MACKEY RESIGNS; BOARD ELECTS GREATHOUSE PRESIDENT

DR. GREATHOUSE

Committee Commends Administration

Tuesday, April 23, began the annual meeting of the Board of Trustees of Trevecca Nazarene College. During the afternoon, committee meetings were held. The committees of the Board are: the Executive Committee, the Committee on Campus and Building Inspection, Committee on Finance, Committee on Nominations, Committee on Auditing and the Committee on Honorary Degrees. During the Meeting on April 24 the Committee on Campus and Building Inspection commended the administration on the many improvements that they had observed.

Mackey Resigns

During the meeting on April 24, Dr. A. B. Mackey, president for twenty-six years, turned in his resignation to the board, with the understanding that he would have the privilege of continuing to teach here. This will become effective September 1, 1963. After discussion and vote, Dr. William Greathouse was elected to succeed Dr. Mackey.

Executive Committee Elected

Another item on the agenda was the election of the Executive Committee of the Board of Trustees. Those elected are: Chairman, Dr. John L. Knight; Vice Chairman, Dr. Lloyd Byron; Secretary, Dr. Otto Stucki; Treasurer, Rev. Victor E. Gray; and Members At Large, Dr. D. S. Somerville, Rev. L. S. Oliver, and Dr. Mack Anderson. Of the forty-seven members of the board, forty-four were present. The members are from the twelve districts of the Southeastern Educational Zone.

Honorary Doctorate

Rev. L. S. Oliver, district superintendent of Alabama, was elected to receive the honorary doctorate which is given at commencement. Rev. Oliver's son, Steve, is a student at Trevecca.

S.C. Sends Letter

A letter was received from the Student Council of Trevecca during the day asking the board to give consideration to the construction of a gymnasium on campus. Dr. Stucki, secretary, reports that this letter was well received by the board members and the matter was referred to the Committee on Campus Building and Planning for further study. This committee is made up of the members of the Executive Committee.

Dorm Work

A large part of the day was taken up with technicalities involving the new girl's dormitory which is now being constructed.

During the day the master campus plan for future development was reviewed by the board. This is being prepared by Dougherty, Miller and Patton; Architects and Engineers of Nashville.

No Replacement

As was expected by many of the students and faculty, a replacement for Rev. C. E. Keys, field representative, was not determined, primarily because of the presidential change. This replacement is to be left up to the new president.

Carey Receives Chem Award

Al Carey was presented at the beginning of the Spring Quarter with the "Handbook of Chemistry and Physics," an achievement award by the Chemical Rubber Publishing Company. The award is made to the freshman Chemistry student with the highest average at each United States college. Carey's average was 96 for the fall quarter and 94 for the winter quarter. Near the end of the school year a regional exam will be given in which the winner will receive a $100.00 award and $100.00 gift for the library for Chemistry books.

Al is a mathematics major and Christian education minor. He plans to transfer to engineering school next year.

Seminar On Bible Today

Thursday, another student-faculty seminar will be held immediately after chapel in the banquet room of the cafeteria. Dr. Charles Childers will be presenting a paper on "The Bible as Literature," after which a discussion will be held under the direction of Dr. Leslie Parrott.

The following source materials may be used to supplement the seminar: Literature of the Old Testament by Brewer, Literary Study of the Bible by Moulton, Literature of the New Testament by Scott, and Our English Bible in the Making by May.

The next seminar will be held May 14. Miss McClain will present a paper on "Music for Musicians Only?"

Favorable comments have been heard from various students regarding the seminars held thus far. Suggestions for topics that students want discussed should be sent to Dr. Parrott or the TREV-ECHOES' staff.

Polls Open Tomorrow In McClurkan Lobby At 8:00 A.M.

Tomorrow is election day! This is an understatement to the twelve candidates nominated by the student body last week. Since the announcement in chapel of their nomination, posters, banners, electrical contrivances, stickers with "Vote for me!" on them, and badges of all types have been plastered all over campus in an effort to persuade students. Today campaign speeches will be given at 12:30 in front of the Administration building.

Those students nominated are as follows: President, Jerry Appleby and Thom Houseman; Secretary, Winonna Flatt and Steve Oliver, Darda editor, Phyllis Buss and Suzanna McManus; Darda business manager, Don Irwin and Kenny Walker; Trev-Echoes editor, Dick Bailey and Kathleen Kester; and Trev-Echoes business manager, Ray Kohser and Beverly Moore.

Tomorrow the polls will be open from 8:00-11:00 a.m. and 1:00-4:00 p.m. in McClurkan lobby. The nominees with simple majorities become the new officers for the year 1963-64. Results of the voting will be announced in chapel Thursday.

Students are urged to vote for the candidate that will best fill the position. Biographical sketches of the nominees and parts of their campaign are given below.

Jerry Appleby, candidate for president of the Associated Students, is from East St. Louis, Illinois. He is a religion major and mathematics minor. Future plans are to go to seminary and then to take a pastorate.

He is a member of A Cappella Choir, the Math Club, Speech Club, and Music Club. He is president of the Ramblers Club, captain of the Delta softball team, and an active member of the CWA. He was freshman and sophomore representative to the Student Council, and he is presently secretary of the Student Council.

In high school, he was in the National Honor Society and he also participated in the American Legion Oratorical contest.

Jerry's platform appears on page 4 of this issue of TREV-ECHOES.

Thom Houseman, another candidate for S.C. president, hails from Kissimmee, Florida. In Osceola High School there, he was active in various activities. He lettered in three sports, was president of the Library Council, was chosen Thespian of the

Communism Is Dangerous

Communism is dangerous because it is atheistic, materialistic, and ruthless.

Communism says that God does not exist. The Communist will not accept the ideas of the Creator God, the sustaining God, nor the personal God. He believes that the world just happened; no one created it. God is not present in the world today; the world just operates on its own. Certainly God does not speak to men; it is just their imaginations. Therefore, the Communist is an atheist. He can not answer any questions about the future life nor does he have to, because there is no such thing as far as he is concerned.

