TREVECCA WELCOMES LARGEST FRESHMAN CLASS

Students enjoy watermelon cutting on church lawn.

College Hill Church N.Y.P.S. Sponsors Watermelon Social

Treating the congregation to a watermelon social after the first prayer service of the new year has become a tradition for College Hill Church N.Y.P.S.

Recognition Week Honors Freshmen

Freshmen Recognition Week proved to be a success as Sophomores recognized and honored the Freshmen during the week of October 1-7.

Thrill of a lifetime—Freshmen were recognized in Chapel and Sophomores catered to them in the cafeteria.

The early Tuesday morning hike found a herd of sleepy students milling around the Ad Building about 4:30 A. M., waiting to be claimed by their Big Brother or Sister.

Wednesday night's bedtime activity could cause "Ragmop" to become No. 1 favorite in the girls' dorm. All curlers and bobby pins were discarded as girls prepared for "Tacky Day."

Another high spot of the week was the Freshman-Sophomore Banquet whose theme was "The Tree of Knowledge."

On Friday, October 5, Freshmen displayed their talents in a grand finale in the Fine Arts Auditorium at 7:30 P.M.

Under the leadership of Roy Miller, Sophomore president, committees were appointed and instructed as to their jobs concerning Freshmen Recognition Week. He wishes to thank everyone for the cooperation which made possible this week of fun.

Freshmen Tour City

The annual tour of Nashville, the Athens of the South, was taken by the Freshmen on Saturday morning, September 22. The group had fair weather and left the school about 9:15.

The tour was directed by Bill Jernigan, who drove one of the six cars which visited Fort Nashville, the State Capitol, the State Museum, Upper Room, Peabody, Vanderbilt and Scarritt Colleges and the Parthenon. The group returned to the campus after a full morning of sightseeing.

Freshmen Elect Officers; Higginbotham President

The smoke has cleared from the Freshmen Class elections and here are the results and a thumb-nail sketch of the new officers.

Kemp Higginbotham was elected president of the class. Kemp is from Memphis and was graduated from Messick High School there. Proving his ability for the position is a string of former presidencies. He was also a member of the Student Council, Honor Society and the school's A Cappella Choir. Membership in the M.E.N.C. National Choir tokens Kemp's musical ability. He is a member of Memphis First Church of the Nazarene.

Paul Goodby of Louisville, Kentucky was chosen as Vice-President of the class. He is co-captain of the Freshman football team, having had experience at Manual High School. His membership is at Broadway Church of the Nazarene in Louisville.

Secretary of the Freshman Class is Barbara Martin. She is originally from Berea, Kentucky, but now lives here in Nashville. She was valedictorian and voted most studious girl in her senior class at Trevecca High School. She is a member of the Honor Society and the A Cappella Choir.

Nancy Thorpe of Norfolk, Virginia, is treasurer of the class. She was graduated from Trevecca High School last year and traveled with the girls' trio this summer. She, too, is a member of the Honor Society and the A Cappella Choir.

Another Kentuckian to hold a position is Wayne Gibson. He is the Student Council Representative. As a Trevecca grad, he was voted the best all-round boy of his senior class.

Jack Cruse has been elected to hold down the job of reporter. Jack traveled for the school this past summer with the King's Men Quartet. He is a member of the A Cappella Choir and makes his home in Richmond, Kentucky.

Darda Pictures Taken; Copies on Sale Later

The official individual portraits for the 1957 Darda were made in the Student Center October 1-5. Under the direction of Darda Editor Elizabeth Stucki a photographer from Frederick's Studio snapped a number of poses for each individual. Copies will be on sale at a later date.

The man with the camera at all social events and good times is Harley Cash, the staff photographer, in search of casual shots that will make our yearbook live.

Faculty Compliment Mrs. Johnson

Mrs. Sadie Agnew Johnson, former teacher and long-time friend of Trevecca, recently celebrated her 87th birthday. She was presented with a gift of appreciation and greetings from our president and faculty.

