Vol. XXIV. No. 1

TREVECCA NAZARENE COLLEGE, NASHVILLE, TENNESSEE

October 9, 1959

Dr. Wells Is Revival Speaker

The date for the fall revival at Trevecca this year was September 27 to October 4. It brought to us Dr. L. T. Wells of Lexington, Kentucky, as the special speaker. He spoke each night at the College Hill Church of the Nazarene and each day in the chapel service.

For twenty-eight years Dr. Wells presided as district superintendent over the original Kentucky-West Virginia District. He was pastor of various churches for sixteen years before becoming district superintendent.

Dr. Wells rendered fine service as chairman of the Board of Trustees here at Trevecca for thirteen years. He received his college training from Olivet Nazarene College, and was presented with an honorary doctor's degree from our own Trevecca. For the past four years he has successfully served in the field of evangelism, and makes his home in Lexington, Kentucky.

Hearts were turned to expectations of a genuine revival at the start of a new school year. Prayers were faithfully going up all over campus for a renewal of covenants with God and the refreshing of souls. Preparatory messages were being heard in the chapel services, and students were searching their hearts. Several upper-classmen have noticed the spiritual mindedness of the new students paving the way for a real floodtide of blessing. The prevailing prayer on campus is that of the Psalmist, "Wilt thou not revive us again that thy people may rejoice in Thee?"

There is thrill in easy sailing, when the sky is clear and blue; there is no joy in merely doing things which anyone can do, but there is some satisfaction that is mighty sweet to take when you reach the destination that you thought you couldn't make.

Pastors Workshop Offers Credit

The summer of 1959 is one many preachers will never forget. It was this summer that Trevecca re-instated one of its old customs. This was the renewal of the "Preacher's Workshop," in which pastors could attend Trevecca and learn ways to improve their ministry and church leadership. At the same time they were learning, they were earning college credits, either one or two credit hours.

There was a very good response to this revived effort to help our ministers, unable to attend college regularly, to share the knowledge of some of our greatest preachers. Twenty-seven ministers were in attendance representing nine different states.

The classes were homiletics and pastoral theology. These were taught by Dr. Lawrence B. Hicks and Dr. William Greathouse. Classes were held from eight in the morning until four in the afternoon. Rev. Leon Chambers was director of the workshop.

A time of spiritual blessing and refreshing was experienced. This was evident by the groups staying in the dorm. Singing, praying, praising and testifying were common-place. All was not work, however. Thursday afternoon the school gave a watermelon cutting for all students.

This was not the termination, but the re-instating of a wonderful thing for all preachers. Soon there is to be a meeting to discuss next year's workshop which will possibly include classes for the laymen as well as the pastors.

If you can't do what you like, suppose you try liking what you do and see what happens.

Educational Conference Is October 12-15

The Seventh Educational Conference of Nazarene Colleges will be held at Trevecca on October 12-15. The conference meets every other year and has met at all the other Nazarene colleges in the United States. There will be representatives from each of the Nazarene colleges and the General Board present. This will include presidents, academic deans, business managers, field representatives and deans of students. There will be fifty-eight present.

The purpose of these conferences is to discuss problems particular to the various institutions, trying to devise ways and means of standardizing the policies and procedures of administration and operation of the colleges so that they will be more alike than different.

The activities of the three days will be varied. On Monday there will be a dinner meeting in the cafeteria. Dr. Hugh C. Benner will be the speaker. On Tuesday the business sessions begin for the administrators while the faculty women provide activities and entertainment for the visiting wives. Dinner will be served at the President's new home following open house. On Wednesday they will be in the eleven o'clock chapel service. A picnic lunch will be served at the cabin by the spring at the Hermitage. Afterward, Dr. Crabb, specialist on the history of the Hermitage, will lecture to the group and conduct a tour of the grounds. Later in the afternoon the group will visit the education centers in Nashville and have a vesper service in The Upper Room. Dinner will be served at Holiday Inn, sponsored by the Department of Education of the church. The meeting

College Sets Record Enrollment

Trevecca welcomes the largest Freshman Class in its history. Two hundred and thirty are registered in this class. Other classes are about the same size as last year, making a total record enrollment of 562. An increase of 22 per cent over last year in the college department brings its enrollment to 458.

"The applications for admission came early and in great quantity this year," said Professor K. W. Phillips, dean of admissions. "This trend is in keeping with population growth and greater support from Nazarenes on the Southeastern Educational Zone."