Communism is materialistic in nature. This life is all that matters. Animals are machines, and man is a higher animal-machine. Certain stimuli produce certain reactions. Man can be controlled by controlling the stimuli. A man is useful only if he can work and fulfill the wishes of the party. The individual does not count; only the party matters. Science and technology are important because this world is ultimate. Therefore, the best must be obtained from it.

Communism is ruthless in that it will stop at nothing to reach its goals. Human life is not important, and neither are family ties. All social restraints should be overthrown. Religion is the opiate of the people; therefore it should be done away with.

Communism is dangerous then because it denies God while it stresses materialism; and, it is ruthless in its methods.

Support Your CWA

Here at TNC we have many activities other than those in the classroom. These activities are varied, and one may choose the ones pertaining to his greatest interest. One of these organizations is the CWA. This is a very important activity, one in which we may all participate.

As Trevecca is a Christian institution, it is greatly concerned with the Christian influence it might have on students and friends. Our CWA is working daily to carry out our good intentions. Under its very capable leadership, it carries on many worthwhile tasks which demand great preparation and dedication on the part of its workers. Several times each month they visit the jail and the workhouse, taking cheer and news of salvation to the more unfortunate.

If we could only pause long enough to consider the work and prayer which goes into the program of the CWA, we would desire to pledge our complete support to this very worthwhile cause. If we would only give a small part of our time, we would gain greatly in our personal lives. We should be careful to remember that we are not only

Are You A Good Citizen?

In America there are many people who are content to wile away the hours by complaining. They complain about the government, the schools, taxes, and even about the corner grocery store. One would think that they were experts on the way a typical American family should live and on the functioning of the various organizations that fall under their complaints.

In contrast to these there are those who seldom complain about life and when they do they have just reasons for voicing their thoughts. They participate in community affairs and are loyal citizens who do their share in our democracy.

If you were moving into a new community, which type of person would you choose for your neighbor if you had a choice? What type of neighbor and citizen are you?

FORUM

By DICK BAILEY

The extension of hours on Friday and Saturday nights for next year have, as a whole, met with the approval of the student body. Most of the students are elated over the Saturday night extension from 9:30 p.m. to 10:10 p.m. The Friday night extension from 10:40 to 10:50 has brought several varied opinions from the students.

Gene Glenn, spokesman for the Freshman Class, feels that "the extension on Saturday night is terrific, but, although I'm glad they extended Friday night hours, I don't think the ten minutes will make any difference. I appreciate the work of the student council in gaining the extension for us."

James Bearden, representing the Sophomore Class, stated, "I'm in favor of shortening the hours. I think 9:30 p.m. on Friday night and 8:30 on Saturday night would give us enough time for the activities in which a Nazarene young person should participate. I am, however, grateful for the work of the student council and the faculty in this project."

Mary Helen Lane of the Senior Class agrees that "the student council and the faculty are to be commended for increasing the hours. I am well satisfied with the change. I also feel that as we become accustomed to these new hours, we can then look forward to another extension."

Mary Lou Tieman, also a Senior, says, "Although I won't be here next year, I'm delighted with the change and I'm sure the lower classmen are too. I really wonder, though, if the Friday night change will even be noticed."

These and other comments from active students such as Dennis Orner, Wayne Dollar, Sharron Marlin, John Sugg, and Phyllis Buss reveal that the student body is pleased with the student council and the faculty administrative committee for granting these extensions.

With added privileges, we should become more responsible. Let's prove by proper conduct that we deserve and appreciate the extension and that we merit the confidence shown in us by the administration.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Dear Editor:

How many times have you walked past the "fish pond," gazed in its direction and gasped at its condition? The flowers have been trampled, the water is polluted and the fish—aren't. Do you feel an urge to do something about it? Frankly, you should.

In talking with several fellow students; I may have found a tenable idea for correcting the condition. Now, let's do some figuring—approximately 400 students, 25c in donation from each—grand total of $100. That would be enough to add a fountain with drain (if possible), landscape the area, plant flowers, add a stone walk around the base, and of course put fish in the pond.

Think about it!

Thank you,
DENNIS ORNER

Dear Editor:

The issue of dress on the college campus has been, to some extent, overlooked. If you glance around the campus grounds and the classroom, you can see the shortness and tightness of some of the skirts. Such dress does not indicate a display of modesty. But, it indicates a need of some counsel on the subject of dress.

Dressing modestly does not mean wearing your sleeves to your wrist or your skirts to your ankles. However, it does mean wearing clothes of a moderate length below the knee and loose enough to walk without a struggle.

Some may reason that it is merely a style or just a fad. Many of these fashions and styles are lovely, and some of them are not. We should, therefore, choose our clothes with the thought, "Does this impair my Christian modesty?"

—CAROLYN WALKER

Dear Editor:

For the past few years, Trevecca has depended heavily upon Nashville First Church of the Nazarene to help carry on its athletic program. The Church has donated the use of its gymnasium to enable T.N.C. students to participate in physical activity. Their contributions has included free use of the gym, lights and all, almost any time the students have asked for it. Many times our students have been permitted to use athletic equipment, such as basketballs, basketball jerseys, chalk, and other items. What has our school done to show its appreciation for the donation? Say, "Thank you?" Will First Church continue to be so generous if we fail to show appreciation?

First Church now has the opportunity to improve its facilities with the addition of an electric scoreboard. As everyone knows, this will cost money. I believe that now is the time for our school to show appreciation to First Church for its generous help—something more than just a "Thank You." I think that Trevecca Nazarene College, not just the Athletic Association ought to "dig deep" to help pay for the scoreboard. Such an act might strengthen the ties between these two institutions as well as pave the way for continued use of the gymnasium.

CWA REPORT

By Martha Hord

Are you really so terribly busy on Monday evenings from 6:00-6:45? Could you take this time to be counted among the few faithful ones at CWA Prayer Meeting?

This is the opportunity, not only for those who participate in Christian Work actively, but also for those who are concerned with the lost of the area, to unite in seeking God's help and guidance.