Mrs. Johnson is a member of Grace Church of the Nazarene here in Nashville, where she has served as president of the Missionary Societies.

Registration has been completed and Trevecca Nazarene College has enrolled the largest number of college students in its history, with a total in all departments of more than 460.

Gwyndolyn Pearson completes registration for Inez Carter.

Christian Workers Elect Leaders

The Christian Workers' Association laid the foundation of a new year with an inspiring prayer meeting and election of department heads Monday evening, September 24, at 6:30. A great number of Trevecca students were present, representing the true spirit of the Association of Christian zeal and devotion for God.

The newly reorganized departments under new leadership began on September 28 to proclaim the gospel of full salvation to those in the Nashville area.

The busy week-end begins Friday evening when Captains Toby Williams and Zarilla McVay lead a group of workers in a street service on Fourth Avenue, while Eddie Irwin leads at the Charlotte Avenue service. On Saturday evening all the workers band together under the leadership of Captains Don McKenzie and Leona Groves to hold a street service at the Court House Square.

Sunday is a busy day. While Captains Roy Miller and Mozelle Partridge hold services at the City Work House, Donnie Smith and Nancy Sheridan conduct services at the County Institution. On Sunday afternoon the workers go with their captains to the several different places. Lloyd Allison and Bobbie Seymour lead services at the County Jail, James Ralph at the Boys' Reformatory, Paul Hall and Nada Ulm go to the A. G. Rest Home, and Larry Schulz and Erlene Shuttlesworth to the Applegate Rest Home. David Wofford and Kathy Eannottie

N. T. Bible Is Largest Class

The New Testament Bible class under Dr. William Greathouse has the largest enrollment of any single class in Trevecca.

Thus far one hundred and nineteen students have enrolled in this course. Only one class period has been scheduled and Trevecca has no classroom large enough to contain this size group. Until further arrangement is made this class is conducted in the Fine Arts auditorium.

The largest influx of students of course in the Freshman Class, numbering 171. This, too, is a record-breaking figure.

The sustained membership in other classes gives promise of larger graduating classes in the future.

Holiness Is Revival Series Theme

The Fall Revival with Rev. R. Newman Raycroft of Goshen, Indiana, as the evangelist, was concluded Sunday evening, September 28. Rev. Raycroft also spoke in the morning chapel services, the topic being "Holiness, A Bible Doctrine." In this series he spoke of holiness as Bible-founded and made clear what holiness is and what it is not. The conclusion of the series was a message showing the necessity of holiness.

The evangelistic services were centered around the meaning of God's wrath (Romans 1:18). Rev. Raycroft expounded the fact that Christians should fear God as well as serve Him. Many souls found Christ during these services, while those present felt the definite Presence of God in the midst.

In the Wednesday evening service, a highlight in the revival, Rev. Raycroft admonished the Christians to be balanced in their beliefs. Speaking from Romans 1:18, he explained that although most Christians think the wrath of God is for the unsaved only, irreverence by the Christian is frowned upon by the Almighty. To have a revival, he said, we must respect God and pray expecting His power.

Friday night was crowned with victory as testimonies of God's power and blessing rang out. A healing service and a fruitful altar service climaxed the week's services.

Trev-Echoes Moves To F.A. Building

TREV-ECHOES has a new headquarters in the Fine Arts Building. Room 105 in the basement makes a light pleasant office for the staff.

The buff-colored room has venetian blinds and tile floors. It contains the desk, tables, cabinets, typewriter and journalistic "raw materials" necessary to the publication of a student newspaper.

New staff members at work in the new location are Sam Southerland, Berma Jean DuBose and Louanna Justice. Others are to be added to the staff to make it a compact working unit.

