CAMPUS PRESIDENTIAL CAMPAIGNS SPARK VOTING

Dr. Agnew Advises Fall Application

Dr. Donald Agnew, executive secretary of the Southern Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools, was a visitor on Trevecca campus on October 8. He inspected our buildings and equipment and was complimentary of our plant and educational program.

At a luncheon meeting in the cafeteria banquet room Dr. Agnew spoke to members of the faculty and administration who are working on plans for accreditation. He recognized our strong points, advised us on steps to improve certain aspects of our college plans and encouraged us to apply for membership in the Southern Association this fall.

It is planned for Dr. Mackey and others of the administration to meet with the membership committee at the Southern Association meeting in Dallas, Texas, in December according to Dr. Adams. If all goes well a study committee will be appointed to visit Trevecca Nazarene College some time in 1957. This would mean that Trevecca could be fully accredited next year.

We should take all steps possible for self-improvement here at Trevecca and inspire our constituency to rally to our financial support so that we may overcome one of our major hurdles the need for our endowment.

"Send the Light" Is Missionary Theme

The first meeting of the Missionary Prayer Band was attended by about twenty-five people who had a spirit of enthusiasm and a burden for our missionaries.

Miss Marie Peery, sponsor, touched our hearts as she talked about the need for missionaries. She pointed out "here in Trevecca College God is going to call some to be missionaries for Him."

Officers for this coming year are: president, Cecil Vaughn; vice president, Rex Houston; secretary, Mary Evelyn Nelson; treasurer, Talmadge Godwin; sponsor, Miss Marie Peery.

The group, which meets every Friday after chapel, chose as a theme song for this year "Send The Light," and their prayer is to have a greater burden for missions.

Classes, Clubs Elect Trev-Echoes Reporters

One result of our school elections was of great interest to the TREV-ECHOES staff. The new class and club reporters are an addition to the staff that will facilitate news coverage and show a wide range of T.N.C. activities.

Dwight Presson represents the Clio Society and Nancy Earnhart has been chosen to do the writing for the Literary Society.

The music and science clubs will be represented by Sammie Bell and Rita Turner. Bill Kerns was elected by acclamation to fill the spot for the Speech Club. The Honor Society selected Barbara Martin.

Choosing present staff members and those with journalistic experience the Ministerial Association (Donnie Smith), M.A.A. (Asa Sparks) and G.A.A. (Jan Penix) chose able news-gathers.

Kemp Higginbotham receives cake code from Roy Miller.

Annual Cake Code Is Given Freshmen

It is cake hunting time for the Freshmen class on Trevecca campus. The cake code, which is one of Trevecca's traditions, was presented to the Freshman class by the Sophomores at chapel, October 15. A fruit cake has been hidden somewhere on campus, and really, Freshmen, that code isn't too hard.

Are you Freshmen going to have to give the Sophomores an outing? That is part of the rules you know, and the contest ends at midnight on December 20.

They say that two heads are better than one. Here is the code to show what you are up against. "Under find the hart a hotter the will clue we'll give Freshmen in you by ground street to little you bottle little down start tell you where on role you'll a that telephone a to make a go."

Programs Feature Faculty, Campuses

Every Friday night in the Fine Arts Auditorium a class or club sets forth in fine style Christian entertainment. The faculty recently placed on revue its talent as Miss McClain, Miss Cooner, Mr. Hammond and Mr. Unruh presented a fine arts recital.

The seniors gave us a look at the colleges of the Church of the Nazarene. Many of us who have not had an opportunity to travel to the other campuses saw for the first time their buildings. The modern library at Olivet made us cheer its accomplishments. We who have a touch of western blood were able to thoroughly enjoy the spacious grounds of Bethany and Pasadena. Lest we forget, we hasten to mention the beautiful mountain scenery that surrounds Nampa. A view of our New England college, Eastern, with its stately and artistic buildings proved of interest. God has blessed Trevecca with a large campus. In recent years we have erected a cafeteria and a fine arts building.