Of course many cannot attend, but these can offer a word of prayer even when they are not present.

Captains and Co-captains should take the lead in attending and inviting others to come. A fact just pointed out this week was that a one week's prayer service less than 10 per cent of the captains and co-captains were present.

Let us all do our best to attend or pray privately if we cannot go.

Book Review

U. S. and Latin America

What has happened in Latin America? What is the present status of affairs? What are some of the present trends of the situation?

United States Policy in Latin America edited by Grant S. McClellan deals with these and related issues. In giving an up-to-date report on the situation, Mr. McClellan has published articles, excerpts from books and addresses on different subjects relating to the situation.

The themes which predominate throughout this compilation are the United States' concern about the introduction of communism into the Western Hemisphere and the hope that economic aid can help direct the already present forces of revolutionary change toward making the Latin American republics stable, viable, democratic countries.

Jones Presents Art Exhibit

Tomorrow is a day which looms large on the cultural horizons of Trevecca students. This is the date of the first professional art exhibit on our campus.

Mr. Jones

Mr. Jones, a native Californian, is well known in artistic circles as he is Art Director for "Farm and Ranch Magazine"; on the faculty at Watkins Institute, and was head illustrator for the Baptist Sunday School Board for ten years.

Mr. Jones usually chooses oil portraiture for his work, many of which have been exhibited at the Parthenon, the Circle Theater, and Watkins Institute.

He received his formal art education at the University of California at Berkeley, Chouinards Art Institute in Los Angeles, the Sorbonne and the Academie Julian. The last two named institutions are in Paris, France and are prominent among the leading art institutes in the world.

The exhibit on our campus is at the invitation of the Kappa Sigma Phi Society and will be open to all students and faculty members.

Stuco Reports

By JERRY APPLEBY

Election Day is drawing nigh with the Student Council taking this in the stride of activities. Everything is going smoothly and in line with the schedule set up by the Constitution.

The Student Council would like to take this opportunity to urge you to vote, no matter for whom you vote. Tomorrow take your privilege as a student—and VOTE.

Our main thoughts, however, are turned to the "All-School Project." It seems everyone is waiting until the last minute to complete his goals. This is fine but we urge you to give as soon as you can and as much as you can. We want the Chapel re-decorated as soon as possible. Only by your effort can we be successful.

The Administrative Committee of the faculty sent the idea of the Circle-K back to the Student Council for study. With it came a list of questions which the council failed to consider when they first passed it. After much discussion the Student Council decided to pass the Circle-K on a one-year trial. It has now to pass the Administrative Committee.

Seniors Take Comprehensives

Oral comprehensives are being given to seniors at Trevecca, Monday, April 29 through Friday, May 10.

Each senior who expects to graduate in June or August is required to have two oral examinations—one in his major field of study and one in his minor field.

Each examination consists of a one hour session in which the senior is evaluated as to his knowledge and appreciation of his major and minor areas.

General comprehensives were given March 27 in the form of the Graduate Record Examination. This examination included questioning in the areas of social sciences, humanities, and natural sciences.

Nominees List Qualifications and Experience year, winner of the D.A.R. citizenship award, received the "I Dare You" award as well as a scholarship. Also he was chosen the "Most Valuable Student." While in high school he was a member of the F.T.A., F.F.A., Key Club and the Beta Club.

At Trevecca Thom has been an active member of the CWA, serving in various phases of this organization. He was captain of Jordonia, the largest single CWA work, for one and one-half years.

Thom is presently president of the Junior Class. He is literary editor of the 1963 Darda and a contributing editor to TREV-ECHOES.

While going to school, he is working as a Journeyman barber. His presidential platform also appears on page 4 of this issue.

Winona Flatt, a candidate for secretary of the Student Council, is an education-psychology major and English minor from Lakeland, Florida.

In high school she received the D.A.R. citizenship award, the award for third honor of her class, an English award, a history award, and was chosen to attend Florida Girls' State of 1960. Also she received the Florida N.Y.P.S. Churchmanship award in 1961.

Winona is presently the sophomore representative to the Student Council. She has been a member of SEA, Literary Club, and the Clio Society, and is very active in CWA. Also she received a freshman scholarship here at Trevecca.

Future plans include marriage this June to Richard Humston, and, after finishing school, to teach elementary school and accompany Richard to seminary.

Winona feels qualified for this position since she has held club offices in high school as well as having had experience in the Student Council at Trevecca.

Steve Oliver, Winona's opponent is from Birmingham, Alabama. A freshman, he is a religion major and music and Christian education minor. Steve is a member of the Alabama Club, Music Club, TAA, and Ministerial Association. He is the freshmen representative to the Student Council. His campaign manager is Ron Pelton.

Phyllis Buss, a nominee for Darda editor, is from Belle Glade, Florida. An English major and education-psychology minor, she plans to teach high school English.

In high school she received an English award and was chosen "Best All-round." Valedictorian of her class in high school, she has received three class scholarships at Trevecca.

Phyllis uses experience as her main qualification. She was editor of her high school yearbook and has worked two years on the Darda staff. On the Darda staff, she has worked with photography and writing and lay out.

If elected, Phyllis plans for a collegiate yearbook. Every class will be represented on the staff, and every aspect of campus life will be portrayed, including study, worship, social life and sports. Activities of the married students will also be included. Her campaign managers are Janet Vernen and Dennis Orner.

Suzanna McManus, sophomore, is running against Phyllis for Darda editor. Suzanna is a graduate of Isaac Litton High School and is presently from Hendersonville, Tennessee.

In high school she was in the senior choir three years, went to All-Star chorus and was active in the Math Club and Christian Club. After graduation she worked one year at National Life and Accident Insurance Company in Nashville as a programmer.

At Trevecca she has been active in the Music Club and Math Club. She is presently president of the Math Club as well as president of the Tennessee Club. She is the reporter in A Cappella choir of which she has been a member for two years. An honor roll student, Suzanna has traveled for the school to Florida during winter quarter last year and all over the southeastern zone during the last summer.

