Dr. Coulter Heads Group Convention To Begin Feb. Committee Meets; Announce Plans

The Missionary Convention, scheduled for February 19-21, will feature Dr. George Coulter, executive secretary of the Department of Foreign Missions, who will be in general charge of the public services, and three guest missionaries. They are Miss Irene Jester, veteran missionary to Africa, who has served three terms there; Rev. Hubert W. Helling, missionary to Japan, who has served two terms; and Rev. Earl L. Morgan, missionary to Lebanon and the Middle East, who has also served two terms. Dr. Coulter will be assisted by two of the missionaries at each service.

Both Mr. Helling and Mr. Morgan have been associated with the Nazarene Bible school work in their respective fields.

Schedule of activities at Trevecca will include the missionaries' showing of pictures of their respective fields after each evening service. Also, Mr. Morgan will have pictures of the Holy Land.

Dr. Coulter will desire to interview all prospective missionaries. He will be located in the conference room on the second floor of the library for these interviews. One or more missionaries will also be on duty in the display room of the library at the same time to get acquainted with students and to discuss curios and other display items that they have been requested to bring this year.

Special luncheons are scheduled each day in the Banquet Room of the cafeteria for Trevecca Missionary Fellowship members and associate members, and other interested persons who are praying about the matter but who do not feel completely clear on the call to missionary service. To hear a different missionary speak each day in a down-to-earth, practical manner to future missionaries could be of great help to those who feel the possibility of a missionary calling.

Members of the Trevecca Missionary Fellowship are eager that the entire student body avail themselves of the benefits of the conference and that they take advantage of the benefits of the personal contact with the missionaries.

This event is sponsored by the Trevecca Missionary Fellowship, members of which are making liberal pledges in an effort to help defray the expense of the conference.

The conference has been so well appreciated and enjoyed in the past that Trevecca students may possibly look forward to it as an annual event.

MISS JESTER

TMF REPORT . . .

Do you have your plans made to join Willie T. at the Missionary Conference? It is less than two weeks away now, and preparations are really humming. Wednesday, Feb. 19 is the opening day, and you'll want to be sure to check the bulletin boards for additional information, which Willie will be posting soon.

The crowning service of the Con-

The annual meeting of the Executive Committee of the Board of Trustees of Trevecca College was January 28.

The committee voted to approve the plans for the proposed physical education building. Construction will begin as soon as one hundred thousand dollars can be put in the account. Three fourths of the money raised by the "Boosters Club" will be applied to this account also, while the remaining fourth will go for scholarships.

The committee also voted and allotted money to go for campus improvement. Included among these improvements will be the completion of the basement of the Mackey Library, landscaping, the building of sidewalks in the central area of the campus, and for supplementing the project money for the new entrance-way to our college.

They also voted to buy a printing press which will enable all of the school's printing to be done on campus.

It was agreed upon that renewed emphasis should be placed upon the paying of district budgets for it is from this source that many of our projects are completed.

Student Leaders Meet At Park

The Student Leadership Conference for the winter quarter was held yesterday at the Montgomery Bell State Park with John Chilton presiding as chairman.

After the election of the chairman for the meeting, Larry Dodson led in the morning devotions.

The next item on the agenda was a panel discussion—"Point System in Societies vs. the Point System in Classes and Clubs," led by Jerry Appleby and John Chilton. Others on the panel were: for the societies, Jeanne Thrasher and Dr. Charles L. Childers; for the classes and clubs, Jim Knight and Dr. Homer J. Adams.

After the mid-morning break, "Student Participation in Community Projects" was given by Phyllis Buss and followed by an open-floor discussion.

After lunch, the members of the conference were divided into four discussion groups to consider problems in the athletic program, the student center, orientation, and the school elections. After the chairmen of the groups had made their reports to the united body, an open forum was declared for all to add suggestions and voice their opinions on the various subjects discussed.

After the adjournment from the meeting, the group headed back for Trevecca with new ideas and suggestions for a better school and for freer communication between student and faculty administrators.