This summer T.N.C. had a record-breaking enrollment of 140 students. There were 131 students enrolled the first session and ninety-six the second session. Last year the total was 116. This summer the students studied and listened to lectures in the cool comfort of newly air-conditioned classrooms.

In addition to studying, our summer scholars were provided with recreation of all sorts, including volleyball and softball.

On June 20, there was an ice cream freeze behind McKay Hall, with peach and vanilla ice cream and cookies being served. Both students and faculty played games.

On the morning of July 4, Dr. and Mrs. Adams opened their house and grounds to the students and faculty. Some played ping pong, badminton, or croquet, and some went boat-riding. The menu was composed of barbecued beef, baked will adjourn at 11:00 a.m., Thursday.

Rev. T. E. Jones Is New College Hill Pastor

Rev. T. E. Jones, former pastor of the Church of the Nazarene in Mayfield, Kentucky, has accepted the pastorate of the College Hill Church of the Nazarene.

Before entering the ministry, Rev. Jones was an electrical engineer, having attended the University of Kentucky and Vanderbilt University.

Rev. Jones received his A.B. degree with the 1949 graduating class of Trevecca.

A hearty welcome is extended to our new pastor, to Mrs. Jones, a native of Kentucky, to Patsy, a T.N.C. senior, and to the very newest member of the family, Ronald Keith.

Arithmetic is good when we multiply good, subtract hate, divide between truth and error and then add a little forgiveness for the faults of our friends.

Record Freshman Class Registers September 14

September 14 marked registration for 230 freshmen, setting an all-time record. Every state in the Southeastern Educational Zone plus

South Africa and India are represented. This group brings total enrollment to 562.

Darda Staff Has Early Start

This year the cameras were clicking early and fast. The pictures for the Darda were planned early in the quarter so the full beauty of the campus could be portrayed. The pictures of the departmental and district clubs have already been taken. We were all glad for the excellent planning of the Darda staff in getting this done so efficiently.

This year the Darda will go to the General Assembly; so we all want it to be the best possible.

New Arrivals on Campus

The smallest residents this year on Trevecca's campus did not arrive with bag and baggage. In fact, you probably haven't even seen them, because they are well hidden. In a tree just east of the fish pond is the home of four baby squirrels.

Their nest, made of tightly woven twigs and leaves, may be found midway up and inside the trunk of the tree. If you should happen to catch a glimpse of them, you will not find fuzzy balls of fur but awkward resemblances to their parents. Please don't frighten them by climbing the tree to get a better look at them.

The Science Club is planning on furnishing our squirrels with a supply of nuts so that they will be well fed through the coming winter months.

President's New Home Heads Improvements

Perhaps since your return to Trevecca you have noticed the results of those who faithfully labored here while you were away for summer vacation.

The completion of the President's new home is the most outstanding accomplishment of the summer. It greatly adds to the attractiveness of the campus. Located where the oasis previously was, it is the center of attention as we enter the private drive. A combination of brick and stone, it is beautifully arranged with large picture windows and carport.

If you have visited the T-room you have noticed the new booths that have been placed there. The cushion seats make our time spent there more enjoyable and the shiny table tops add color and variety to the snack shop.

Rev. G. L. Pennington Joins Staff

Rev. George Lewis Pennington has joined the faculty of Trevecca Nazarene College in the Department of Education. He began his teaching in September. He teaches practical psychology, physical education, public school administration, social psychology, and western civilization.

Having joined the Church of the Nazarene in 1930, Mr. Pennington has served as pastor of churches in Tennessee, Alabama, Georgia, and Mississippi.

A native of Atlanta, Georgia, Mr. Pennington received the Th.B. degree from Trevecca Nazarene College and also the A.B. degree in history from Trevecca. He has done graduate work at George Peabody College, University of Georgia, University of Mississippi and is completing work for the Ed. D. at present. The Doctor of Education will be conferred at the next graduation at the University of Mississippi.

Mr. Pennington has held teaching positions at Marshallville Elementary School, Marshallville, Georgia; principal, Stilesboro Elementary School, Stillsboro, Georgia; teacher, Campbell High School, Smyrna, Georgia; teacher, Monroe High School, Monroe, Georgia; principal, East Berrien Elementary School, Nashville, Georgia; Senior Graduate Assistant, University of Mississippi.