Have you registered to vote Nov. 6? If you are twenty-one, a permanent resident of Tennessee and have lived in Davidson County for the past three months, go to the County Clerk's office and register. Vote for the one you think is best on Election Day. It is your Christian duty.

Mission Quote

What Is Charity?

It's Silence when your words would hurt;
It's Patience when your neighbor's curt;
It's Deafness when the scandal flows;
It's Thoughtfulness for another's woes;
It's Promptness when stern duty calls;
It's Courage when misfortune falls.

—The Other Sheep

Flag Is Symbol of Good

"Old Glory" has been flying over Trevecca campus these days. We wish to express our thanks to the persons responsible for unfurling the beautiful banner on the hilltop.

It is a symbol, yes, and a constant reminder of God's goodness to our land.

The postmaster cancels our stamps with the words, "Pray for peace." May the flag become a symbol of all that is right and good—and inspire us to truly pray for peace.

A Case of Nostalgia?

"CY 6-8479."
"Ring—Brring."
"Dr. Jones speaking."
"Dr. Jones, this is Mildred Pearson at Trevecca Nazarene College. We have a strange malady here on campus, and I would like for you to give me a prescription for my patients. So far, it has only affected new students. Some of the symptoms I've noticed are: long faces, red eyes, drooping shoulders, and far-away looks."
"Ah, yes, Miss Pearson, I believe I know what the malady is. Your patients have a bad case of nostalgia—that is, homesickness."
"What do you suggest, Doctor?"
"I believe that a well-balanced diet of work, study and play will be an initial step toward clearing the malady. Also, it is necessary that the patients stay in a crowd; don't let them be alone with their aches for too long a time. Making acquaintances along with a determination to conquer the malady is an almost certain sign that the infection is clearing. Another asset on the road to recovery is a deep spiritual life."
"Thank you, Dr. Jones. I think I can fix them up."
"Good-bye and good luck."

Open Letter to Rev. Raycroft

Dear Rev. Raycroft:
The students at Trevecca are indeed appreciative of their good fortune in having you for the fall revival. Students and faculty alike were saddened by the fact that all good services must end. We pray that the old-fashioned revival spirit will not end.
Especially do the students thank you, Rev. Raycroft, for your fine expository messages on Holiness, which was the principal theme for the morning chapel services. It was indeed a privilege to hear the doctrine of Holiness explained in such a clear manner. Naturally we have all heard good messages on Holiness, but I am sure that we must all agree that your unique way of joining the theory to the practical, and the abstract to the applicable is yours alone.
The evening services are also worthy of high praise. Rev. Raycroft, you proved again to us that scriptural preaching is still the lifeblood of evangelism. Bible-founded doctrines were preached plainly and truthfully.

Sixteen thousand, five hundred books and eighteen tables in a well-equipped reading room are the physical properties of our library. But much greater values are involved than these. The library is the heart of the college; the ideas, ideals and concepts gained there cannot be measured.

The use made of a college's library indicates the influence and effectiveness of classroom meetings. Even in these opening days our library has had the widest use in its history. Though busy from 8 to 5, and for evening hours too, the library is indeed a good place to study, for the best in reference materials and trained aid are at hand.

A quiet sign has scarcely been needed for cooperation has been excellent. The librarian and her assistants have absolute authority and responsibility to maintain an atmosphere of study. Under democratic principles our rights go only so far as they do not interfere with the opportunities of others. Remembering this, we will work together more successfully. Courtesy to the librarians is a point we should watch. If you request a book, be sure to stay nearby until the assistant finds it. Remember, too, that the area behind the desk is "out of bounds."

Faster, more efficient service and a more desirable study situation will be our reward for cooperation in this vital part of our educational adventure.

Test Your Judgment In Reader's Digest Contest

TREV-ECHOES is sponsoring the local contest featured by Reader's Digest with cash prizes of $5,000 $1,000 and $500. The competition is open to all college students and faculty members. All one has to do to enter this contest is select the six articles which the entrant believes readers of the October Reader's Digest will like most.