Appleby, Wise In Crusade Team

Jerry Appleby and Myron Wise are among the fourteen outstanding Nazarene young people from seven colleges and the seminary that will make up two teams to make evangelistic tours of six Latin-American countries in July, conditions permitting. Their names were announced at the recent General Board meeting in Kansas City. The teams will visit one English speaking field and two Spanish speaking in Latin America.

Adult director of one team will be Dr. Paul Orjala, missionary to Haiti, and leader of the second team will be Dr. H. T. Reza, head of the Spanish department. Adult preachers and singers also will make up the teams.

The group will attend the General Assembly in Portland, Oregon. Then, after a briefing conference with the Department of Foreign Missions, they will leave on July 1 for their crusade. They will return about the middle of August. Their expenses, estimated at about $1,285, will be paid by the General Church.

Representatives Visit Campus

A Peace Corps team from Washington, D. C. is visiting Tennessee A&I, Vanderbilt University, and other colleges in Nashville this week.

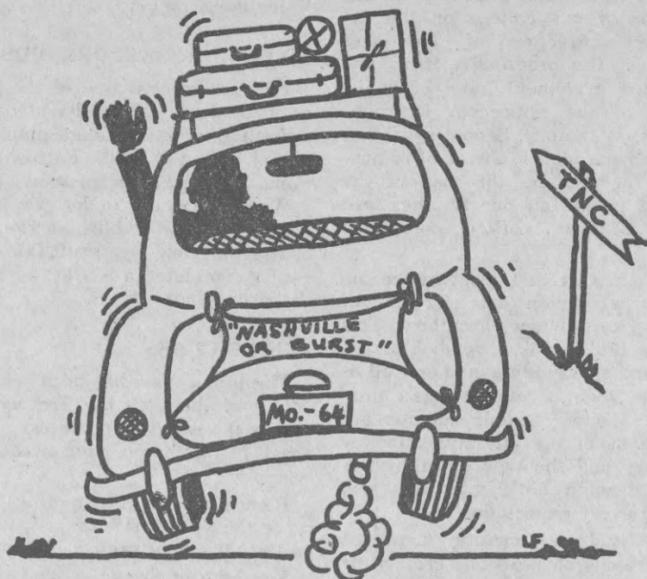

The purpose of the visit is to interpret a record number of opportunities for Peace Corps service, as well as to supply general information to students and faculty.

Peace Corps Information Centers have been set up at a central site on each of the two larger campuses. The two centers are manned by Peace Corps staff members from 8 a.m. until 10 p.m. on February 3-5 at Tennessee A&I, and on February 5-7 at Vanderbilt.

The Peace Corps team is administering the noncompetitive Placement Test on each campus several times daily during the visit. Peace Corps Questionnaires were to be completed before taking the test and presented to the representative at the time of the exam.

During the week, a member of the Peace Corps, Rod Miller—a returned volunteer from Thailand—paid one-day visits to some of the smaller colleges in Nashville: David Lipscomb College on February 3; Trevecca Nazarene College and Scarritt College for Christian Workers on February 4; George Peabody College on February 5; Free Will Baptist College on February 6; and Belmont College on February 7. Fisk University was visited by a team member on February 6.

While this special information effort is primarily for college upperclassmen and graduate students, it is also aimed to provide general information to all interested persons in the community. The Peace Corps plans to train approximately 6,000 volunteers this summer to serve in Africa, Asia, and Latin America.

Allen, Martin Speak

"Implications of Psychology for Religion" was the title of the paper presented by Professor E. Drell Allen in the Student-Faculty Seminar on January 14. The aspects of human behavior having a religious or sacred character was the starting point for this information-packed presentation. Comparing sin to a sickness, it was pointed out, is a way for some to call religious experience or conversion a type of neurosis. Farther in the discussion it was stated that religious experience has been defined as the response by the whole personality. Throughout the seminar neurotic-like distortions of religious experience were discussed and analyzed. Climaxing the paper was this emphasis—"Cleansed of any such neurotic distortions, religious experience releases the personality for a full, unimpeded stride toward the complete realization of the whole person."