Another new building, not yet completed, is being constructed for the purpose of endowment. It is also located on the private drive directly across from the building that is now leased to Scott Bolt and Screw Company.

The painting of the dorms was another project of the school during the summer. The rooms were greatly improved by this project. Hardy Hall got a "new look" on the exterior as well as the interior.

Pretty little flowers wave in the breeze as you pass in front of Hardy Hall. They were planted along the walk and have been admired by all of us since our arrival at Trevecca.

Bird baths placed at various places help to beautify the area in front of the Administration Building.

Without a humble imitation of the divine Author of our religion, we can never hope to be a happy nation.

Nashville Symphony Opens Season

The Nashville Symphony will open its 14th season under the direction of Willis Page, formerly associate conductor of the Buffalo Philharmonic. Mr. Page has been guest conductor of the Toronto Symphony, the Rochester Civic and the Boston Pops Orchestra. Critics have named him one of the best of the younger conductors, and he has won high honors for his recordings, both stereo and high fidelity.

Isaac Stern, only American artist among the world's top flight violinists, will be the symphony's guest at the opening pair of concerts October 26 and 27. Probably the most traveled of American artists, Stern was the first American artist in nearly a decade to appear in Russia, where he played to jammed concert halls.

After performing two successful concert-version operas, "Carmen" and "Tosca," the Nashville Symphony announces a third to climax the coming season, Offenbach's haunting, melodic "Tales of Hoffman" with three outstanding guest artists in the lead roles. Martial Singher, of Metropolitan Opera reknown, performs as he did at the "Met" all four baritone roles personifying the forces of evil. Irene Jordan, a young singer from Alabama who has made good at the Metropolitan as well as with opera companies in this country and abroad, will play the feminine leads. Robert Rounseville, who sang the lead in the technicolor film of the opera, has won acclaim as a tenor of note as well as for his acting ability.

New to Nashville will be Aldo Parisot, seven-time performer with the Pittsburgh Symphony, five times with the New York Philharmonic. One of the most gifted of today's cellists, he will be the guest artist at the March concerts.

Jennie Tourel, who breaks attendance records and exhausts the critics' stock of adjectives wherever she appears, will sing a group of favorite operatic arias at the second concert-pair of the season, November 30-December 1. The daughter of Russian parents, she grew up in France and Switzerland and calls America her adopted country. She has sung with virtually every major conductor in the world and has been the star of many a musical first, including Leonard Bernstein's "Jeremiah Symphony."

Benno Moiseiwitsch, with his magnificent sweep and artistry in the Rachmaninoff tradition, returns to this country for a six weeks' tour of concert engagements. The Symphony brings him to Nashville in February for the performance of Rachmaninoff's Second Piano Concerto.

Admission to the series of six concerts, the Monday Series or the Tuesday Series, which are identical, is by season ticket. Student tickets at a special rate of $4.00 for the season will be on sale in the Fine Arts Office.

Roommate: Why, you wouldn't want your new suit to get wet, would you?

Rev. C. L. Childers Receives Doctorate

The face is not a new one; his name has not been changed, but he is no longer called Prof or Professor. He is now called Dr. Charles L. Childers.

He was born in Nashville, Tennessee, but spent most of his early life in and around Louisville, Kentucky. Dr. Childers started early in life to follow the Lord. At nineteen years of age he was pastor at Pineville, Kentucky. He was ordained in the Church of the Nazarene at twenty-two, being the second youngest man to be ordained on the Kentucky District.

Dr. Childers started his higher education while serving as pastor at Columbia, Kentucky, where he attended Lindsey Wilson College, graduating in 1942. He thought his education was finished, with only two years completed, because he had accepted a pastorate at Brownsville, Texas. Much to his pleasant surprise, he found the parsonage was just four blocks from Howard Payne College. This enabled him to complete his last two years and graduate with a double major, history and English, with a minor in Bible, graduating in 1944.

Seminary was Dr. Childers' next educational institution. He terminated his pastorate to attend Asbury Theological Seminary. He graduated from there in 1946.

Feeling God calling him to teach he enrolled in the University of Louisville in Kentucky, working toward his master's degree. Having a conflict within about leaving his preaching to teach, he went slowly in his work. When he received the assurance that it was God's will he rapidly finished his remaining studies and graduated in 1954.

Accepting Trevecca's second invitation to teach, he left the church in South Louisville that he had organized and helped to grow, and came to Trevecca to teach. Teaching here afforded him the opportunity to attend Vanderbilt University where he continued his work toward a Ph.D. in history.