A member of Nashville First Church, she has been active in the choir, N.F.M.S., N.Y.P.S. and the Sunday school.

The following statement is made by Suzanna: "If I am elected as your Darda editor, I pledge to do my very best to make next year's Darda an illustrated story of a wonderful year at TNC. Thank you for your confidence in me."

Don Irwin, candidate for Darda business manager, is presently a junior. From Clearwater, Florida, he is a math major and history minor. Among his future plans is graduate work in math at Peabody. Don is a

Dr. Greathouse Accepts Presidency

On April 26 Dr. Mackey made the official announcement of Dr. William Greathouse's acceptance of the presidency of Trevecca Nazarene College. This important decision was made by Dr. Greathouse after much deliberation and prayer. He was elected by the Board of Trustees Wednesday, April 24.

Dr. Greathouse received his A.B. degree from Lambuth College in 1941 and his Th.B. from Trevecca in 1943. After receiving his M.A. degree from Vanderbilt in 1948 he took additional work at Vanderbilt toward his Ph.D. degree. He was given his D.D. from Trevecca in 1956.

Dr. Greathouse has taught at Trevecca since 1946 with the exception of one year. He has served as pastor at Jackson, Tennessee; Franklin, Tennessee; Clarksville, Tennessee; Nashville Immanuel and Nashville First.

He began teaching full time at Trevecca in 1955. He is presently Dean of Religion and the pastor of First Church in Nashville.

Dr. and Mrs. Greathouse have three children, Becky, Mark, and Beth.

Spring Has Sprung!

Do you smell something new in the air? Recognize it? Yes, it's Spring! Spring is here again with all her glory. With her, come fresh beauty and peace to the earth, clothing nature in a new coat.

For the past few weeks, a visitor might have thought that the campus was a group of "walking umbrellas"; but that has cleared up. If you are a bit dismayed with all the rain that we have been having, just look around and you will see the results of it. If you have not noticed the beautiful daffodils and tulips blooming and the new leaves peeping out, your aesthetic senses need a re-adjustment.

After such a rugged winter, the sixth worst in history, the change has been so sudden that it takes your breath. We all enjoy the different seasons of the year, but spring is like "sunshine after rain." It brings forth beauty that man could never produce.

We still have April showers coming but do not get discouraged—just remember that they have a soothing effect on the earth, and:

"Though April showers may come your way
They bring the flowers that bloom in May."

—SYLVIA THRASHER

member of the SEA, Science Club, Math Club and T.A.A. He is also the junior representative to the Student Council as well as chairman of the project Committee which includes chairmanship of the "All-School Project."

"Being class representative has helped me to see more of the overall financial side of the various organizations, and being chairman of the "All-School Project" has acquainted me with the art of raising money," says Don. He lists work as a book-keeper as further qualifications.

His campaign manager is Ken Hemmerly. Barbara Johnson is aiding him with some posters.

Don's opponent, Kenny Walker, is from Louisville, Kentucky. Kenny is a science major and religion minor. Upon graduation, with credits from the University of Tennessee in science and math, he plans to go to medical school and later be a medical missionary.

Kenny is president of the Sophomore Class, vice-president of the TMF and the reporter in the Kentucky Club. He is a member of the TAA, Science Club, Kentucky Club, TMF and CWA. He was the campaign manager of John Sugg last year during the campaign for elections.

Kenny makes the following statement: "Being class president has helped me realize the responsibility of the financial side of any office."

Running for Trev-Echoes editor is Dick Bailey, a sophomore, of Charlotte, North Carolina. Dick is an English major and education-psychology minor. He plans to teach English upon graduation.

Dick is a member of the North Carolina Club, SEA, TAA and Speech Club. He was committee chairman of Etiquette Week, a participant in the Christmas play and is presently a columnist for Trev-Echoes.

Dick worked three years on his high school newspaper staff; the first year as reporter, the second year as advertising manager and the third year as business manager. He also wrote news, sports, features, and editorials. He has had experience in page make-up and advertisement layouts.

He was inducted into the National Scholastic Press Association Journeyman's Club at the end of his junior year in high school, awarded a gold cup for journalism at the end of his senior year and received recognition as "Most Business Minded."

Future plans for Trev-Echoes include a six-page paper, an editor's column, a column recognizing an outstanding male and female citizen of the issue, and a large spread for club and school activities.

His campaign manager is Roslyn Marlin.

Kathleen Kester, another candidate for Trev-Echoes editor, is a sophomore from Parkersburg, West Virginia. Kathleen is an English major and an education-psychology minor. After graduation she plans to obtain her master's degree from Peabody College before going to Kansas City to teach, while her husband, James, is in seminary there.

Kathleen was a member of the Student Council at Ben Franklin Junior High School and was active in various clubs at Parkersburg High School. While in high school, Kathleen majored in English and was on the staff of the school newspaper. She is now completing her third quarter of journalism at Trevecca.

She makes the following statement, "If elected, I will use this valuable experience to work for the students through Trev-Echoes."

Ray Kohser, candidate for Trev-Echoes business manager, is from Portsmouth, Virginia. An education-psychology major and Christian education minor, she is a member of the CWA, TAA, SEA, Virginia Club and Clio Society. She has a keen interest in sports and photography. After graduation from Trevecca she plans to get her master's degree from Peabody in library science.

Ray is serving on the Trev-Echoes staff as photographer.

Ray makes the following statements: "I feel that the position of Trev-Echoes business manager calls for a Christian who is dependable and economical. Being a Trev-Echoes staff member I have observed the duties of business manager. This observation has afforded me the knowledge of the many and varied duties. If I am elected, I will fulfill my obligation to the fullest extent of my abilities."

Working on her campaign are Marilyn Baldwin and Jane Cranshaw.

Running against Ray is Beverly

Construction on Dorm Begins

The new dorm construction is fascinating to students and professors alike.