Trailer Village Has Picnic

The citizens of Trevecca's Trailer Village enjoyed an outing Saturday afternoon October 6th. About forty people attended, with a number of children helping their parents relish the picnic on the lower meadow of Trevecca's campus.

Other social gatherings are being planned by the newly-elected officers: President Denzil Huff, Secretary-Treasurer Jan Viars and the program committee.

Rev. Keys Conducts Revival in South Carolina

Rev. Clifford E. Keys is preaching in a revival meeting in Columbia, South Carolina while making a tour in the interest of Trevecca Nazarene College.

Mr. Keys has been touring the Carolinas since September 18. He has spoken at the District Assemblies of both North and South Carolina and has preached in several revival meetings. He will be returning to Trevecca College October 24.

Campus Political Campaign Gains Momentum; Five Parties Represented

"I like Ike" "The party for you, not just the few!" As these and other slogans resound, the campus campaign gets hotter every day.

A spontaneous political demonstration was seen on the steps of the Ad Building a few days before the campaigns officially began. Unfortunately, for the sake of order, there were so many parties present that it was impossible to determine exactly who was the leader. Later they were scheduled so that each had a chance to be heard.

Sophomores Conduct Survey of Student Election Opinions

A recent survey taken by the Sophomore class shows how the students feel and what they know about the coming election.

Everyone has been expressing his opinions about the presidential nominees and who is going to win. Anytime during the day you can see groups standing around with politics as their main point of conversation. Everything from "Socialist" to "States Rights" is represented in the discussions which usually end up in a debate.

Freshman-Sophomore Banquet Attracts 114 Guests

Eula Gardner McNeese and Kathy Eannottie racked up one by ranking highest among the ticket salesmen for the Freshman-Sophomore Banquet, October 4. Others at the head of the list were Herman Lawrence, Lloyd Griffin and Eleanor Goode.

The artistic ability of Don Browning was displayed on a number of posters advertising the occasion. One hundred and fourteen tickets were sold.

The highlight of the evening was the unique speech presented by our president, Dr. Mackey.

The welcome by Roy Miller, Sophomore president, and the response by Freshman president, Kemp Higginbotham were well received.

Ed Irwin served as master of ceremonies. The program included "Greenies" sung by the Kingsmen Quartet; "Don't Let Studying Interfere with your Education," written and presented by Mildred Pearson; and a solo, "I Believe," by Martha Sloan. Mary Jo Bowling was accompanist.

No one suffered from malnutrition after the very appetizing meal of tossed salad, ham, mashed potatoes with gravy, green beans, buttered rolls, tea, and cake for dessert.

Choir Elects Officers; Offers Hour Credit

The college choir held its election of officers on October 2, during the regular class session. The results of this election are: Ed Whittington was elected president; Larry Finger is the new vice-president; secretary-treasurer is Joyce Lewis, and librarians are Jean Ledford and Kemp Higginbotham.

The Choir, under the direction of Professor Unruh, plans to make two or three appearances during the Fall Quarter. Participation in the Christmas Program is a special event that is looked forward to during the Fall quarter.

There will also be some social events during the quarter; however, no definite plans have been made as yet.

At present there are forty-five choir members, twenty-five girls and twenty boys. They now receive an hour's credit instead of the half-hour given previously.

Here are some of the results of the poll.

Party
44% Democrats
41% Republicans
15% didn't know.

Concerning the main issue of the election, 45% indicated Segregation would be the big factor. Foreign policy was the choice of 37% and 18% were undecided.

President Eisenhower received a very good vote concerning his last term.

52% rated it as excellent,
44% good,
4% poor.

Asked whether either party would split, 17% voted yes, 60% no, and 23% didn't know.

The students at Trevecca have a good view of the Presidential election on November 6. Don't forget! Cast your ballot on campus and for the real election if you are eligible.

C.W.A. Sees Fifty-Eight Converts

There have been fifty-eight converts since September 24, and many others have received spiritual help in the services sponsored by the C. W. A.

The newly-elected captains and co-captains, under the leadership of our president, Ralph Lee, need your help and prayers. There are over thirteen different phases of Christian work this year and other places are being opened to Trevecca students.