On January 28 a paper was presented by Dr. Ted Martin entitled "Something's Happening in Ninevah." It was a discussion on Catholicism and was partly taken from a book entitled Pope, Council and World by Kaiser. The city of Rome was compared to Ninevah—the Protestant Church and Jonah also being compared.

The Roman Catholic Church has been to Protestants much like Ninevah was to Jonah, Dr. Martin described. Several specific examples of this statement were described for those present to analyze. Also like

European Jobs Made Available

More job opportunities in Europe this summer . . . Work this summer in the forests of Germany, on construction in Austria, on farms in Germany, Sweden and Denmark, on road construction in Norway.

Well there are these jobs available as well as jobs in Ireland, Switzerland, England, France, Italy, and Holland are open by the consent of the governments of these countries to American university students coming to Europe the next summer.

This year, the program has been expanded to include many more students and jobs. Already, many students have made application for next summer jobs. American-European Student Service (on a non-profitable basis) is offering these jobs to student for Germany, Scandinavia, England, Austria, Switzerland, France, Italy, and Spain. The jobs consist of forestry work, child care work (females only), farm work, hotel work (limited number available), construction work, and some other more qualified jobs requiring more specialized training.

The purpose of this program is to afford the student an opportunity to get into real living contact with the people and customs of Europe. In this way, a concrete effort can be made to learn something of the culture of Europe. In return for his or her work, the student will receive his or her room and board, plus a wage. However, students should keep in mind that they will be working on the European economy and wages will naturally be scaled accordingly. The working conditions (hours, safety, regulations, legal protection, work permits) will be strictly controlled by the labor ministries of the countries involved.

In most cases, the employers have requested especially for American students. Hence, they are particularly interested in the student and want to make the work as interesting as possible.

They are all informed of the intent of the program, and will help the student all they can in deriving the most from his trip to Europe.

Please write for further information and application forms to: American-European Student Service, Via Santorre Santaosa 23, Florence, Italy.

Avoid Erroneous Views

Often erroneous statements are made in reference to the importance of Bible study in college. Are Bible courses crip courses or needed only for those who plan to enter special fields of religious importance? Are they related to other subjects? Here are the facts.

The primary usefulness of Bible study in regard to curriculum is that of co-ordination. No other subject is related to so many fields as it is. In science it explains the origin of our earth and of the various things in it. Many laws, illustrations and examples give us a guide to life that can solve many of life's perplexities which often confuse us. Christ has often been called "The Great Psychologist," and the Bible often shows the way to deal with others. There is a philosophy taught therein which is logical and also a definite, dynamic reality when applied. Of course, the Bible was originally written in Hebrew and Greek, and by studying old manuscripts to gain insight, the realm of foreign language is entered. History is dealt with from the beginning of time. Many governments are described along with their society and their fate related. The complete book is recognized as a masterful collection of various forms of magnificent literature.

The field of Biblical study covers all, explains all, is all. Should not a study such as this be advocated for all? Certainly! Positively! Definitely!

Utilize Your Privilege

Ever seeking to establish rapport and find better methods of communication between the student body and its leaders, the Student Council installed a suggestion box in the basement of the Administration building.

There was general enthusiasm over this little box. Many of our ardent reformers stated that this was the opportunity they needed. It seemed as though Trevecca was destined for bold innovations.

With this in mind, the suggestion box is opened weekly to find . . . chewing gum wrappers, pencils, scrap paper and other unique communiques from the student body to the Student Council. The council, thus far, has been unable to decipher the hidden meanings contained in these articles.

Seriously, we could see more of our ambitions and wishes for Trevecca realized if we would take advantage of this box which signifies democratic freedom. If not fully realized, at least considered. Think about it.

The next time you are in the T-room verbalizing about a personal gripe, constructively criticizing or outlining an idea you would like to see materialize for Trevecca, jot down that idea and, after you have had your coffee, stop by the Ad Building and drop that suggestion in the box.