Flying dust and fallen trees have come along with the new spring weather as the new girls' dormitory was just begun. The contract for the construction went to the Keenan Construction Company. According to the contract the new dormitory is to be completed by January 16, 1964. There are some expectations for the construction to be completed even before this date. With this date as the deadline for completion, there will be 270 consecutive calendar days for the work to be done.

Gibbs Hall will be used as a field office for the construction job.

Excitement is high for Trevecca students as they watch another milestone being reached in the history of Trevecca and see another dream come true.

Platforms Of Presidential Nominees

Jerry Appleby:

I recognize the following needs at Trevecca:

- (1) A more efficient parking plan for the convenience of both on- and off-campus students.
- (2) A reformed traffic program to prevent dangers to our students as pedestrians.
- (3) A system of choosing both "Class and Club of the Year" without replacing the desire for doing good with the desire for points.
- (4) A need for centralized activities of the T. A. A.—all being here on campus.
- (5) To improve our present system of Friday and Saturday night programs in order to stimulate attendance by students and faculty.
- (6) To give more recognition to honor students and those receiving special awards.
- (7) The constitution of the Associated Students to be printed in the handbook, thus putting one in everyone's possession.
- (8) Better organized pre-revival prayer meetings, perhaps sponsored by the Student Council.
- (9) A continued effort for good relationships with sister colleges through such activities as the O.N.C. band visit and the All-College Conference this year.

Realizing the limitations of the job of president of the Student Council, I could not pledge (if elected) to fulfill all of these, but I can strive to the best of my ability to see something done to improve conditions.

Thom Houseman:

If elected president, I want a new enthusiasm to complement a new college era. I want to work for the people and promote student interest. Pertinent aims of my platform are listed as follows:

1. TAA—to promote an increase in student athletics and encourage contributions to the athletic program by the College. Also to promote the idea of an organized physical education program for each student including the erection of a gymnasium.
2. CWA—to emphasize student participation and increased financial support. There are new opportunities in cooperation.
3. College trailer court—to endeavor to secure greater fire protection, better parking areas, and children's recreational activities.
4. Married Students—to promote a more reasonable activities program for married students. Also there is a need for local housing improvement. This might be initiated by taking a local survey of the housing program that is now in operation.
5. Automobile Owners—increased parking lots both in number and quality. To promote the right to appeal an auto fine given to an owner. A fee that will be used to improve parking conditions has already been discussed in TREV-ECHOES and the Student Council and has been adopted by the administration. As S.C. prexy, I want to promote a project involving a safety check of each automobile by a mechanic before approval. This will include lights, brakes, etc. The fee for the parking would cover such a project.
6. Honor Students—To seek an academic atmosphere by promoting and providing enthusiasm. A better science and mathematics program would be included.
7. Clubs and Classes—to provide a unified and simplified program of activities to avoid conflicts. I also plan to promote the idea of accumulative funds for classes so that a class will not be as likely to face financial depletion in any one year.

Kappa Sigma Phi Organizes

Beauty, wisdom, truth . . . this is the theme of the newest organization on Trevecca campus known as the Kappa Sigma Phi Society and previously known as the Literary Club. Serving on the executive council of the society will be: Jean Cranshaw, president; Jane Cranshaw, vice president; Lynn Barnes, secretary; Margie Smith, treasurer; Esther Farmer, reporter; Ruth Ellen May, librarian; and Mrs. K. W. Phillips, faculty advisor.

The desire of Kappa Sigma Phi is to foster wholesome social and cultural development as well as to encourage among students an appreciation for and an attitude of true scholarship.

Sponsors Chess Tournament

It has been said that of all the major games, chess is the most popular, the most widespread, and the oldest. It can be the most gratifying and intriguing pastime ever invented by man. The Chess Tournament sponsored by the Kappa Sigma Phi Society has begun with sixteen Trevecca students participating. Participants in the tournament include the following students: Joyce Andrews, Jane Cranshaw, Jean Cranshaw, Shelbie Henderson, Barney Baggett, Al Carey, Roger Costa, Gene Dalton, Larry Huggins, Don Irwin, Jim Knight, Frank McConnell, Jeff Moles, David Parrish, Don Ross, and Forrest Wise.

Erects Scoreboard

Last week to add to the efficiency and attractiveness of the athletic field the Kappa Sigma Phi Society erected a scoreboard. It is a ten by four foot aluminum structure which will add to the athletic program.

Visits Publishers Journalism Class

Journalism students recently observed the publishing plant of Farm and Ranch Magazine, which is located across from the college on Murfreesboro Road.

The class was given a guided tour through the departments by Mrs. Donna Spruill. The trip was taken in connection with the class' recent study of the process of publishing a magazine.

Many interesting and complicated processes were explained, such as coordination, editing, mailing, and printing the magazine. The linotype machine was one of the most fascinating items.

Visits were also made to the Advertising and Research Departments and the Home Section of the magazine. A tour through the Art Department, directed by Mr. Bob Jones, art director, revealed many interesting facts, and a talk with the associate editor helped the class to understand the steps involved in publishing a magazine.

Under the direction of Mr. Jim Kennedy, the Editor-in-Chief, the Farm and Ranch Magazine publishes editions of special interest for five sections of the United States. The magazine is printed in Lawrence, Kansas, and sent to subscribers across the United States.

In addition to Farm and Ranch the publishing company also publishes a new magazine entitled The Sunbelt Dairyman, which is printed in Arkansas, and has a circulation of approximately fifty thousand.

The trip was definitely an interesting and informative experience for the entire class. Members of the journalism class visiting the plant were: Dick Bailey, Judy Brooks, Phyllis Buss, Jean Cranshaw, Gene Dunaway, Jim Eades, James Kester, Kathleen Kester, Margaret McDonald, Jean Nelson, Bobby Niedra, Dennis Orner, Gene Smith, Gustus Thompson, Sylvia Thrasher, Patsy Wood, and Mrs. K. W. Phillips, teacher.

REV. AND MRS. KEYS

Rev. Keys Resigns; Takes Pastorate In Ala.