"Let us give the message of Christ and salvation in the same measure as we have received it," urges C. W. A. reporter, Nelzene Edmonds.

Juniors Plan All-School Halloween Party Oct. 26

Secret is the keyword in the planning for the annual all-school Halloween Party scheduled for Friday night, October 26.

The college Junior Class has charge of the event and though busy working on it they are letting out no information. Jan Penix, who is on the committee, is close-mouthed about the time, place and entertainment but hints that we'll probably "go" in buses.

Ticket sales make possible definite planning and the rates 45c stag, 85c drag are a special concession to help the fellows in their social life. Note: this includes the food, too.

The Democratic Party used a large-scale person-to-person type of campaign, but they were plagued by bad luck. Their poster tacks won't stay in. (It seems that the wind is Republican.) Their leader is Robert Hedgepath, with James Tripp doing all that he can to help.

The Republicans are using much of the speech-making type of campaign and they started the campaigns with the first noon speech. They, too, were hampered by bad luck: too many Democrats. Their strongest point seems to be Democrats for Ike, to the joy of Manager Robert Womack.

The States Righters made a "booming" type of campaign. Wayne Murphy is leading them, with much help coming from Lloyd Griffin.

The Prohibitionist Party is making much of the fact that it is our Christian duty to fight liquor. Managing this group is Bill Taliaferro.

The Socialist Labor Party has an interesting platform. As far as we know, they have no connection with the Communist Party; so Lee Eby has consented to boast for them.

Trevecca Creates Hemmerly Memorial

Faculty and students at Trevecca Nazarene college yesterday established a loan in honor of Richard Dale Hemmerly, 20, former student who died of cancer Monday.

The decision was made at a chapel service yesterday "in appreciation of his high Christian principles and standards."

The fund, $450 at present, is expected to increase with additional gifts. It will go to a worthy student at the college. The fund may also be expanded into a scholarship.

Mr. Hemmerly died Monday at his home, 1435 McGavock road.

He was born in Nashville, a son of F. F. and Jessie Mai Cashdollar Hemmerly, of Nashville. Both parents survive.

Mr. Hemmerly was a graduate of East Nashville high and attended Trevecca Nazarene college for over a year.

In 1955 he married the former Joy Gregory of Nashville. She survives.

He was employed as a salesman for Taystee Bread company.

Other survivors include three brothers. Tommy Hemmerly, Kenneth Hemmerly and a twin brother Harry Hemmerly, all of Nashville; his maternal grandmother Mrs. S. T. Cashdollar, Nashville; and a paternal grandmother, Mrs. Isabel Few, Nashville.

What Do You Hear?

A farmer came to the city to visit a friend. As they walked down a busy street, the farmer suddenly turned to his friend and said, "Listen! Hear that cricket?" "No, I don't even see one much less hear one. How in the world did you hear it in all this noise?" "See, there it is—over there by the curb. It's all a matter of what you have been listening to. I hear crickets, frogs, birds every day. I know them when I hear them. Now, watch this." The farmer pulled a dime out of his pocket and dropped it to the pavement. Several persons turned around, while others searched their pockets and counted their change. "I see what you mean. Too many of us have our ears tuned to material things."

This expresses the predominate interest of most of the world's population. It is a tragedy that many of us have our ears tuned to such things—however legitimate they may be.

Let's keep our ears tuned to spiritual things—open to every whisper of the Holy Spirit and our hearts receptive to His words.

Park in Proper Places

Ky. 129-084. Will the car with this license be found parking in a "No parking" zone? As Trevecca grows, it becomes necessary to regulate the parking of our many cars.

The Student Council Traffic Commission has been set up for the express purpose of providing guidance in the proper methods of parking.

The "cops" are not your enemies; they are in reality "gardeners" whose duty it is to keep our roads and parking lots neat and orderly. Although they can not pull up the "flowers" that aren't in position, they can put a tag on them so the Student Council and Administration can.

There are places provided for student parking in back of Tidwell Hall, McClurkan Building, and in restricted areas beside Hardy Hall and on campus drive.

Let's all park in the proper places.