Absenteeism Is Harmful

This is the time of year when each teacher stresses the importance of being in each class every day. Missing one or two days can put a student back days which he cannot afford. In the school handbook it is pointed out that pupils who miss school regularly cannot make the best grades. A look around at the most outstanding students proves this is true.

The reasons students miss classes are many and insignificant. Although the most usual excuse is the common cold; the true reason is generally a dislike for school or certain classes or fatigue from having too many activities other than school work.

To solve this problem, the school authorities find it difficult to do anything. This is a matter of conscience.

No Parking

Have you ever been guilty of complaining about the parking rules at Trevecca? Maybe a fine has ignited your disgruntled spirit. We all are prone to wonder, "Why can't I park in front of McClurkan just for one period?"

If this be your case, why not stop and think the matter through?

The freedom of parking anywhere gives an unsystematic appearance. This freedom is also hazardous for the students. Moving in and out between parked cars could prove to be detrimental. This freedom creates a problem for visitors to find a parking place.

These and others are good reasons for our traffic and parking rules. Anyone who will stop and think will have to agree that the rules are for our own good.

NEWS IN REVIEW

WASHINGTON

According to reports from Washington, D.C., a 5-cent stamp in memory of the late President John F. Kennedy will be issued on his 47th birthday anniversary, May 29.

The President's widow chose the date and will choose the design for the stamp also.

Memorial stamps have been issued for every President who has died in office since the assassination of Abraham Lincoln.

GOLDWATER

Senator Barry Goldwater's attack on the country's intercontinental ballistic missiles has brought about some repercussions from both sides of the political fence. Former President Eisenhower is among top ranking GOP leaders that do not share the Senator's views concerning this issue.

Mr. Goldwater, a pilot and an Air Force reserve major general, maintains that the bomber planes are not losing their usefulness and refuses to accept the truth that the manned bomber is rapidly becoming obsolete.

Secretary Robert McNamara, a fellow Republican, says that he

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

From the Editor:

Is something bothering you? Do you have an opinion or idea that you feel should be brought to light? Then why not write a letter to the Editor.

We, the Staff, welcome any such opinions. We do, however, reserve the right to edit any letter, but the idea will not be altered.

This is your opportunity. Don't neglect it!

Dear Editor,

Many favorable comments and compliments have been given by friends of our college on the increased attraction of Trevecca's campus. The progressive trend and forward movement have been the basis of the noticeable improvements on campus. School spirit has never been higher. The goal of putting Trevecca on the map of the young people on our Southeastern Zone is being realized more each year.

The newest and most noticeable added attraction on campus, of course, is the new dormitory. This lovely building is a symbol to the city and surrounding area as well as to our zone of our college's progress. Visitors to our campus are conscious of the attractive Mackey Library and the new dormitory. A tour through both structures will verify every expectation.

As students, faculty members, and friends of Trevecca, each of us must resolve to add to our college's prestige in the opinions of others at all times.

Joyce Bain

Dear Editor,

Recently Trevecca was the scene of a wonderful outpouring of the Holy Spirit. The spirit of revival swept the campus as the student body, faculty and visitors responded to the soul searching messages of Prof. Leon Fisher. Issues were faced and decisions made of such import that only in the promise of eternity can we hope to know the full outcome of them.

To each of us now falls the responsibility of conserving the elevation and uplift of that week, and of keeping in touch with that within we call conscience.

To be honest with God and honest with ourselves should not be considered an act we performed last week but an action that we will take for ourselves personally and permanently.

Sara Casdorff

thinks that the Senator's political tactics are still in the horse and buggy stage.

JAKARTA, INDONESIA

Attorney General Robert Kennedy's recent peace mission to Southeast Asia brought about a temporary cease fire and promise of a summit meeting—but no signs of any real and lasting peace.

EAST AFRICA

It appears that trouble is just beginning in East Africa.