After working for a year and a half for a Ph.D. in history he changed to a Ph.D. in English. He was influenced in this decision by Dr. Mackey and other friends who thought this would be more beneficial to the school, the church and himself as well. Since that day he has never regretted it. In May, 1959, he obtained his goal when he graduated from Vanderbilt University with a Ph.D. in English.

C.W.A. Reports

One author has appropriately entitled his book, Each Day Is New. You are standing on the threshold of a new day in your life. The future is bright as you anticipate the coming year of college work in a Christian environment, among Christian friends, and with loved ones back home to boost you. Yes, you have many happy and important days before you.

How much do you appreciate these blessings? Are they a debt that the world owes you, or are they a wonderful heritage to be shared with others? The Christian Workers' Association offers you the opportunity to share these blessings. Every week-end Christian workers administer to hundreds of people whose futures are dark. They have no Christian influence, no friends to whom they can turn in time of trouble, and many times not even a family who cares for them. You are invited to make this the very best year of your life by participating in Christian work and spreading a bit of sunshine in the darkened hearts of those who know not Jesus Christ.

In taking the story of freedom from sin to others, you will not only be fulfilling the request of Christ, but you will find it a glorious privilege to see a person wrecked by sin become a new creature in Christ Jesus. Truly, the fields are white and there is a task for everyone in God's great harvest.

State Park Is Faculty Retreat Scene

Montgomery Bell State Park gave a warm welcome to the faculty who participated in the annual retreat September 8.

In the opening devotional message President Mackey challenged the teachers to make the year unusual "because you link your lives to God." He urged them to allow God to send the power of heaven through them to bless a world.

Each faculty member greeted the session with an account of summer activities.

Among other items of interest was a panel discussion on "The Wider Use of the Library," presented by Mrs. Mackey, librarian, Miss Person, Mrs. Chambers, Dr. Wise, and Professor Redford.

Plans were made for the school year with the faculty desiring God's guidance in every aspect of college life.

Seven years of his education, and four of his wife's were paid by scholarships from the Baptists and the Methodists. Dr. Childers refused a scholarship to the Yale School of Divinity because of their teachings.

Congratulations are in order for Dr. Childers for his outstanding achievement. He is much in demand, being the only teacher, in any of our schools with a Ph.D. degree in English. We can thank God for leading him here. He said he followed God's leadership.

"The Snooper"

This year shall be one of many "noses" for me. Whether your actions are ridiculous, impossible, funny or just ordinary, I'll try my best to find out about them. Now for a few things I have already noticed.

Attention all girls! The '59 Chevy rolling around campus belongs to Ed Stiles. Take it from there.

Be patient, you athletes. Our

T. A. A. program will get under way real soon. It seems that the President has had some romantic problems lately.

Have you noticed the serious look and attitude Wayne Clancy has developed. That's the married look. Her name is Jo Ann in case you had not heard. By the way, he has found a new apartment for them. It has something very unusual. Ask him about it.

Did you know "Gus" Fisher had a nervous condition? This is especially true when riding with someone else.

Have you noticed the bird baths on campus? These were purchased with money that Miss Person raised in chapel during summer school.

Some of our fortunate "greenies" made the choir. They are: John Garber, Eddie LeJeune, Everett Higginbotham, James Varian, Jean Partin, Dale Melton, James Van Hook, Ed Allred, David Gray, Donald Eades, Douglas Askew.

Don't let this out too far, but I saw Miss McClain and a T.N.C. graduate, Lib Stucki, coloring in color books at the Coin-O-Matic. I have often wondered what professors did in their spare time.

Watch your step for my eyes are searching for something to pass on to the curious public.

Passing through: Leave your blood at the Red Cross, not on the highway.

Freshmen Arrive Early

For the second consecutive year, freshmen were asked to come a week early. Professor K. W. Phillips, dean of admissions, says that these extra days make it possible for the freshmen to be administered the necessary entrance examinations, to receive educational counseling, to get acquainted with their fellow students, and the faculty, and to make the adjustments to college life before upperclassmen arrive.

On Wednesday, September 9, the dormitories were open for new students. From every state in the Southeastern Educational Zone students came. Arizona, Pennsylvania, Ohio, Louisiana, Oklahoma, New Jersey, Michigan, Indiana, Illinois, South Africa, and India are also represented in the Freshmen Class. Tours of the campus were conducted by the Student Welcome Committee working under the direction of the Dean of Students, Rev. Leon Chambers.

