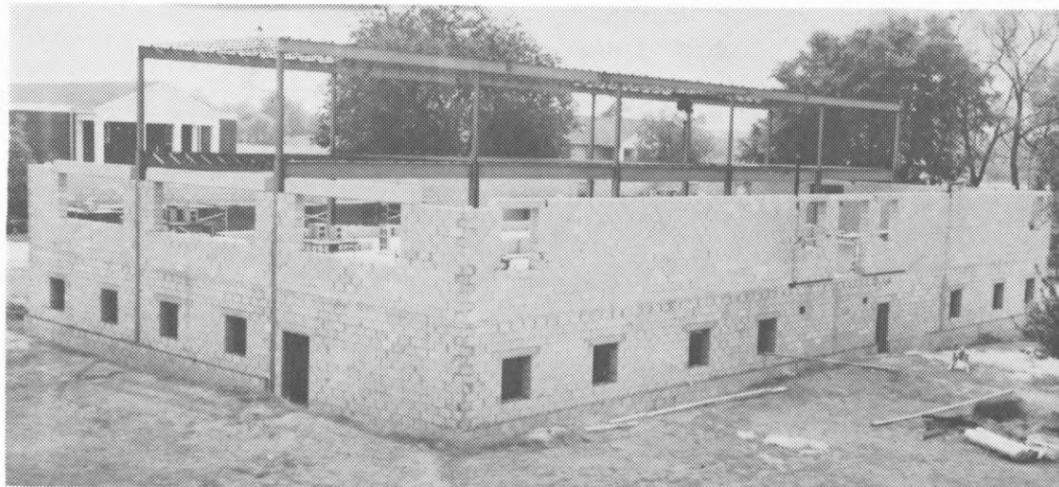

Cases similar to this have been repeated numbers of times in the past fifty-nine years as students have gone from Trevecca College into the jails, workhouses, rest homes and other places to carry the story of full salvation. We are not living on past blessings, however, but look to the future, confident that God's continued blessings will be upon us as we begin a new year. We will be entering new doors and facing experiences never faced before, but we lean on the promise, "Lo, I am with you always." We invite you to share in these services and enjoy the blessings as troubled souls find rest through forgiveness of sins. We welcome you to all the services throughout the week-end, and to the weekly prayer meeting on Monday evenings at six o'clock.

—Martha Gray

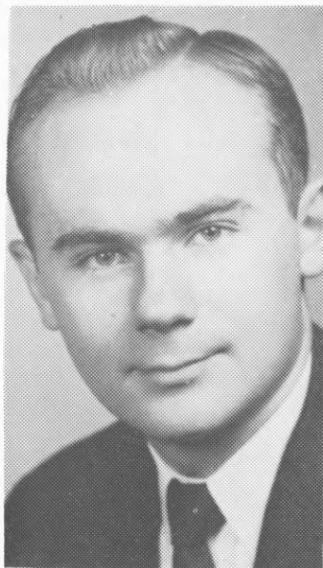

"Mary, I told you to be sure and notice when that soup boiled over."
"I did, mother; it was exactly 12:25."

Under His Wings

Fire had consumed a farmer's wheat field. Back fires had kept his house and barn safe, but he had suffered great loss. As he sadly walked through the burnt stubble of his fields, he saw the blackened body of a hen. Idly he turned the charred hen over. Twelve chicks ran out from under the mother hen. She had spread her wings out to cover her chicks and had protected them from the fire while she herself was burned to death. What a lesson in love! And how the Heavenly Father cares for and protects His children. "Fear not: for I have redeemed thee, I have called thee by thy name; thou art mine . . . When thou walkest through the fire, thou shalt not be burned; neither shall the flame kindle upon thee. For I am the Lord thy God." (Isa. 43:1-3). "In the shadow of thy wings will I make my refuge, until these calamities be overpast." (Ps. 57:1). "He shall cover thee with his feathers, and under his wings shalt thou trust." (Ps. 91:4).

Up—Up—Up—went the construction of the Mackey Library during the summer months. The area where Dr. Mackey's former home once stood was full of activity during the summer as the blocks began to extend upward. The dedication of the library is expected to be in the spring of 1961.

Jernigan Is Assistant Librarian

The new assistant librarian is Rev. William Jernigan, a graduate of Trevecca Nazarene College in 1957. Born in Savannah, Georgia, he later moved to Nashville and attended Nashville public schools. He completed his work for the B.D. degree at Nazarene Theological Seminary this year. He is now working toward the M.A.-L.S. degree at Peabody College.