Rev. Clifford E. "Pop" Keys, who has been the field secretary for Trevecca College for the past fourteen years, will soon be leaving to pastor a church in Albertsville, Alabama. Already he has been preaching there on Sundays. His resignation was turned in during early April.

While at Trevecca he has been the field representative and has traveled one-half million miles with singing groups for the school. Accompanying him on many of his tours was his wife, Mrs. Keys, who is affectionately called "Mom" by T.N.C. students. While here he has also managed a printing shop in which he has printed T.N.C. literature and brochures.

Mr. Keys received his A.B. degree in 1927 from Asbury College. He also received his Bachelor of Theology degree from there.

Mr. and Mrs. Keys have two sons, Clifford Jr. and Glenn. Major Clifford Jr., a chaplain in the army, is now stationed in Korea. He will return to the United States in August. His wife and three children are living in Detroit. "Pop's" younger son, Glenn, is a biology teacher at Darby High School in Darby, Pennsylvania. He is married to the former Peggy Dot who was at one time Mr. Keys' secretary. They have four children.

Commenting upon the time he has spent at Trevecca College, Pop says, "I've been busy."

Comments from students concerning Mr. Keys are: "The most memorable part of choir tour was the devotional service conducted by 'Pop' and 'Trevecca will be minus one of its greatest spiritual leaders when Mr. Keys is gone.'"

Adams Expects S. S. Enrollment Increase

Summer school enrollment is again expected to reach new heights, breaking all established records. There is reason to believe, according to Dr. Adams, Dean of Arts and Sciences, that in 1963 there will be 200 students in attendance. Reasons for this belief are that: (1) Many students have jobs which necessitate a lighter load during the regular year but which call for summer attendance in order for them to stay on schedule toward graduation. (2) A number of college students speed their college program by taking summer courses. For instance, two members of the class of 1963 are graduating in three years plus summer school. (3) An increasing number of freshmen start their college careers in summer school.

This year there will be an experimental plan which permits carefully selected high school juniors to take some college work to count eventually toward a degree.

Nineteen professors will be teaching in summer school. The summer will be divided into two sessions and courses will be offered in all four divisions. The first session begins June 5 and the second July 17. The exact schedule of courses offered has already been posted.

A normal quarter's credit for college students of sixteen quarter hours may be earned during the

Hamlin, S. C. Lecturer

"The Making of a Disciple" was the theme discussed by Dr. Howard Hamlin, Chicago surgeon and recently appointed missionary to Africa, several weeks ago in the 1963 Student Council Lecture series.

Dr. Hamlin spoke Tuesday through Thursday in chapel during the week of April 8. Tuesday night he spoke in the Fine Arts auditorium, Wednesday night in the College Hill church and Thursday night he showed pictures of the medical work in Africa in McClurkan Auditorium.

Spiritual help was received by many students as they prayed around the altar at various services. It was voiced that the positive influence of this experienced man made an impact upon the entire student body.

two six-week session or eight hours in one session.

An attractive campus, a minimum of other pressure, more room in the dormitories, and air-conditioned classrooms and library add to the appeal of summer school, according to Dr. Adams.

Tidwell and McKay Halls will provide rooms at moderate cost.

Candid Campus

By ERBIN BAUMGARDNER

I dedicate this column to . . . OUR Dean of Students, Dr. Wise, who has a very unique way of disciplining violators.

For instance, just the other day I went to my mail box anticipating a letter, a bill, or maybe a magazine in which I would entertain my thoughts for a while, but instead found a note from the Dean which read: Mr. Baumgardner, Please stop by my office in the morning at your earliest convenience to discuss a most urgent problem. Signed, F. F. Wise. Such a note will do wonders for you, that is in the direction of driving you nuts . . . "What does he want to see me about?" is the first phrase that pops into your mind, and it is usually followed by, "I didn't do anything," which always poses that question, "or did I?"

This is where your subconscious goes to work and starts consciencing everything that was tucked away as "sub." How about the night you sneaked out of the dorm and met the TEN-TEN CLUB at Shoney's? Naw, Jack didn't see us go. We pulled that one over too good. Or hey, maybe he found the T V in the closet under the clothes bags . . . Or was he the fellow that followed you home from church the other night. Singling, that's what it is!

Morning comes too soon and finally you inhale enough courage into your being to step into his office, and in a quavering voice ask, "Sir, did you want to see me?"

"Yes, Mr. Baumgardner. You have been breaking a rule recently that is very vital and important to campus procedure." Oh my! I'm doomed. The electric chair would be too good for such a chiminal as me. My college life is finished. It's in the open now. I'm all washed up. They finally caught up to me. I might as well confess. It may make it easier on me.

The Dean takes a deep sigh, "This matter has been called to my attention and witnessed by several; you were caught in the act and must correct this wrong doing." Torture! Why doesn't he just pronounce the sentence and leave me to suffer my punishment in peace. "And so Mr. Baumgardner, I must ask you to . . . please not drive up the McKay drive the wrong way."

At this point you do not know whether to scream for joy or to just scream, but anyway you simply pass it off, as you wipe the sweat from your brow, as a meeting with the DEAN. . . .

Snap Shots

When what to my wondering eyes did appear but a BULL DOZER someone suggested the biology department was looking for Lumbricus specimens. Jerry Cook! A profit making fish pond and the nearest floating object occupying the water that even resembles a fish is a leaf, and they tell me that pond brought $40.00 in one day I'm going to wish by that pond The following is a paid advertisement: and please, will someone please let me know how I can get in contact with the fellow from the Olivet band who left his tuba in my room? I have already filled it with dirty socks. However, it does make an interesting conversation piece.

Gibbs Hall Vacated

"Home away from home" has been the phrase referred to Gibbs Hall by several of the girls on campus. To them it was a unique dormitory in which the girls lived with many of the conveniences similar to their homes.

However with the construction of the new girls' dormitory having begun, of necessity the girls had to vacate Gibbs Hall by April 22. New homes are being made in Smith Hall, McKay Hall and Hardy Hall. Many of the girls have expressed their regrets that Gibbs Hall must be eventually torn down but there will perhaps always be a fond place in their hearts for this dormitory.