Thursday and Friday were devoted mostly to tests. Dr. Franklin Wise administered the College Qualification Test, the ACE English Placement and Exemption Test, and the Kuder Preference Record to 180 students. Mrs. M. E. Spruill, director of the Reading Improvement Service, administered the Iowa Silent Reading Test. Dr. Homer J. Adams, dean of the college, was in charge of the Bible Survey Test. The last three tests mentioned are new additions to the college testing program.

Other highlights of the week: the Friday evening Welcome Address by Dr. A. B. Mackey, President of the College, the faculty reception immediately following the welcome address, a Saturday evening picnic supper, and the Saturday evening open-air service.

Monday, September 14, was registration day. The events of Orientation Week ended Tuesday night with a Get-Acquainted Social sponsored by the Junior Class.

Sophomores Cater To Freshmen

No, those little beanies you have seen the freshman wearing are not a new style. This was merely one of the many things the freshmen had to do during Freshman Recognition Week.

On Monday, each freshman had to wear a specific color designated by the month of his birthday. Everyone was given clues to a treasure hunt; the prize being a dinner for two at Greer's Restaurant. Jack Farrish was the winner.

The traditional hike was Tuesday when all sophomores and freshmen were up at 3:30. A lollipop was given each early morning hiker as the journey began. Steaming hot chocolate was a treat awaiting upon return to the campus.

Wednesday the pupils had to carry their books in a pillow case.

Tacky Day was Thursday. The boys wore their clothes backwards and the girls could not comb their hair.

Friday was the time when all freshmen were dressed in their Sunday best.

A talent program was conducted in the Fine Arts auditorium and all freshmen who had disobeyed rules were in the lime-light.

The sophomores gave the freshmen a banquet in the cafeteria on Saturday night to climax the activities of the week. The theme was September Song. Our president, Dr. Mackey, was the speaker of the evening. Martha Sloan, soloist, sang "September Song."

It is good to have money and the things that money can buy, but it is good too to check up once in a while and make sure you haven't lost the things that money can't buy.

Rev. Jerry Costa Is Named High School Principal

Rev. Jerry Costa has been named high school principal of Trevecca. He also teaches Bible, history, math, health, and biology in the high school. Along with these school duties, Mr. Costa is pastor of the Blakemore Church of the Nazarene in Nashville.

Mr. Costa received the A.B. degree from Trevecca in 1954. He attended Vanderbilt University one year. He returned to Trevecca in 1957 as assistant high school principal, having received the M.A. degree from Peabody College.

Freshman Class Reports

We, the Freshman Class, want to give a hearty "Thank you" to the Sophomores for the wonderful Recognition Week. It proved to be a great week even from the 4:00 A. M. hike to the banquet.

Our Freshman Class this year, as a newly organized class, has begun with the election of these officers: Dale Melton, as our President; Billy Jo Wooten, Vice-President; Mary Helen Lane, Secretary; James Varien, Treasurer; Pat Taylor, Reporter; and Janice Hay, Student Council Representative.

With these officers and with the "best and largest" Freshman class ever at Trevecca, we feel that we can easily challenge any class, whether it be Sophomore, Junior, or Senior, to "Class of the Year."

Mrs. Orndoff Has Major Surgery

Mrs. Mabel Orndoff underwent major surgery this past summer in a Kansas City hospital. She returned to the hospital later in the summer for an extended period of time, but is reported to be doing nicely now.

Mrs. Orndoff greatly appreciated the many cards and letters which she received. Most of all, she was thankful for the prayers of her friends that proved to be a special lift to her during this illness.

Mrs. Orndoff was head resident in McKay Hall for seven years. She was a blessing to all who came in contact with her, making a great contribution to the school and to the lives of her many "daughters."

She enjoys very much the cards and letters which she receives from the students. Mail may be sent to 1517 Sherman Street, Springfield, Missouri, or to 6505 Laurel Street, Raytown 33, Missouri.

Rev. Paul Hettrick Speaks In Chapel

Rev. Paul Hettrick, missionary to Africa, delivered two wonderful messages in chapel on September 17 and 18. He emphasized the outpourings of the Holy Spirit upon the African people and the fact that they are on the verge of a great revival.