Entry blanks will be supplied by TREV-ECHOES that you may accept the challenge to test your judgment against students from all over the United States.

The rules state that the schools in which the top winners are enrolled with receive a scholarship fund in the amount of the winner's prize. There will be at least one winner in every college from which entries are received, for Reader's Digest is awarding ten dollars in book credit at the local college bookstore to the best entry from each school.

Otis Donegan is concerned about the news that science is hot on the trail of an invention to broadcast sound waves of past statements. The words that we speak have a never-dying influence. Maybe we would all be more careful of our speech if we thought it would be brought to light in future years by harnessing the never-ending sound waves to radio.

Head Residents Are People, Too

Surely none of you boys ever, ever asked Mr. White to get out of bed at the ridiculous hour of 6:30 A.M., just to ask him one question!

To be sure everything progresses through the night our head residents are never in bed before midnight. At ten o'clock, she has to "clear the dormitory reception room" of any excess of students who belong in other dormitories. At ten thirty, all should be quiet, radios turned off, and each student in his own room. Then, at eleven o'clock, our weary house-mother makes "rounds" to be certain that all her "children" are in; all is done for our benefit, you know.

Our "mothers" here at school care for us because they love us. So, let's prove our love for them by being co-operative about bed time, and then she can get some very necessary rest.

Mrs. Orndoff Grows Flowers

When approaching McKay Hall, the eye readily catches sight of the beautiful flower boxes on the porch.

Last June Mrs. Mabel Orndoff set those flower plants in the soil. Flowers just don't grow without water, so Mrs. Orndoff faithfully watered them during the summer. Now they show forth beauty to all.

We should enjoy them now because Mr. Jack Frost will be coming soon.

It isn't everyday that a person gets such loving care and concern as Emma Jean Smith from Culvert, Alabama received the other day. Her pastor sent a box of red hot candies with the following prescription: Take one a day until all homesick symptoms are gone.

There is a Destiny that makes us brothers; none goes his way alone.

—Edwin Markham

Cast Your Ballot

A recent survey in twenty-four colleges discloses: "Only two out of five college students eligible to vote for the first time in the coming elections plan to exercise their democratic right." It is a sobering fact that a very large number of the nation's young voters plainly don't care one way or another about the coming presidential election, or are so confused that it amounts almost to the same thing.

If you are from Kentucky or Georgia you can vote at the age of eighteen. You have to be twenty-one in the other states to be allowed to cast your vote. In either case use your democratic right.

The view that one 21-year-old took was, "How can I vote when I don't know the issues, and why one party and candidate are better than another." This could also be repeated in many other cases of potential voters.

If you are old enough to vote and are still undecided or confused about the main political issues and the presidential nominees; it is high time you were learning something about them. Study the issues and determine for yourself which nominee and which political party is the better.

You hold the future of America. Your vote will help decide who sits behind the President's desk these next four years.

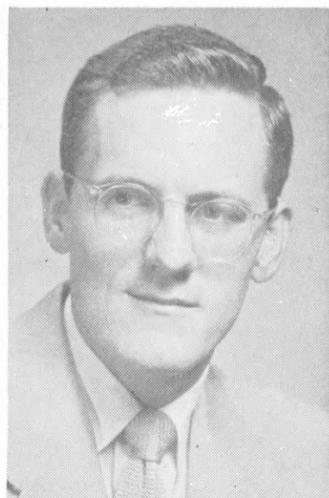

This is a right that was fought for. So don't be guilty of neglecting it. Cast your vote on November 6 for the man you think is best qualified for the office of President of our great United States.

Be sure and cast your ballot!

"Starvation Is No Excuse"

Perhaps some are afraid to come to Trevecca for the fear of not getting enough to eat, and we must admit that "finances are fragile" at the beginning of this first quarter. However, the Lord has blessed us with a nutritious apple orchard behind the McClurkan Building, which you have probably already discovered. At least, Mr. Parsons has! The delicious apple pies and baked apples you have tasted in the cafeteria are home-grown Trevecca "specials."