Mr. Jernigan is married to the former Juanita Orndoff, daughter of Mrs. Mabel Orndoff, head resident of McKay Hall. He has taught and has been pastor prior to coming to take his present position. He has been associated with the Church of the Nazarene for most of his life.

Summer School Enrolls 160 Students

This summer T. N. C. had a record enrollment of 160. The students enjoyed the cool comfort of air-conditioned classrooms and library.

Under the direction of the committee composed of Miss Marie Peery, Wendell Poole, Carol Light, Sue Hayes, and Melvin Welch, the summer scholars were provided with recreation of all kinds, including several ice cream freezes, watermelon feasts, and hamburger fries. On July 4 the students defeated the faculty in an exciting softball game by the score of 14-1.

Christian workers were also active during the summer months. They were under the guidance of C. W. A. President James Staley and the faculty sponsor, Professor K. W. Phillips. Many received spiritual help and gave their hearts to God.

Mother: Willie, was it a bad accident when you and that other boy ran into each other on your bicycles?

Willie: Well, he was knocked speechless and my bike was knocked spokeless.

Faculty Enjoy Annual Retreat

September 13, 1960, signaled the beginning of the new school year to thirty-one Trevecca faculty members, for this was the day of the annual teachers' retreat. Following the custom of several years, the meeting was at Montgomery Bell State Park. In former years, the retreat covered two days, but now it is reduced to one for the business session, although some families go down a day early to make preparation for the event and engage in such light recreation as boating and fishing. At the conclusion of the retreat the business manager and the academic dean, at great personal sacrifice (for this included a few more hours of fishing) remained as the clean-up crew.

There seemed to be a consensus that this was the best T.N.C. teachers' retreat in a number of years. It was also one of the busiest. The day began with a bountiful breakfast at 7:30, provided by Mr. Klinstiver and his staff. This excellent meal was typical of others that followed. All members of the Trevecca family quite apparently remembered to bring their appetites along.

The day's work officially began with a devotional period and opening remarks by President Mackey. This was followed by a "faculty roll-call," a brief resume by each teacher of his summer activities and his testimony. The group then divided into committees where much of the work is usually done. These were composed of the regular standing committees, area committees divided according to teaching fields and several special committees. During the day the faculty met in plenary session several times for committee reports, individual reports on testing and other business. The Rev. Jerry Costa and Dr. W. M. Greathouse led other devotional periods.

The afternoon session began at 1:30. Brief periods of time in connection with the dinner and supper hours permitted some recreation. This tended to be horseshoe pitching for the men, which disclosed new talents in this field. Perhaps the faculty men will challenge the students to some competition in horseshoes, since they fell a bit short in softball this summer.

The evening session concluded with a devotional service where there was a deep sense of fellowship and God's presence. Cars began to depart for Nashville about 8:30 with Trevecca teachers feeling that the 1960 retreat with its theme, "Improving Instruction," had been worthwhile indeed.

After finding a half-dollar on Main Street recently, Willie Moron had to throw it away. He couldn't find the other half.

Mrs. Jones Teaches Demonstration School

Mrs. Lucille Jones of 811 Kirkwood Lane in Nashville is the new teacher for the seventh and eighth grades in the Demonstration School at Trevecca. Mrs. Jones earned her R. N. at Midstate Baptist Hospital after receiving her grade school and high school education in Florida, Georgia, and Tennessee. She worked at Vanderbilt Hospital for a number of years.

The new teacher has been a familiar figure on campus, having earned both her Th. B. and A.B. degrees here. Last year she was the assistant to Professor Phillips.

Mrs. Jones has worked in rehabilitation and hospital work, has been interested in P.T.A., and has served on the city council. She also was an assistant prison chaplain and conducted prison Bible school for six years. She has been active in social and Christian work among Negroes. A Nazarene for only two years, Mrs. Jones is an ordained elder and attends First Church of the Nazarene where she teaches the Hale Bible Class.

Mrs. Jones has a husband and two teen-aged sons who keep her busy. She is also an accomplished poet.

PLACEMENT TESTS GIVEN

Tuesday was registration day for upperclassmen, while the "greenies" had a personal development conference, a devotional service, library orientation, and a class meeting. The Junior Class sponsored a Get-Acquainted social on Hardy Green that evening and served refreshments.

Classes began Wednesday. The Student Council presented a film, "The Difference," Friday evening. It compared a Christian college to a non-Christian college.