On Friday, in his continuation, Brother Hettrick gave further indications of an African revival. The Holy Spirit was present, speaking to needy hearts and blessing the Christians. At the close of the service, an invitation was given. Many students, both freshmen and upper classmen, made their way to the altar and prayed that their needs be met.

This service was typical of the outpourings of God's Spirit in Africa.

In like manner, Trevecca seems to be on the verge of a great outpouring of God's spirit in the coming revival.

Rev. Paul Hettrick is originally from East Butler, Pennsylvania. He attended Eastern Nazarene College and was pastoring in Rhode Island when the call to the mission field came. In 1945, he began his work as a missionary.

Leaving their son, Paul, to attend Trevecca, the Hettricks are now returning to Africa from their second furlough. God's blessings and also the prayers of Trevecca go with them.

Missionaries Visit Campus; Nine Are Enrolled

Elements of the unusual existed on the campus during the late summer with the presence of four complete missionary families from four fields of service.

First to arrive was the John Hall family from Cuba. The family will live in Nashville while Mr. Hall does deputation work. Mrs. Hall, John Jr., Patricia, and Darlene are taking classes at Trevecca. If you should ask the Hall children where home is they would quickly reply "Cuba." Two of them were born in Cuba. Janet and Kathy are the youngest children. John Jr., Patricia, and Darlene feel God has called them to the mission field.

Next to arrive was the Reginald Jones family from South Africa. Yvonne will attend Trevecca High till her parents return to Africa. She will accompany them but plans to return to Trevecca for college. Dierdri plans to stay here. She feels the call of the Lord to Africa and plans to teach nursing. The Joneses are British subjects and their English accent is a joy to all who hear it.

The Paul Hettricks, also missionaries to Africa, arrived before school started. Paul, Jr. entered Trevecca and is preparing for the call he feels to Africa. The family sailed back to Africa September 24.

Last to arrive were the John McKays from India. They are also living here in Nashville during their furlough. Betty entered school as a college freshman.

Miss Bruckner Is New Head Resident

One of the newest additions to the personnel of Trevecca College is Miss Thelma Bruckner, head resident of McKay Hall. She has taken the place of Mrs. Mabel Orndoff who resigned the position because of ill health.

Miss Bruckner came to Trevecca in 1956 as a sophomore in college after having spent one year working at the Nazarene Publishing House in Kansas City. She took her first year of college work at Sunflower Junior College in Moorhead, Mississippi. In June of this year she received her bachelor of arts degree from Trevecca with a major in education and psychology. Shortly after her graduation she assumed responsibility as head resident. She is also teaching a personal development class.

Miss Bruckner has proved herself a friend of the students on the campus, in the classroom and as head resident. She has been a Nazarene for fourteen years and attends College Hill Church. She is a Christian lady in the finest sense of the word and gives her testimony thus: "I'm glad that I know Christ as a personal Saviour. He has met the needs of my heart and life. It is a privilege to serve Him."

Procrastination!! How many of us practice it every day! As this school year starts, let us start our lessons, too. Let us not wait until December 15 and have to do all of our outside reading, term papers, and cramming for tests. If we keep up with our daily assignments, we will be very happy on December 15. Let us not "put off" our assignments; let us start today!

Glaphre Spencer, eldest daughter of Herman and Mary Spencer from South Africa was on hand to help greet these visiting missionaries. To her it seemed like a reunion to have the Joneses and Hettricks here.

An opportunity for them all to get acquainted and compare notes of their work was provided by the Richardsons in the form of a buffet supper. Except for Rev. McKay and Rev. Hall who were away on speaking tours the group was complete with nineteen present.

It may never be the privilege of Trevecca to entertain such a group again. It looks like there is a wonderful year of missionary emphasis ahead for the school.

Chatter Box

By Charles Kirby

As the trees begin to turn into their beautiful fall colors, the atmosphere is filled with the spirit of football. Already the season has opened for most teams and others will begin in a few days. Football provides thrills, chills, and spills for those that play and also for those who watch this national pastime.

We had a good season at T.N.C. last year, but this year is pointing toward a better season. If we are to have a successful year much will depend on all students with the enthusiasm and team spirit that they should show. At the close of the softball season last spring the enthusiasm was at its peak. We trust that the first game of the football season this year will start with that same spirit. There will be benches for all to sit on and to enjoy the game Trevecca style. We will be looking for you at the very first game.

We were glad to return to the hilltop of T.N.C. after a wonderful summer and to find such a fine group of new students waiting to pass through the lines of registration to begin their college work. Oh, yes, we were also glad to see all you veterans return for another year. So we say welcome to both rookies and veterans.