The next time you get a little hungry between meals, go down and get a sample IF someone hasn't beat you to them or Mother Nature finished her year's work.

"You Are Needed," Says C.W.A. President

"So you are a new student!! We rejoice because of your presence. You have already been a wonderful blessing to us. You are needed, as never before, to help us witness for our Lord and Saviour. In this great city of Nashville, there is much to be done for the Lord. Thousands walk the streets with heavy hearts and without Christ. As we go in His name, it may be your smile, your word of kindness, or your sympathizing prayer that may touch and win that drunken father, that broken-hearted mother, or some wayward son or daughter.

"Yes, thousands at our door are groping in spiritual darkness, perishing; dying because someone has failed to feed them the Word of God. Will we sit idly by and see them weaken and famish with malnutrition of the soul? In times like these, they need a Saviour. In times like these, they need an anchor. Let us arise! the field is white unto harvest. Let us reap it for the Master. Jesus said, "Go ye!" What a challenge!! What a commission!! Will we fail him?? "Be a Volunteer Christian Worker for Jesus' sake."

New Arrivals

Mr. Stork was kept quite busy in the late spring and summer at T.N.C. In fact, so busy that there's no telling how many assistants he had to acquire, for fear of arriving late with his little bundles from heaven. Among the parents to be congratulated are:

- Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Campbell—Twin girls
 - Mr. and Mrs. Charles Ingram—Girl
 - Mr. and Mrs. Harry Evans, Sr.—Boy
 - Mr. and Mrs. Gerald McCom—Boy
 - Mr. and Mrs. Clifton Hale—Girl
 - Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Rogers—Boy
 - Mr. and Mrs. Willard Johnson—Boy
 - Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Cain—Girl
 - Mr. and Mrs. Harold Derryber—Boy
 - Mr. and Mrs. Ted Allen—Girl
 - Mr. and Mrs. Denzil Huff—Girl
 - Mr. and Mrs. William Law—Girl
 - Mr. and Mrs. Dwight Scott—Girl
 - Mr. and Mrs. Dale Viars—Girl
- Yours for a bigger 1978 graduating class!

Fashions at T.N.C.

The trend of fashions at T.N.C. leans toward modesty and simplicity.

Our collegiate styles for girls seem to range anywhere from skirts and sweaters to jumpers and blouses. Neat collars add to the smartness of the sweaters, and pretty starched blouses with the jumpers make excellent sports or semi-dress wear. Flats and nylon hose give the "well-dressed" effect.

Eleven Are Named As Counselors

The Residence Halls' Counselors for the 1956-57 school term have been named. Helen Rood, Mildred Pearson and LeJeune Irwin will serve as counselors in McKay Hall. Leona Groves, Nancy Sheridan and Barbara Wilson have been selected for Hardy Hall; and for Tidwell Hall, Ralph Lee, Cecil Vaughn, James Ralph, Bill Kerns and Philip Shomo have been chosen.

These Counselors serve a two-fold purpose. They do personal counseling with their fellow students. When a student desires advice he should feel free to select the counselor he prefers. As a combined group these counselors compose the Residence Halls Council. This advisory council provides the students' point of view and suggestions for the improvement of campus and dormitory life.

So not lay things too much to heart. No one is really beaten unless he is discouraged.

—Lord Avebury

Some of the girls with long hair are styling it with buns encircled with artificial flowers. Pony-tails are still very convenient and neat.

The young men seem to have no trouble at all looking nice in their slacks, sport shirts, pull-over sweaters, and argyle socks. Quite a number of them who were less fortunate than those with curly hair, find it very becoming to wear flat-top hair cuts. For the all-around "sporty" look, nothing could be more suitable.

Who's Helping Whom?