Sat. Class Studies Nature

Every Saturday Professor Hemmerly takes a group from the nature study class on a search for all kinds of birds, wild flowers, and trees. The group goes equipped with binoculars, guide books and comfortable shoes for hiking.

Places visited thus far by the class include: Radnor Lake, Shelby Park, Howe's Garden and the apple orchard by the McClurkan Building. Some members of the class have also reported seeing various species of birds by the railroad nearby.

The class is planning trips to Old Hickory Lake and Percy Warner Park in search of wildflowers. They will visit Vanderbilt, Peabody and Trevecca campuses to complete their study on trees.

Norrick and Allred Present Recital

Miss Norrick poses for a picture before giving her recital. Pictured in the upper righthand corner is Mr. Allred, who assisted her in the recital.

Hard work and long laborious hours of practice went into making the Norrick-Allred recital a success last Friday night, April 26.

Miss Norrick began her senior recital by playing the "English Suite No. 2" by Bach, on the piano, followed by singing of "Stride la vampa! Il Trovatore" by Verdi, and "Rain Has Fallen," by Barber.

The next group of numbers were sung by Mr. Ed Allred. These were selections by Debussy, Durente, Charles, and Rombery.

After this Sharon sang "Beside Stille Waters" nad "Dawn," followed by three piano numbers.

The program was climaxed by two duets by Miss Norrick and Mr. Allred. These were "La ci darem la mano-Don Giovanni" by Mozart and "Come to the Fair" by Martin.

A senior, Sharon is a music education major and an education-psychology minor. She is a member of the Music Club, SEA, TAA, and Treble-Tone Choir. She has been a member of A Cappella Choir. Also she traveled to Florida during the Winter Quarter of last year and then traveled during the summer with a ladies trio.

A senior, Ed Allred is also a music education major and an education-psychology minor. He is a member of the Music Club and SEA. Ed gave a recital during his sophomore year. His accompanist was Miss Lucy Williams.

How To Wear What You Have

By ANN VAN HOOK

Being a good dresser is not having many clothes but is knowing how to wear what you have. The worst errors are made in color combinations.

Two terms used when talking about color are hue and saturation. Hue is the color itself such as red, blue, or yellow. Saturation refers to the distance the hue is from grey. The difference between smoke blue and pure blue is in saturation. Another term is brilliance which refers to the dullness or brightness of saturation.

To look really sharp for a dress-up occasion, you should wear a one hue outfit with only one accent color which is the focal point. When wearing a solid beige dress your shoes and purse should match and should be either brown or beige. (Shoes should be a basic color and should never be lighter than your dress.) Gloves should be the same color as either your dress or shoes. Your hat can be a focal point if you wish. In that case choose a hat of your favorite color (green or pale orange would be a good choice for beige) otherwise your hat should match your gloves or dress. If your dress is colorful or ornate, accessories should be of one hue and function as a background.

The best choice for a focal point is a hat, scarf, or pin (never a belt). An accent color should never be repeated more than once and the colors should be close together, such as hat and scarf, scarf and pin, or gloves and scarf; but should never be hat and shoes or hat and purse.

Another problem area in color is with saturation or shades. The most difficult color to work with is blue. The safest way to use two shades of the same color is to use one very dark and the other light. For example, wear a dark blue skirt and a pale blue blouse rather than combining two dark blues. It is best to buy dyed-to-match outfits if you want them to match.

These rules do not apply to casual wear because the trend in casual dress is to be way-out, haphazard, and carefree therefore, almost anything is "go."

A favorite cool color combination this spring is green and blue. Combining such colors is a very delicate job and should be reserved for the professionals. You can feel safe in buying ready made garments with these combinations. Red and pink are combinations beyond the limits of the amateur also. Other combinations to be terribly careful with are: pink and green, black and green,

O. N. C. Band Visits T. N. C.

The Olivet Nazarene College Band performed for Trevecca Students in McClurken Auditorium on Friday night, April 19. A tenor soloist and a soprano soloist, also from Olivet, accompanied the band. Both secular and religious music was included in the concert.

This concert was part of an exchange program between Trevecca and Olivet. The Trevecca A Cappella Choir will entertain O.N.C. students next year at a date to be announced.

The concert was well attended and many students voiced highly favorable comments concerning the band and the soloists.

Ken Walker spoke for the student body when he stated, "The entire program was very entertaining. I especially enjoyed the soprano soloist."

Janet Vernon hoped that "we can continue the exchange program in future years with groups such as the Treble Tone Choir, the Men's Chorus, and quartets and trios."

Students of both colleges said that the exchange program was beneficial to both schools as ideas and opinions could be profitably exchanged.

Sports In The Spot Light

Delta 19—Beta 9

Delta bats boomed the whole game, thus enabling the second-running team to dump the previously unbeaten Betas, 19-9. The game was a runaway from the start. In only one inning did the Deltas fail to score, that being the fifth. After a three run first, the winners chased across six more runs in the second. By the fourth inning, the Deltas led 12-2. In the final four stanzas each team scored seven runs.

Jan Forman and Carl Breeden each slammed three hits, and five other Deltas hit safely twice each. Jim Brackett, who was the winning pitcher, slammed a home run in the last inning.

Eddie Patterson and Fred Cobbs collected three hits apiece for the Betas, one of Patterson's being a four-bagger. Ken Walker was the losing pitcher.

Delta 13—Alpha 10

The Deltas scored their second victory in a row, winning a close one over the Alphas. The win boosted them above the Alphas in the league standings. Jim Brackett was the winning pitcher.

The Alphas suffered the loss of pitcher Red Sebring, who twisted his ankle while rounding third base.

Beta 10—Alpha 5

The Betas got back on the winning track on the strength of late inning splurges, defeating the Alphas 10.5. Since the Alphas were playing without the services of their captain, Red Sebring, they were at a definite disadvantage.