Missionary to Cape Verde Islands Is Chapel Speaker, October 12

Rev. Earl Mosteller, missionary to the Cape Verde Islands, gave us a thrilling travelogue of his journeys on the Islands in chapel, October 12, after teaching us a few words in Portuguese.

"Not by power nor by might, but by my Spirit saith the Lord," was his text as he told the dangers of his journeys. Near shipwreck and encountering thieves were some of the related experiences. He told of God's power in reaching the heathen with the gospel and gave a general view of the Nazarene work being carried on there.

Rev. Mosteller was converted at the age of twelve, and was graduated from Northwestern in 1941. He received his call to the mission field when he was twenty-six and was appointed to the Cape Verdes in 1944. He has spent ten years there as missionary, and is now serving as District Superintendent of our work there.

The Mostellers will be returning to the Cape Verdes in April. Two of their daughters, Virginia and Elizabeth, will be going too. They will leave their other daughter, Kathlene Joy, in the States to continue her education.

GWENDOLYN PEARSON

Calvary Church Is Friendly, Spiritual

Editors Note: This is the first of a series of articles about the various churches of the city. We have asked students to give us their reasons for selecting a particular church "home." In this initial article Gwendolyn Pearson tells why she chose Calvary church of the Nazarene.

In pondering over the reasons why I attend Calvary Church of the Nazarene, I thought possibly the fact that it was at Calvary (Church) where I met Jesus and claimed Him as my personal Saviour and Sanctifier might hold some significance. Anyhow, it is a wonderful thought.

When my roommate, Violet Coulter, now an alumnae, invited me to Calvary, she made the statement that I would not be asked to go again if I did not like it there. She must have sensed that the spirituality of the people, the manner of worship, the heart-warming messages of the pastor, Rev. M. E. Redford, the friendliness and all that goes to make a good church would join hands together to make me love the place.

And I do! For after twelve months I am still attending Calvary and enjoying it immensely, as well as the hospitality of the pastor and his good wife on Sunday evenings after church.

Hardy Hall Organizes Missionary Chapter

Have you ever thought of having a Missionary Chapter in a dormitory? Miss Marie Peery, head resident of Hardy Hall, thought it a good idea. The study course books have been ordered, and Hardy Hall girls will soon be well on their way toward learning more about our missionaries, and the work they are doing. We trust that this Missionary Chapter will be helpful toward placing a burden for missions on our hearts.

Students Offer Tribute to College Dean

"What do you think of our Dean, Dr. Adams?" Tributes to our highly regarded and efficient Dean were given in answer to this question.

Mildred Pearson—
 Dr. Adams is a unique person; one who has a very keen sense of humor, but feels his responsibility toward God and his influence as a Christian gentleman. His classes prove a real challenge to the ability of most students. Billy Ring—

Dr. Adams is a gentleman, scholar and a Prime Christian. To know him is to appreciate him. Ed Bullock—

Dr. Adams is a gentleman in every respect and a very fine teacher.

Jack Phillips—
 He reminds me of a four-minute-miler, as he dashes from class to class. I feel that Trevecca is honored to have him on her faculty and as Dean of Arts and Sciences. He has my highest esteem. Harold Hughes—

Dr. Adams is an able administrator and teacher. His combination of intelligence, honesty, and humility make him one "swell person" to know. Joyce Lewis—

Dr. Adams is one of the most interesting people I have ever met. His ideas and ways of presenting things, in and out of class, are original and refreshing.

DR. HOMER J. ADAMS

Ottis Donegan—
 Dr. Adams is an excellent teacher, a Christian gentleman, a good sport and one of the friends a man could have. His philosophy of life is such that he enjoys life and makes it pleasant to others.

Jo Lynn Armstrong—
 Dr. Adams is one of the best, all-around gentlemen I have known. Not only is he helpful and understanding about problems, but also impartial in his decisions. He is one to whom we look for guidance.

Transfer Students Hail From Ten Colleges

A hearty welcome has been extended to the students who have transferred to T.N.C. to continue their studies. They have already been a source of enrichment and blessing to the college.