This year there are quite a few new freshmen girls filling important positions in the administrative offices.

As we walk into Miss Person's busy office, we see Miss LouAnna Justice from Man, West Virginia. Besides working hard and furiously, she will crack a few jokes every once in a while. We predict that LouAnna and Miss Person will have a good time matching their wits this year.

Next we find another West Virginia girl, Ruth Shannon, coming from Mr. Key's office after a hard day's work. We're sure she will prove to be an indispensable assistant to Mary Jo.

A new face in the bookkeeper's office attracts our attention in a hurry. She is Miss Ann Benson from Princeton, Florida. Her friendly ways, sweet disposition, and past experience will make her an asset to our "buzzing business office".

Stepping into the next office, we find Martha Grey performing her task as secretary to the Dean of Students, Professor Phillips. She is never too busy to smile and make us feel at ease and welcome.

Mr. Richardson has found a young lady to assist Barbara Wilson. She is none other than Miss Sharon Woods, and we are sure she is going to manage the business for us in fine fashion this year.

There are no freshmen, but there are some fresh faces in the Fine Arts office. We find that Nada Ulm, Roberta Stogner, Emily Hamilton, Barbara Martin, and Anita Lyles will keep this important office going.

C.W.A. Captains Discuss Plans

The Captains and Co-captains of the Christian Workers' Association met in the college cafeteria Thursday, September 27, to discuss plans for the association for the coming year. Ralph Lee, the president, was in charge of the meeting.

The group had a season of prayer led by Bud Allison. "Brother Ralph" urged the group to "love those around us, and then we can love those we have never seen."

The president stated that the Captains and Co-captains spearhead an important group in Trevecca Nazarene College, the Christian Workers' Association. Therefore, the leaders should fast and pray so that the Lord would lay the work on their hearts, because they have a responsibility toward "never-dying souls," just as do pastors and evangelists.

Ralph pointed out the need for abiding by the rules laid down by the particular department. A few of the many pointers given the group might be of interest to you.

1. Dress as nearly as possible the way the "audience" dresses. (No extravagance.)
2. Talk on their level. Do not make them feel inferior.
3. In personal work determine the person's need so you can pray specifically.

These points should enable us to go forward to work for the Master in reaping souls in the harvest.

The only guarantee of peace is the spirit and action that turn a potential enemy into a friend.

What Would You Do?

This question, "What would you do if you were given a lagothrix?" was asked of the following students.

Jean Ledford—Grab it and run!
Gwen Webb—What I would do is hard to tell.

Mr. Walter White—Give him a room with the others in Tidwell.
Irene Godby—I'd use it to wash my hair.

Eula Gardner McNeece—I'd use it in my zoology class.

Samuel Southerland—Throw it up!

Mrs. Richardson—I'd assign it a mail box with a day student.
Thomas Hardaway—Use it for whatever it may be good for.

Libby Stucki—Hide it in my closet.

Joyce Woodward—I'd sell it to my boy friend.

Donnie Smith—It's a mathematical term; I'd ask Mrs. Redford to define it.

Ed Whittington—I'd probably eat it.

Dan Godby—I'd use it to hold atoms together in a molecule.

Roy Fuller—Probably wring its neck, cook, and eat it.

Charles Cork—Give it to Prof. Unruh to use for the choir baton.

Answer: A lagothrix is a type of monkey.

Sports Special: Football Season Opens

We want a touchdown! As the football season opens on the hilltop, several personalities are emerging to take their place among Trevecca's starting line-ups.

HIGH SCHOOL

T.H.S. should make a better showing than usual this year. One big asset for the light, but scrappy, team is three returning lettermen. James Spruill . . . end . . . good pass receiver . . . probably team's best runner. Arnold Spruill . . . halfback . . . determined defensive blocker. Jim Hampton . . . end . . . good at intercepting passes. Ralph White . . . quarterback . . . specialty is long passes.