A walk, error and a double by Glen Wheaton produced two runs for the Alphas in the opening inning. Carl Taylor scored on a hit by Fred Cobbs in the Beta half of the inning. The Alphas were then shut out for four straight innings, while the winners were compiling six runs. These runs were made possible by only five hits. When the Alphas finally scored two more runs, they were topped by three more Beta scores.

Paul Farley went the route and received credit for the win, his second of the year. Don Hale, in his first start of the year, suffered the loss.

Beta 15—Delta 6

The first place Betas scored three or more runs in four straight innings to defeat the Deltas behind the four-hit pitching of Paul Farley. After taking a 2-0 lead at the end of the second frame, the Betas scored three runs in the third, fourth and fifth innings, and added four more in the sixth.

Carl Taylor, Fred Cobbs, and Eddie Patterson were the hitting stars of the game, each collecting four hits in five at-bats. Two home runs were hit in the game, one by Patterson and one by Larry Huggins of the Deltas.

Alpha 20—Delta 10

Even though the tally resembles a football score, this was a softball game. Wielding hot bats, the Alphas brought home 14 runs in the first two innings. These runs were tallied on only six hits, but ten walks were issued to Alpha batters. The Alpha victory creates a tie for second place between the two clubs.

The Deltas had offensive high spots too, such as their four run third, but the Alpha lead was too big to handle. Alpha players accounted for eleven hits, while the Deltas hit safely nine times.

Jan Forman hit the only home run of the game, a two run poke in the fifth frame.

Red Sebring received credit for his second victory of the year. Jim Brackett suffered the setback.

Alpha 5—Beta 2

Red Sebring fired a two-hitter in downing the Betas in what has been the best played game of the year. The curve-balling Alpha star yielded only two hits to Carl Taylor and retired 14 straight Betas, while the Alphas marched to a 5-2 victory.

Taylor singled in his first time at bat to start the game. No Beta reached base after that hit until the third inning, when Paul Farley was hit by a pitch. Taylor then came through with the only other Beta hit, a sinking line drive which skipped past the Alpha left fielder for a home run. From this point, no Beta reached base.

Farley had sailed rather smoothly until the fourth inning. In that frame, the Alphas rallied for three runs, taking the lead on two walks and three singles. These hits were by Dennis Orner, Gordon Ross, and Hugh Smith.

Eddie Patterson then relieved Farley in the fifth. The Alphas scored two more runs, thanks to three walks and a hit batsman.

Neither team committed an error, marking the first time this year that an excellent defensive game has been played.

Sebring chalked up his third victory in fine form, striking out five batters. Farley suffered his first loss of the season. He has three victories.

TAA Banquet, Awards, Speaker

Former high school athletic star and TAA president, William Strickland, is slated to be the guest speaker at the All Sports Banquet. The banquet begins at 7:30 on Saturday, May 11 and should be one of the year's biggest programs.

Strickland, who is presently a member of the T.N.C. faculty and the pastor at Benson Memorial Church of the Nazarene, made All-City when he played high school basketball here in Nashville.

After the dinner, presentation of the letters will be made to individuals, and trophies for the football, basketball, and softball seasons will be awarded. Special honors will also be bestowed upon the All-Stars and most valuable players of each sport.

Tickets are now on sale for $1.35 per person.

Knight Elected T. A. A. President

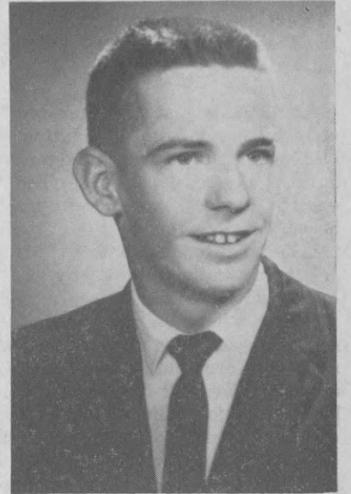

The members of the Trevecca Athletic Association have elected Freshman Jim Knight president of the T.A.A. for the 1963-4 school year. In a preferential poll taken on April 11, Jim and Ken Walker were nominated to run for the office.

A two year letterman in high school basketball, Knight has established himself as a three-sport athlete here at Trevecca. As a member of the Beta Society, Jim played right-end in football and was elected co-captain by his teammates. As captain and first team guard on the Beta basketball team, Jim finished the season high among the scoring leaders and led his team to the championship. In the current softball season, Jim is the Beta's catcher. Captain Eddie Patterson says, "Jim is a consistent hitter, a fine defensive catcher, and an excellent handler of pitchers."

Jim was voted to the first-string all star team in both football and basketball. His teammates say he is a sure bet for the softball all-stars too. The softball season is not yet finished, and thus the all-stars have not yet been chosen.

This year Jim served as secretary of the T.A.A., and current president Jim Stocks states, "Knight has done an outstanding job." Some of Knight's other activities are A Cappella Choir, Trev-Echoes sports editor, and two consecutive quarters on the honor roll.

Among Jim's plans for next year are "a better system for awarding letters, a long basketball season, and a tremendous increase in T.A.A. membership."

Music Club Presents Program

On Friday night, April 12, the Music Club presented a pantomime called "A Typical Day in the Life of a T.N.C. Student." Dennis Orner played the typical student. We saw him as he awakened; went to breakfast, French class, choir, history, chapel, post office; and as he ate lunch. After lunch the remainder of the day went like this: science class, English, health, the ball game, supper, study (?) hours, the T-Room, and good-night to his girl. Last, but certainly not least, he ended his day with prayer.

Choirs Honor The Keys

Present and former members of the college choirs and travelling groups met for a farewell party for Rev. and Mrs. Clifford Keys, who are leaving the college to take a pastorate in Albertville, Alabama. The group met Monday evening, April 22, in Fellowship Hall at First Church.

Two skits were presented by the A Cappella and Treble-Tone Choirs depicting typical activities on choir tours. Following this, slides and movies of this year's tours were shown.

Silver serving dishes were presented to "Pop" and "Mom" by the group after which refreshments were served.