After a tour of Nashville Saturday morning for the freshmen, the Senior Class had a party for all students Saturday evening in the Student Center. Games were played, and refreshments served.

The annual Freshman Recognition Week was conducted September 26 to October 1 by the Sophomore Class.

CHAPEL BELLS

Chapel services began on Wednesday, September 21. Dr. A. B. Mackey was the first speaker. His topic was "What TNC Offers You." The special song, "Blessed Is That Readeth," was by the college quartet, composed of Dennis Hage, Dale Melton, Gene Cook, and Douglas Askew.

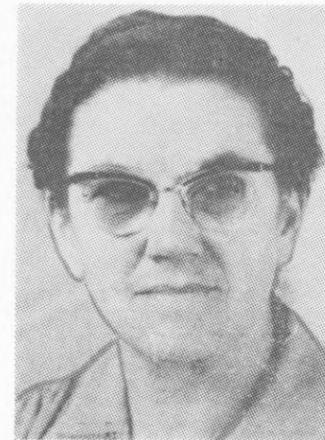

Dr. W. M. Greathouse, dean of religion, spoke on Thursday. His scripture was Psalm 8:4, "What is man that thou art mindful of him?" Professor Ramon Unruh presented "I Sing of Thee."

Dr. Homer J. Adams spoke briefly Friday following a period of testimonies. Patsy Wood sang "There's Room at the Cross" as the special music for the service.

Dr. Mackey spoke on Monday, September 26, on "What You Can Offer Trevecca." The speakers for the remainder of the week were Dr. Charles Childers, Professor K. W. Phillips, Dr. F. Franklyn Wise, and Professor Leon Chambers.

Dr. Mackey will be speaking Monday, October 10, after the revival, on "Conserving and Enlarging the Revival." Dr. John Logan will complete the week through October 14 with a series of messages on "How to Worship."

The Trevecca Nazarene College school paper, Trev-Echoes, has begun a new year with a new staff, and new events. By sending your name, address, and one dollar to: Business Manager of Trev-Echoes, Trevecca Nazarene College, Nashville, Tennessee, your name will be included on the new mailing list. You will receive fifteen issues throughout the school year.

Mrs. Orndoff Returns As Dorm Mother

Mrs. Mabel Orndoff, head resident of McKay Hall, returned this fall to Trevecca after a year's retirement because of ill health. She had previously been at Trevecca for eight years, serving as dorm mother for seven. Before coming to Trevecca, Mrs. Orndoff worked at the Faith Bible Academy in Camdenton, Missouri.

Mrs. Orndoff is the mother of two children, a son from Springfield, Missouri, and a daughter, the wife of Mr. Bill Jernigan, a new faculty member. It was with her children that she spent her leave of absence.

Eighty-seven girls in McKay Hall are under Mrs. Orndoff's supervision. She also is in general charge of Smith and Gibbs Halls.

Waiter: Mr. Brown left his umbrella again. I believe he'd leave his head if it were loose.

Manager: I believe you're right. I heard him say only yesterday he was going to Arizona for his lungs.

Quartet Completes Tour

The Trevecca quartet left school June 1 and made several short trips in Tennessee and southern Kentucky. They then left for the General Assembly in Kansas City, Missouri, where they sang once in the assembly and several times at the Trevecca booth.

After General Assembly, the quartet, composed of Douglas Askew, Gene Cook, Dale Melton, and Dennis Hage, began their tour of the Southeastern Educational Zone. Rev. Clifford C. Keys, field representative, accompanied them on the tour. A total of 12,756 miles over seventeen states was covered during the two and a half months of the tour.

Reports of the results of the tour have been favorable. Aside from the financial support for the Mackey Library received, many young people were influenced to attend Trevecca. The members of the quartet agree that it was a profitable and enjoyable summer in spite of the rigorous schedule.

The hill on which Trevecca stands has begun to come alive with activities of the fall quarter students. It looks as though there will be another fine session in the various sports here at Trevecca under the guidance of T.A.A. president, Wendell Poole.

Last year's football champions, the Alphas, are expected to repeat their championship performance once again this year. The Betas and Deltas probably will be evenly matched, since the Deltas will find it hard to replace Glenn Woods, Paul Jackson and Gene Reynolds. The latter two graduated last year. The Betas are expected to improve vastly through the freshman crop.