FRESHMEN

As usual the Frosh have a surplus of men, and they have a fighting spirit seldom seen so early in the season. Paul Godby . . . Co-captain . . . halfback . . . passing and blocking are his strong points. Bruce Kelly . . . Co-captain . . . quarterback . . . passing artist . . . returning letterman. Carl Storey . . . defensive safety . . . excels as offensive end. Bill Galloway . . . end . . . returning letterman . . . speedy on open field. Jack Cruse . . . center . . . defensive lineman . . . hard man to get around. Ralph Payne . . . defensive center . . . specializes in kicking. Paul McElroy . . . Offensive halfback . . . defensive end . . . rugged.

SPONSORS

The Sophs seem to be a little weak in the substitute section, but those that they have are well-experienced. Toby Williams . . . quarterback . . . throws bullet passes . . . shines as a defensive safety. Paul Lewis . . . halfback . . . transfer student . . . should be one of team's mainstays. Don Browning . . . end . . . best at rushing. Roy Miller . . . end . . . works as pass receiver. Wayne Goodwin . . . center . . . excellent blocker . . . Donnie Smith . . . end . . . speedy rusher.

UPPERCLASSMEN

Returning champions of the past two years. Should field the heaviest team of the year. Have nearly as many substitutes as the Freshmen. Moody Gunter . . . quarterback . . . possibly best passing artist on field . . . shifty runner. Larry Finger . . . end . . . should be nick-named glue-fingers for his ability to catch a pass . . . blocker. Dan Godby . . . half . . . tough in the pinch . . . well-conditioned runner . . . Trevecca's "Mr. Football." Don Pyles . . . end . . . well-experienced lineman with ability to catch . . . not smallest man on the field. Ed Whittington . . . halfback . . . another glue-fingered player . . . smooth runner. Robert Hedgepath . . . end . . . hard-hitting blocker . . . excels at defensive play and downfield blocking. Dwight Presson . . . half . . . good passer and blocker. Bob Seal . . . defensive end . . . dependable in the tight spots. Gene Shelton . . . defensive halfback . . . can pass when necessary.

Meet the Student Council

Meet the Student Council for the year 1956-57. They will be doing their best to serve the student body in every possible way.

The Student Council is under the leadership of Bill Jernigan, a native Nashvillian. Bill served as Business Manager of TREV-ECHOES last year.

Lee Eby holds the job of secretary, a position which he has had for two consecutive years. Lee is a Floridian and is active in school activities, especially the Honor Society.

Janey Little, TREV-ECHOES Editor, is a member of the Council by virtue of office. She is a member of the Honor Society and A Cappella Choir. She hails from Ludlow, Kentucky.

Elizabeth Stucki (Libby) from Jackson, Mississippi, is also a member by virtue of office. She has held various class offices and is now the Darda Editor.

Senior Class representative is Ruth Johnson of Sparta, Tennessee. She has been a member of the Honor Society all three years of her college work and was Darda Editor last year.

Junior representative is Asa Sparks, another Kentuckian. "Ace" has been class representative for the past two years. He has traveled for the school and is a member of the A Cappella Choir. He was a member of the Honor Society and President of the East Kentucky Club in 1955-56.

Donnie Smith of Mayfield, Kentucky, is the Sophomore representative. He was Freshman class president last year and a member of the Honor Society. He was

These are the things I prize and hold of deepest worth; light of the sapphire skies, peace of the silent hills shelter of the forest, comfort of the grass, shadows of the clouds that quickly pass, and after showers, the smell of flowers, and the deep brown earth; but best of all, along the way, friendship and mirth.

—Henry Van Dyke

graduated from Trevecca High School, where he was salutatorian and best all-round boy in the senior class.

Newly elected Freshman representative is Wayne Gibson, of Bowling Green, Kentucky. John Grant and Edith Mingledorff serve as the High School representatives to the Council.