Two of our transferees are completing their freshman year's work. Mrs. Janet Sawmiller had begun her education at Miami University before enrolling here. Paul Lewis attended Linsley College last year.

Contributions to the sophomore class include four Olivet Nazarene College students. It is a pleasure to welcome Joyce Woodward, Tom Spalding, John Hay, and Wesley Frederick to our campus. They were our relatives, but they are adopted into the family. Thelma Bruckner comes to us from Sunflower Junior College in Mississippi; Charlotte Robinson is a student from Tusculum College; and Paul Beard hails from Austin Peay State College.

The junior class has spread the welcome mat for five new members: LaDell Carter, University of Chattanooga; Paul Brown, Mout of Praise Bible School in Circleville, Ohio; Wayne Hysong, Easter Nazarene College; Carl Kallsen, another Olivet student; and H. D. Snellgrove, Chicago Evangelistic Institute.

A hearty welcome to all!

To the visitors that were in, on or around the Administration Building on Monday, October 15: We wish to apologize if you were shoved, stepped on, or otherwise mishandled.

For you see Monday was Proof Day for all students who wish to have their picture in the Darda. And those overjoyed (?) students just couldn't wait to show off to their best girl, or boy friend the fine photograph that had been made by Frederick's Studio. To those of us who live so far from T. N. C. it provides the opportunity to send a reasonable facsimile of our features back home.

So, please don't misjudge us. YOU WERE YOUNG ONCE.

Rev. G. E. York, a former student at Trevecca and who is now pastoring at Glasgow, Kentucky, was visiting Trevecca last week.

Nashville Symphony Opens Season, October 30

Tickets to the Nashville Symphony have sold well on campus this season. A good representation from T.N.C. should be on hand when the eleventh season of the Nashville Symphony opens on Tuesday, October 30, at 8:30 P.M., with Carlos Salzedo, Harpist. Mr. Guy Taylor, for the sixth year, will be conductor of these concerts.

The student rate is only $4.00 for the season and no single admissions will be sold for the concerts to be held Monday evening, November 26, at 8:30, Guiomar Novaes, pianist; Tuesday evening, January 15, Cesare Valletti, tenor; Tuesday, February 12, an All-Orchestral Program; Tuesday, March 5, with Eugene List, pianist and Carroll Glenn, violinist; and Tuesday, April 9, with Marley Meredith, baritone, Sylvia Stahlman, soprano, and Nashville Choruses in "Carmina Burana".

There will be concert previews each Monday preceding the concert from noon to 1 p.m. at the Jewish Community Center. Also, a Family Concert will be held on Sunday afternoon, December 2, at 4:00 at the War Memorial Auditorium.

Mr. Rozzell Is Memory-O-Matic Representative

Do you find yourself forgetting sermon points, names, appointments, and various other things? Then what you need is the Memory-O-Matic Service. Here is a system that will remember all of those things for you. Most students forget 90% of what they get in college. This service will be your aid in recalling those things that our human brains cannot seem to retain.

The entire system can be yours for around $100.00. You don't have to take the entire system, just whatever you need. Nor do you have to pay cash—monthly payments can be arranged. If you are interested you may contact Mr. Rozzell, representative for Memory-O-Matic. Larry Leeper, TREV-ECHOES staff member, will arrange an appointment.

Let not him who is houseless pull down the house of another, But let him work diligently and build one for himself; Thus by example assuring that his own shall be safe from violence when built.

Abraham Lincoln

In Memory of Richard Dale Hemmerly

It seems only yesterday since the time that our young hearts pounded away at the tales of Robinhood and the expectation of Santa Claus, and yet yesterday has been years when we stop and ponder the fact. Childhood has flown away even as the dew drops which only visit us for a while and then leave forever.

We can say with Henry Wadsworth Longfellow that our heartbeats have been like muffled drums beating slowly but surely toward the grave, and we have been unaware.

Then suddenly God reaches down with His tender hand and plucks away a flower in full bloom; thus awakening us to the briefness of our earthly voyage. Was God unjust to do so at the expense of those planted nearest to this youthful flower? Does He that planted not know where and when to reap? Could we, the planted, dare question the judgement of the Planter?