Zanzibar gives Communists a base for their latest drive to overthrow weak governments on the mainland, thus spreading disorders across this part of Africa.

Zanzibar has been fittingly "dubbed" the "Cuba" of Africa.

PANAMA

President Chiari is caught between nationalism and the hard facts of economics. Business has hit a new low in Panama and the flow of American money is dwindling. Economic ruin faces Panama without the life-giving flow of American money. It is beginning to dawn on Panama's politicians that they are the real losers in their recent outburst of fury against the U.S.

In the canal itself, ship's traffic has not been interrupted and business is much as usual.

C W A REPORT

By Sara Casdorff

One of the tasks of discipleship is to help bear the burden of sin that betrays mankind. To bear another's burden, it is imperative that you have an intimate relationship with God and develop confidence and ability to cast these burdens back upon Him.

Every Christian worker is called a burden bearer. The workhouses and jails in Nashville are filled with human beings burdened with thoughts of despair, rejection, and an inner knowledge of their lostness and inability to achieve a satisfying, productive life. What a privilege to be an instrument used of God to intercede in daily prayer, in sympathetic understanding, or in a word aptly spoken to help men and women find that Christ has power to break the sin that binds so completely.

Make intercession a positive act in your life and you will find that you have a keener sensitivity to the problems and needs of others.

From Chatty's Nutshell

Hi,
Well, I'm back again with more information to pass on to you. My able assistants and I have had our ears and eyes open, just waiting to find out things. My helper, Herman, couldn't quite figure out why one of Connie's green shoes was traveling all over town. Also, Herman would like to know if Nancy Carter's train trip to Ashland was as interesting as the one to Chattanooga.

I suppose you're wondering how a squirrel finds out about things like this, but I have people friends that let me know about anything that I miss. Trevecca is a good place to have friends like this, because you know how well nuts and squirrels go together.

Like I said I miss some things, and I guess it's because I am so short. But I did see Carl Howard sitting on the wrong row in chapel. That's okay though, since he's sort of a nut, too.

I sure will be glad when the new dorm is finished, because I'm moving into a new tree close to it. I can't move yet, because I am afraid the workmen will splatter paint on me. And can't you imagine a squirrel brushing dried paint out of that bushy tail! The kitchen in the student center surely makes me happy—I'm hoping that maybe some of the girls will throw me some of the "left-overs" (unless Jim Hendershot gets there first.)

Speaking of Jims, Black Knight, why don't you take drastic steps like speaking in chapel or something, and tell those people to start coming to the ball games again?

Have you ever wondered how to strike up a conversation with certain people? Asking a person questions about himself is a good way, and once you do that you'll have no more trouble. Here are some questions you could use to get to talk to a few TNC students. You could ask Janet Vernon where she got her pink sweater; or you could ask Everett Hanner how to fall over the foul line on a basketball court; or you could ask Joyce Bain to explain about the orphanage. Also, you could ask Ann Hawkins about dumping a trayload of cups and saucers in the floor, and you could ask Jan Forman about Myrtle and what she wore.

Well, Herman, Herschel, and I are going to visit our cousins at Vanderbilt, so I guess I'll stop writing. I've enjoyed all of it, but I'll say so long until next time.

Nuttily yours, Chatty

Dorm Progresses

TNC students and administrators are now looking to March 1 as the completion date for the new women's dormitory. According to the contract, the building was to have been finished by January 16.

According to Dr. Wise, Mrs. Orndoff, currently the head resident of McKay Hall, has accepted that position in the new dorm, which remains without a name. Miss Peery will stay in Hardy Hall, and a new head resident will be hired for McKay Hall.

Next year one of the dorms may be used as a men's hall. However this will depend on the enrollment of the 1964-65 school year.

Seminars

Jonah, Protestants have been strong in their attack when there has been opportunity. But the primary emphasis in the mind of Protestants today should be that God's purpose is to save men, not institutions.

Because of the limited time in the first session of this seminar, Dr. Martin returned on Thursday, January 30, and conducted discussion and answered questions concerning his topic of presentation.