The Alphas ran away with the basketball championship last year with the excellent playing of Ed Sisson, who averaged 32 points a game. The Alphas will lose only one, Bruce Haddix. Because of graduation and with the new freshman crop they will be tough to beat once again this year. The Deltas will lose Glenn Woods and Paul Jackson from last year's squad. The Betas, unless they come up with a fine crop of freshmen, will probably have another rough season.

The Deltas broke the Alphas' monopoly in the sports field by winning the softball championship once again this year. The Betas should prove to be very tough this year in softball with the return of their two leading hitters. The Alphas probably will play the part of spoilers this year, but look out, as they could stir up a little dust on the diamond.

One of the most recent improvements to Trevecca's sports is the paving of the tennis court and the painting of the wire around it. This will enable our tennis fans to enjoy the game much more. Also, as soon as the basketball goals are erected inside the court, our basketball fans can enjoy the convenience of a paved court.

With the football season drawing near, the fans are urged to attend these games and root for their favorite team.

Upperclassmen Defeat Frosh 9-4

On September 22 the upperclassmen defeated the freshmen and high school by the score of 9-4. The freshmen put up a good battle but were hindered by miscues. Four of the upperclassmen runs were unearned.

Lowell Clyburn led the upperclassmen in hitting. He got a double and accounted for five R. B. I.'s. Fred Cobbs and Bud York collected two hits apiece for the lowerclassmen. Byron Dollar hurled for the upperclassmen against Jerry Bryant for the lowerclassmen.

Freshmen Class Has First Meeting

On September 20 an excited Freshman Class assembled in the Fine Arts auditorium for its first class meeting. Under the leadership of our student council president, Orville LeJeune, a committee was elected to nominate candidates for class offices during the coming year. It was composed of Roger Costa, Jim Dyhouse, Charlotte Porter, Bud York, and Jerry Appleby.

Wendell Poole, T.A.A. president, also addressed the group. He explained, in detail, the athletic program at Trevecca. Dale Melton, secretary of the student council, also spoke to the class. He listed the requirements necessary to become Class of the Year.

Overcome With Good

The sharp ugly thorn intensifies the fragrant beauty of the rose. The intense noonday heat makes the coolness of the shade the more pleasant. The weight of heavy burdens and the wearisome toil of the day make the rest at the day's end more satisfying. The intensity of the storm makes the harbor more calm and peaceful. The joy of being found comes only to one who has been lost. The satisfaction of accomplishment is experienced only by those who had obstacles to overcome. Relief comes only to those who have suffered.

Much more could be said to show that there is always lots of good even with the worst that comes to us. Abundant living does not result from escaping the bad but from overcoming the bad with good. In short, we must learn to sip the honey from life and cast away the sting.

—D. H. Spencer

Miss Leidigh Is New Nurse

Trevecca's new school nurse is Miss Margaret Leidigh, R. N., from Soucier, Mississippi. Miss Leidigh attended Perkinson Junior College in Perkinson, Mississippi, and then the Methodist Hospital in Hattiesburg, Mississippi, where she began her nurse's training and became acquainted with the Church of the Nazarene in September of 1956. When the school of nursing there closed, she transferred to Mississippi Baptist Hospital in Jackson, Mississippi. During this time she had psychiatric affiliation in Chattahoochee, Florida. On August 30, 1959, she was graduated from Mississippi Baptist Hospital and received her R. N. degree. She also received the BSU or Baptist Student's Award for one who exemplified the life of Christ on the campus.

On September 14, Miss Leidigh began working as staff nurse at Mississippi Baptist Hospital in Jackson. She arrived at Trevecca Nazarene College on September 15, 1960.

Her office hours are 9-11 a.m. and 1-3 p.m. on Mondays, Wednesdays, and Fridays; 2-4 p.m. on Tuesdays and Thursdays; and 9:30-11:30 a.m. on Saturdays. All students are invited to visit the school nurse whenever necessary.

Smith Hall Remodeled As Dormitory

The new girls dormitory, which is named Smith Hall in honor of the late Donnie Smith, was remodeled this summer. Donnie was Student Council president during the 1958-59 school term, choir member for five years, and was chosen "Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities." He was killed by a bolt of lightning the day before graduation.

The new dormitory, formerly the president's home, was moved to make way for the building of the new library. The remodeling of Smith Hall was headed by Mr. Lorenzo Staggs, with the construction aid of student labor.

Smith Hall, which is to accommodate thirty girls, has five new bedrooms and two bathrooms in the basement. Besides a beautiful living room and a kitchen, the remainder of the house consists of four bedrooms and one bathroom, plus sufficient closet space.