An empty spot will be left where this flower was uprooted; and yet on close observation we find that it was not torn ruthlessly from the ground but picked tenderly with the thought of transplantation in mind.

While we must endure for a season the gales of life, we may rest assured that somewhere on the prinnial shores of heaven there blooms this flower which God has chosen to pick for Himself.

Rev. Chambers Reports Gulf Central District

One of the most interesting chapel services of the year was October 9 with Rev. Leon Chambers. Mr. Chambers has the distinction of being the first District Superintendent of the Gulf Central District of the Church of the Nazarene, our work among Negroes of the Southland.

In the opinion of the speaker, millions of Negroes are looking for much-needed Christian leadership. So often men of their own race are not financially and spiritually able to bear the load of a church. Consequently, it is our responsibility to offer our Christian services to the needy multitude. Yes, "The harvest is great and the laborers are few."

Quartet Sings at Lafayette Park Church

Eight Trevecca fellows spent this week end of October 21, in St. Louis, Missouri. A quartet composed of Jack Cruse, Paul Lewis, Ed Whittington, and Kemp Higginbotham went to Lafayette Park Church of the Nazarene for special services.

The group was contacted by Don Morrow, former T. N. C. student, who now attends Rev. Bob Wiggs' church.

Other members of the party included Fred Thurman whose home is in St. Louis, Carl Story, driving a '50 "Batmobile," Bruce Kelly, and Ed Irwin, pianist for the singers.

Where Do I Belong In the Church?

- 1. Pillars — worship regularly, giving time and money.
2. Supports — give time and money if they like the minister and treasurer.
3. Leaners — use the church for funerals, baptisms, and marriages, but give no time or money to support the church.
4. Specials — help and give occasionally for something that appeals to them.
5. Annuals — or Easter Birds—dress up, look serious and go to church on Easter.
6. Spongers — take all the blessings and benefits, but give no money to support the church.
7. Tramps — go from church to church, but support none.
8. Gossips — talk freely about everyone except the Lord Jesus.
9. Scrappers — take offense, criticize and fight.
10. Blacksliders — "go back and walk no more with Jesus." (John 6:66).
13. Hypocrites — are leaners who say they are better than the church-goers.

Open Letter from Accident Victim

WHAM! . . . the right front fender caught me in the back and sent me sprawling to the pavement. At first I hardly knew what had happened. Then it dawned on me that I had been struck by a car. As soon as I gained my senses I got to my feet slowly. After a check at Vanderbilt Hospital, I was released with all of my joints still intact, and none the worse but for a few bruises.

The fact that I was knocked to the side and out of the front of the car was the only thing that prevented a serious accident; otherwise the car would have run over me.

Yes, I came within inches of death and a tragedy almost happened on our campus because of the cars that were illegally parked on the south side of McClurkan building. I would remind all of you drivers that you can very well cause a serious accident by parking in the wrong place.

The Student Council has a parking program underway and it needs your utmost cooperation. "No Parking" signs have been posted in various places and that means no parking where these signs are. Please, for your safety and the safety of others, park in the places designated by the parking committee.

May this meeting that I had with the right front fender of a car and the pavement be a reminder to all of you, "Stop, Look, and Listen before you cross the street." And for you drivers, "Stop and Look before you park!"

N.A.T.S. Elects Professor Ramon Unruh

Professor Ramon Unruh of T. N. C. was elected secretary and treasurer when the Local Chapter of National Association of Teachers of Singing met April, 1956. The duties of the secretary-treasurer, besides collecting dues, are mailing the notices of the local meetings and the programs for the coming year.

The first local meeting will be held Saturday night, October 20, at the home of Professor Louis Nicholas, Peabody, Nashville, Tennessee.

The purpose of this organization is to promote more unified practice and to raise the standards in teaching of singing. The requirements for membership are: teaching voice for five consecutive years and being recommended by two persons who are members of the association.

The Regional Meeting will be held November 2 and 3 in Birmingham, Alabama. It is a business meeting and also for auditions of the N.A.T.S. Each winner will compete in the National Contest in Chicago, Illinois, in January.