Appleby, Wise

Other young people named are:

ENC—David E. Fish, Avon Lake, O., and Fletcher T. Link, Skowhegan, Me.

Olivet — James Monock, Grand Rapids, Mich., and Lynn Smith, Akron, O.

Northwest—Galen Olsen, Eugene, Ore., and Mark Rudeen, Nampa, Idaho.

Bethany — Charles Hones, Hayward, Okla., and Richard Bond, Ingalls, Kan.

Pasadena — John Smea, San Luis Obispo, Calif., and Steve Gilbertson, Seattle, Wash.

Canadian—Robert E. Boden, Newmarket, Ontario, Canada.

Seminary — William D. Porter, East Liverpool, O.

From Trevecca, Appleby is a religion major from East St. Louis, Illinois, and currently serving as Student Body President. Wise, also a religion major, is from Bellaire, Ohio. He is a transfer student from the Kentucky Mountain Bible Institute.

These two students, along with two others, were selected by the Administrative Committee of Trevecca. Their applications were then sent to the General Board in Kansas City, where the final decision was made.

Shoe Styles

By JOYCE BAIN

Many new fashions have walked on to the stage of shoe styles for this year. Some have received their exit cues, and yet others have maintained their leading roles.

Auditioning for a main position on the dress shoe scene have been patent heels in a variety of colors. A special favorite is found in the various pastel shades with a purse of corresponding leather and color. These can be successfully and effectively blended in with many hues or matched with identical colors. This newcomer is rising fast and is due for a long term of popularity.

Calling for many repeated encores on the campus scene has been the loafer. This style is very attractive, creating the collegiate, well-dressed look.

Those dangerous pointed shoes have slowly but surely reached backstage. Taking their place has been the stacked heel with square or slightly tapered toe. Many cramped toes, bunions, callouses, and corns are crying out with relief for this trend.

Leathers, too, have undergone changes. Lizard and alligator skins have made a comeback. Nothing will ever replace the genuine leathers tanned from the skins of animals.

To accompany the shoes, handbags are somewhat larger for certain occasions, but the small, compact purse is still a favorite. There are some unique new styles that should do very well. These handbags also come in a variety of colors and leathers to match the new trends in shoes.

In selecting your own shoes, it is to be remembered that the welfare of your feet is the most important factor. With the many styles now available one can have comfort for the feet and still march in the fashion parade.

Missionary Conference

ference will be the Zone-wide Rally, to be held Friday night, Feb. 21, in the McClurkan Auditorium. Special music by the Trevecca singing groups, challenging messages by our missionaries, plus the blessing of the Lord: these should make the Friday night Rally a service to remember. This is the second such conference sponsored by the Trevecca Missionary Fellowship, in co-operation with the Department of Foreign Missions, and we trust that you will be praying with us that God will use these services to stir our hearts for world evangelism.

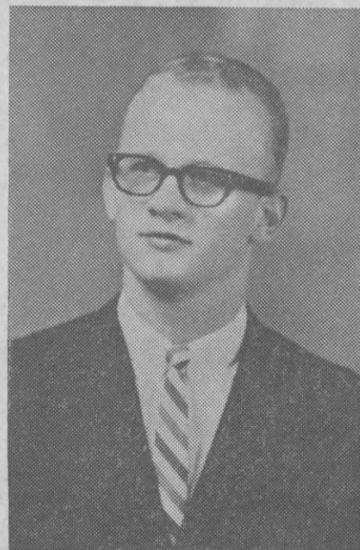

We have already met Dr. Coulter and two of our missionaries in past issues of the paper, so we would like to introduce to you our third guest for the Conference, Miss Irene Jester.

Miss Irene Jester, veteran Nazarene teacher and missionary to Swaziland, South Africa, is on her third furlough home, and while engaged in deputation work among the churches, she said: "As much as possible I hope to tell about the work of the Gospel in the lives of the people."