Last season the Alphas walked away with the football crown with ease. However, this year they will be without the services of Moody Gunter, who guided them to the championship a year ago. Bob Cook will be trying to fill the huge hole left by Gunter and will do a fine job. Look for the Alphas to be tough again this year.

The Deltas have lost Ed Whittington from last year's runners-up team, but have a host returning plus several freshmen. They are expecting a powerful defensive unit to conquer their foe.

The Betas are tabbed as the sleepers among the three societies. Even though they finished in the cellar last year, look for them to be climbing higher before this season closes. Their big question mark appears to be at the quarter back slot. They will be plenty tough if they find one to fill the gap.

Forty-four Make A Cappella Choir

Auditions for A Cappella Choir were terrific! Over 100 students were auditioned. Approximately 60 of this number were freshmen.

After much deliberation on the part of Professor Ramon Unruh, choir director, the following persons were selected as members of the choir: I Soprano—Lois Conkey, Karen Cox, Sue Hayes, Nancy Rushing, Linda Taylor. II Soprano—Berma DuBose, Betty Helms, Frances Howick, Phyllis Lobb, Mary Beth Richardson, Carolyn Wiley. I Alto—Ann Bohannon, Edith Mingleddorf, Peggy Jo Neal, Bess Pearson, Sylvia Young. II Alto—Helen Burch, Miriam Goodwin, Mary Jean Partin, Linda Pierce, Joyce Shaw. I Tenor—Edward Allred, E. Donald Eads, Dennis Hage, Edwin LeJune, Sammy Phipps, Herman Rouse. II Tenor—David Gray, Paul Jackson, Orval LeJeune, Dale Melton, James Van Hook, Melvin Welch. Baritone—Wayne Clancy, Gene Cook, John Garber, Don Pitzer, Wade Westbrook. Bass—Douglas Askew, Raymond Cowan, Everet Higginbotham, Joe Moses, Wendell Poole, James Varian.

The first public performance of the forty-four member choir will be October 12. They will sing for the Educational Conference meeting on T.N.C.'s campus. Sunday, October 18, they will sing at Smyrna Church of the Nazarene.

We are expecting great things from this group. May God bless them as they represent our school.

making ensembles of this group, quartettes, trios, etc.

Autumn Days

Oh, won't you please come and see,
Our autumn guest is here at last.
The bright green things that used to be,
Are now fading into the past.

As autumn comes to visit us,
Much color and beauty it brings;
And summer fades away, as it must,
And a new fall song we can sing.

As the flowers are passing away;
Wrapped in colors of gold, yellow,
and red,
Comes autumn in, happy and gay,
With a crown of gold and green on her head.

As the leaves fall and fade away,
Do not be sad and despondent, my friend,
Spring shall bring them back some day,
For GOD, to us, these beauties send.

—Sarah Culpepper

Miss Stewart Is New School Nurse

Miss Uldine Stewart, T.N.C.'s new Florence Nightingale, is in much demand these days with so many colds and sore throats going around. According to her, many of the students have already had an opportunity to meet her.

Miss Stewart is originally from Weirton, West Virginia. She received her R.N. degree from Monogalia General Hospital in Morgantown, West Virginia, in August, 1958.

Besides her work she is carrying nine college hours. She plans to major in music which she will use in church work.

We extend a hardy welcome to her and hope that with her assistance we can all stay well and healthy.

Upperclassmen Romp HS & Frosh

With all their zip and power the upperclassmen romped over the high school and freshmen in their annual softball game by the score of 19-3.

Leading the upperclassmen's batting attack was Bob Cook with 3 for 4 and Buddy Gillian with 3 for 5. On the mound Bob Davis and Harold Hughes combined to pitch a 4 hitter.

Leading the high school and freshmen in batting was Jerry Andrews with a homerun.

Music Clubs Organize

The girls have gone all out for singing this year. This is the second year for the Girls' Glee Club and the enrollment is 32. It is larger this quarter than ever before. This group consists of several freshmen plus our upper classmen.

In this group, most of the Southeastern states are represented. Miss Barbara McClain is director and Sylvia Thrasher is the accompanist.

The Men's Chorus is rather small this year. In fact, it is smaller than it has been for years. It may be small, but the director, Professor Unruh, seems to think that it acquires many abilities.

Professor Unruh is thinking of