Alumni News

Carol Anne Asbury is busy doing her graduate work at Peabody, but she still likes to work in Trevecca's library and finds it quite convenient from her apartment at the Redfords.

Mack Williams reports that Wendell is enjoying life in Kansas City. He has already been elected an officer of his class at Seminary.

Here and There

The church has been reserved —pretty dresses are being made. Sure, our Student Body President, Bill Jernigan is to be married to Miss Juanita Orndoff in December, the 19th to be exact.

Now don't make a mad dash for Hardy Hall, but there is good news there. It is reported that Miss Peery has some house trailer catalogues. Jay Mick and Barbara Campbell were seen looking them over one Sunday afternoon along with Eddie Irwin and Kathy Lanham.

"Here, ducky, ducky. Nice ducky!"

Hey! Wait a minute—we aren't running a duck farm! That's just Paul Lewis, Wayne Goodwin, Jack Cruse, Hal Arnett and Teddy West with their new duck tail haircuts. We could call them "The Five Quacks" if you think it necessary to tag them—but not ducks—ducks are cute little things.

Pearl Hisle and Winston Hatcliff have been seen together on several occasions. The lucky pair

Smile Awhile

Ed Bullock tells of a country fellow who walked down a country lane on a lovely night with his girl. After a long moment he suddenly proposed, "Honey, will you marry me?"—"Yes" answered the girl quickly. Silence descended. After a moment she said, "Well, why don't you say something?" His reply "Unhuh, I have already said too much."

After depositing a coin in a public phone, Harley Cash was asked by the operator, "Number, please?"

Harley answered very quickly, "Number nothing; I want my peanuts."

Strictly For Men . . .

HOW TO ASK FOR A DATE

WRONG? Do you have a date for the Artist Series?

This puts the girl on the spot. Ask her in such a way that she will not embarrass you or her if she refuses. She will think better of you!

RIGHT: Do you have plans for the Artist Series?

If she does and you really want to date the gal, ask her some other time. After all, she might be just as eager as you. If she isn't interested, well—there are other fish in the ocean. Look around!

Above all, never intentionally stand up a gal or break a date if you can possibly help it. If, of necessity you have to, then ask her some other time. She hates to "lose face" as much as you do!

. . . Strictly For Women

REFUSING OR ACCEPTING

Well, if the fellow puts you on the spot by asking if you have a date for a particular occasion—squelch that impulse to ask him if he's ever read Emily Post. If you don't particularly care to accompany him, all that is necessary to say is "No, I'm sorry. I'd rather not."

Suppose he asks you if you have plans for some evening. If you want to date him, just say "No, I don't. Why?" He may get around to telling you.

If you just simply can't think of any excuse tell him you've promised your room-mate that evening. He'll get the idea fast.

Whatever you say, though, say it kindly. Sometimes it takes an "awful lot of nerve" on the fellow's part to ask you. And — never, NEVER break a date unless absolutely necessary.

Sports Editor Asa (Ace) Sparks Says, "Attitude Counts Most"

Are we Christians in name only? Must we live up to our standards and professions or can we leave them on the sidelines when we enter the athletic field?

We are Christian men and women. Let's show the world that our religion can work in a ball game when things are going against us and emotions are the highest.

Nearly everyone of us knows that the use of elbows and knees is legal in football but is it right to use them when it is not for the purpose of helping our team forge ahead?

The referees do the best they can and it does not help when a person derides him for making a seemingly "bad call." Let your captain protest if he doesn't like the decision.

This matter of Christianity in athletics carries on when the game is over. If our team wasn't good enough to win, why don't we just admit it? The only thing a real man can do after he is beaten is say, "We'll do better next time."

Being a member of the Trevecca Athletic Association (or any other organization) gives you no reason to neglect the remainder of your college life. The true collegiate athlete is first of all—a good student.

It is our duty to save the world—the world stops to listen to an athlete who testifies for Christ. Go with the Christian Workers; they'll be glad to have you.

Remember, if we have to lose our sanctification to play, let's leave athletics alone. The most important thing is not whether we win or lose; what really counts is the attitude we take.