A 1932 graduate of Taylor University, Upland, Indiana, with a Bachelor of Arts degree, Miss Jester was first assigned to Swaziland in 1938. For the last four years, she has been in charge of the Nazarene Church in Manzini, district treasurer, and editor, and supervisor of a boys' hotel.

We promised you a picture of Willie T. for this issue, didn't we? You remember Willie T. represents the typical Nazarene college student, willing to pray, give, yield, consecrate all. Well, we sent our photographer to Kansas City to get a picture, and he was a couple of minutes late. Willie had just finished packing his trusty VW and was pulling out of the Headquarters parking lot. Being a very busy man, Willie stops

Trev-Echoes Senior Personality

MYRON WISE

Although the Senior Personality of the issue will usually be a student who has been at Trevecca for the entire four years, in this issue we feature a transfer student, Myron Wise.

Myron Wise of Bellaire, Ohio, is a transfer student from Kentucky Mountain Bible Institute. He is a religion major and an educational psychology and music minor. He plans to attend a graduate school before entering full-time Christian service.

Myron has been active in C.W.A., A Cappella Choir, Rambler's Club, and the all-school plays. He traveled with the Ambassadors Quartet during his Sophomore year and last year traveled as soloist with Girl's Chorus.

This summer, Myron will be a member of the Latin American Crusade Team, as one of the representatives of Trevecca College.

Cupid On the March

By CAROLYN KENT

"Perfect target—he looks lonely." "Yes, Cupid, he sure does. Here, quick; get him while he suspects nothing."

"Swish, swish." "There, right in the heart. Give me another one before she gets away."

"Swish." "Oh—Great!"

"Cupid, come over here. There is another lonely one."

And off goes Cupid with his bow and an armful of arrows. He is on his way to get another couple together. This little fellow, along with several other traditions, make up one of the grandest days of the year; that of St. Valentine's Day.

It all started long ago when people began to celebrate Saint Valentine's day of feasting. Through the years the meaning of February 14 has changed, but because of its lovely customs, it is one of the most highly celebrated days on the calendar. From the paper valentines in grammar school, to the red roses from a fiancé or husband, to the lacy card for a grandmother, this day is to honor the one (or ones) you love.

Now it is not known for sure, but one could suppose that Cupid has been having target practice on some of the fellows here at Trevecca, for every day or two they have a case on someone new. You must admit that Cupid is very talented because, why, just look at all of the couples he has gotten together. If you are not one of them, stop worrying. He still has plenty of arrows left, and besides, girls, it is legal for you to shoot your arrows now. This is Leap Year. And fellows, if you are not exactly happy with Cupid you can also stop worrying. He will get things all fixed up, because you know how all you men stick together.

Around this time of year, big beautiful boxes of calories (alias candy) are put on display in many stores. There are red ones, pink ones, white ones, all colors, shapes, and sizes. Each and every man will be selecting just the right one for his beloved. The girls are thrilled to receive this token of affection, for it is a compliment in two ways. The first, of course, is that he thinks a lot of you, and the second is that he approves of your eating candy. (Most of us had better be glad that we did not receive a carton of diet colas).

Also another gift that is very popular for Valentine's Day is the gift of flowers. This custom (whether it be cut flowers or a corsage), shows the lady that she is valued highly. Another delightful tradition is the giving of Valentine cards. There are all kinds of cards—pretty fancy ones, sweet ones, funny ones, simple ones; cards for all types of people expressing the love that is sent.

Yes, the customs of Saint Valentine's Day are fun and lovely, and we all enjoy celebrating this day.

Whoops! Get ready, here comes your arrow!

OUTSTANDING PLAYERS

Jim Hendershot, Delta center, and Jim Knight of the Beta society have been chosen as outstanding basketball players for this issue of Trev-Echoes.

JIM HENDERSHOT

The tallest member of the Delta team at 6'4", Hendershot has supplied the height the Deltas needed to become a contesting team.

Although he is only a Freshman, Hendershot has become one of the key men in the Delta attack. Jim leads the Deltas in total points scored, field goals, scoring average, and rebounds.