The sponsor of the Student Council is the Dean of Arts and Sciences, Dr. Homer J. Adams. Dr. Adams is loved and admired by the students; and the Council hopes to make worthwhile accomplishments this year under his leadership.

Here and There Twelve Enroll in J. T. Department

There is a special course in advanced library science being taught by Mrs. Mackey. All the library assistants take the course for wider knowledge of library procedures.

Charles Duckett is taking graduate work at Peabody. Daily labs from 1 to 4 P.M. are only part of the requirements in the science and math fields in which he is doing his work.

Have you noticed the little white hat Mr. Parsons wears? It makes his position of head chef official, for sure.

Two Sophomore girls have been spending a great deal of time at the Grill. But it's strictly business for Ruth High and Shirley Mahoney, who are waitresses at the off-campus eat-shop.

Leona Groves Is Cafeteria Assistant

Everyday as meal-time nears, a host of students can be seen making their way toward the cafeteria.

There's a slogan which states that "The Way to a Man's Heart is Through His Stomach." We can see that Leona Groves, the assistant manager of the cafeteria, must be well on her way. Besides carrying a fourteen-hour load and voice lessons, she can be found on duty, setting up the serving line, and instructing the girls in their work.

Oh, Yes! When everyone is enthusiastic about an important event, such as the Thanksgiving and Valentine Banquets, she is usually asked to prepare the tables.

As everyone has realized since attending T.N.C., there are expenses to be met regularly. Leona also serves as bookkeeper for the cafeteria.

As the weeks go by, Leona takes time to serve God by attending and singing in the Christian Work.

The Junior Theological Department has enrolled 12 students for the Fall Quarter. Our Dean of Religion, Dr. William Greathouse, is head of this department.

This section of Trevecca's academic program offers a three-year-course which will fulfill, upon completion, the educational requirements for ordination in the Church of the Nazarene as prescribed by the Church Manual. The course includes not only Bible and Theology, but also English and history.

Dr. and Mrs. Mackey have a lovely new car. It is a 1956 DeSota in a green shade much like their former one. Pleasant driving to you both!

Currently seen together on campus are Ralph White and Mary Etta Wilburn. Both are high school seniors, from Georgia and Kentucky respectively.

One little miss from Florida got a real thrill out of her first long coat. You'll be needing it soon, Ann.

Wesley Eby said there were a few fellows on campus who were getting the four B's of old age—baldness, bifocals, bulges and bunions.

The Speech Class had a lively discussion as to whether Adam could talk. Denzil Huff stated that he probably talked plenty until Eve was created.

Three students of Olivet Nazarene College visited Trevecca over the weekend of September 1. They were: Ron Doolittle, of Kalamazoo, Michigan; Mac Delbridge from Bay City, Michigan; and Walt Murray of Newport, Kentucky. These young men were the guests of Joyce Woodward and Loretta Taulbee. They had a good chance to view Trevecca life and expressed pleasure at the beauty of our campus.

Zoology Class Explores

Mrs. Redford's Zoology class took its initial field trip September 24. The expedition took place on the land joining the west campus.

The purpose of this trip Mrs. Redford said was "to encourage the class members to be more observant of the world of living creatures."

The prize find was a black widow spider chanced upon by Larry Smith. Other members of the spider family were also observed. Many species of the insect and animal kingdom were studied. Special attention was called to the grasshopper. Some other insects included the cricket, the dragon fly, various types of butterflies, and the lady bug. The sparrow, mocking bird, and the pigeon were observed by the students. Dogs, horses, and other domesticated animals were seen on the excursion.

Paul Lewis spied a reptile, but didn't stay around long enough to see what kind it was. Eddie Whittington thought the butterflies were very pretty. The flowers caught the eye of Irene Godby more than the insects.

Two more field trips are in store for the Zoology class according to Mrs. Redford. Both will be concerned with the world of living creatures around us.