Setting a blistering pace in scoring, Jim has hit for more than 20 pts. in his last five games. This scoring spree was highlighted by a record 44 pt. performance against the Alphas. His per game average of 22.7 pts. places Jim second among the league's top scorers.

Topping all these honors off is the fact that Jim is a real team player, the kind of player that would sit out the entire game if he thought it would help his team win.

JIM KNIGHT

Knight is considered the "complete" basketball player, excelling in every phase of the game. Looking at the statistics, one would assume that Jim was chosen because of his 17.5 scoring average which places him fifth among the league's top scorers. Scoring, however, is only a small fragment of Knight's value to his team. Jim is the team leader, the steadying force, the playmaker, the defensive ace, and many other things intangible, yet apparent on the basketball court.

Jim is tall for a guard at 6'2", yet he rarely loses the ball. He teams with Lloyd Manning to form the most dangerous fast break combination in the league. Defensively, Knight plays the floating guard position in the Beta's "one-two-two" defense.

Girls In Action

The 1964 season of women's basketball opened Friday night, January 3, at the First Church of the Nazarene gymnasium.

Alpha 33—Beta 6

The 1963 Champion Alphas defeated a spirited Beta team 33-6. Phyllis Huston was the offensive star of the game, scoring 20 of her team's point total. Nancy Swafford got 6, Bev Moore and Jean Cranshaw added 4 and 3 points respectively for the victory. Fredia Weaver and Janet Vernon led the Beta scoring to no avail.

Alpha 23—Delta 8

Playing their usual steady game, the Alphas, undefeated in the women's league, overcame a slow first half and defeated the Deltas 23-8. Neva Hudson warmed the basket with 8 points for the Deltas, but with three shooting forwards the Alphas are hard to beat... impossible so far. Jean Cranshaw led the 23-8 victory with 10 points.

Beta 29—Delta 19

Ruth Downing and Janet Vernon led the Betas to a 29-19 victory with 14 and 11 points respectively. Judy Drake led Delta scorers with 10 points followed by Neva Hudson to 2.

Alpha 32—Beta 12

The second place Beta team received a 32-12 upset from the league leading Alphas. Fredia Weaver and Janet Vernon, assisted by Ruth Downing and Connie Gordon, paced the Beta scoring. All of the forwards entered the Alpha scoring column to give their team its third win in as many games.

Alpha 36—Delta 10

Phyllis Huston was the offensive star in the Alphas 36-10 win over the Deltas, scoring 24 of her team's total points. Bev Moore and Nancy Swafford added 4 and 3. The ball stealing Alpha guards held Neva Hudson to 8 points and Judy Drake to 2.

Much enthusiasm has been shown about tennis in these warm winter days. This sport, which offers both individual and team competition, has been lacking at TNC. At the beginning of the fall quarter, I made known my hopes to have tennis matches. Plans for the spring quarter do include several contests. Besides tennis and the usual softball, the TAA Council has decided to promote inter-society track meets and a field day. Sports enthusiasts will be kept plenty busy.

I rejoice with you that the Executive Board of Trevecca College voted to start construction of a physical education building when $100,000 is raised. That seems like a lot, but with a big push from the Alumni Association, the goal could possibly be met by September 1, 1964!!

A building of this sort would provide not only a gymnasium, but also several lecture rooms, exercise rooms, lockers, offices, and probably a swimming pool. Such facilities are much needed on campus. (Due to our present off campus facilities, I personally spent five hours one day dealing with a basketball game.)

Attend the basketball game tonight at First Church gym. The unbeaten Betas (9-0) met the Alphas (1-7). In the women's game at seven o'clock the Betas (1-2) play the Deltas (0-2). Next week will be the last Friday night game of the year. Make plans to include these attractions in your schedule.

Red Sebring has been doing an excellent job of refereeing the games this year. Twice a week he travels from Smyrna to help us out. Red, a 1963 graduate of TNC, is pastor of the Free Methodist church there.

All-Star elections will be held February 24.
