A Christian College with a Christian Purpose

Vol. XXII. No. 12

TREVECCA NAZARENE COLLEGE

May 31, 1960

Activities Crown Graduation Week

Rev. Mack Anderson Receives D.D. Degree

Dr. Mack Anderson, district superintendent of the Georgia District, was the speaker at the baccalaureate service, Sunday, May 29, at 3:00 p.m.

Dr. Anderson spoke on the values of life and what a Christian can offer to a needy world. His message was both timely and practical.

He is widely known as pastor and evangelist and has served as district superintendent for a number of years. Because of his Christian character and years of service to God and fellowman, Trevecca Nazarene College bestowed upon him the honorary doctorate degree at commencement, Tuesday, May 31.

Alumni "T" Award Given Dr. Slonecker

Once again as the commencement season approached, alumni of our college looked toward Trevecca in anticipation of the annual alumni banquet.

A highlight of the banquet was the presentation of the annual "T" award given each year to an outstanding alumni. This year's award was given to Dr. William Slonecker. Dr. Slonecker well represents Trevecca, as well as the Church of the Nazarene, in the medical profession. We are happy to have him as one of our alumni.

Also included on the program was the election of officers for the coming year. Mr. C. E. Keys presented the plans for the summer tour. A quartet composed of Gene Cook, Douglas Askew, Dale Melton, and Denny Hage will represent Trevecca over the zone during the summer.

Dr. and Mrs. Mackey entertained the alumni members at open house following the banquet.

The Alumni Association presented Miss Amy L. Person with a special award certificate and red roses.

Forty-Three Seniors Receive Degrees

Forty-two college seniors graduated with A.B. degrees on May 31. One received a Th.B. degree.

The following were the graduating seniors: Paul Agner, Lloydette Beard, Robert Brown, Virginia Bruckner, Shirley Bula, Helen Burch, Odell Caldwell, Ann Clayton, Harold Derryberry, Mabel Phillips Farrar, Bruce Haddix, Winston Hatcliff, Kemp Higginbotham, Frances Howick, Harold Hughes, Joyce Woodward Hughes, Louise Irwin, Paul Jackson, Lucille Jones, Patsy Jones, Charles Klinstiver, Jr., Eleanor Knotts, Franklin Lawson, Jean Ledford, Helen Leeper, Anne Haynes McDonald, Peggy Jo Neal, Jackson Phillips, Lillian Pickett, Glenda Putnam, Barbara Ralph, Gene Reynolds, Dorothy Shields, Phillip Shomo, Troy Slay, Ruby Spear, Jimmy Staggs, Faye Stewart, Robert Turner, Nada Ulm, Arlene Unruh, Jeanette Willis, David Wofford (Th.B.).

These seniors will receive their A.B. degrees in August: Berma DuBose, William Elkins, Betty Groves Fichter, William Klausner, Charles Melton, Beulah Riddle, Frances Shaw.

Sixteen high school seniors also graduated May 31. They were: Edna Ruth Blackmon, Roger Costa, Mary Elaine Evans, Judy Gibson, Shannon Goins, Paul Hetrick, Gary Jones, James Lasley, Beverly McFillen, Carolyn Nichols, Marie Price, Beverly Riley, Carol Robertson, Jo Anne Shuman, Marsha Steele, James Franklin Ward.

The following will be summer school graduates: Carol Brantley Allison, Darleen Hall, John Hall, Patricia Hall, Frank Hawks, Brenda Highlander, Judith Ann Mobley, Gloria Nash, Carolyn Garth Petty, Roy Ragsdale, Mary Ann Swink.

"Not at the Top, But Climbing," Is Class Night Theme

The theme for the college class night was "Not At the Top, But Climbing." Students from each state group presented songs and other items. The prophecy was read, and the seniors looked to the future. Mrs. Greene, the senior class sponsor, with the college deans and their wives entertained at a reception in the banquet room following the program.

T. N. C. Merit Awards

The following people received Certificate of Excellence awards for the school year of 1959-1960:

CITIZENSHIP.....	Orval LeJeune, Jeanette Willis
ATTITUDE.....	Harold Derryberry, Sylvia Young
GENERAL ACTIVITIES.....	Melvin Welch, Carolyn Wiley
LEADERSHIP.....	Kemp Higginbotham, Helen Burch
RELIGIOUS ACTIVITIES.....	Winston Hatcliff, Martha Gray
SPORTSMANSHIP.....	Bob Cook, Mary Jane Still

Junior Class Is Class Of Year

For the second time in as many years the Class of 1960-'61 has taken home the honors for Class of the Year.

Melvin Welch, president of this year's junior class, had the cooperation and support of the entire class as he plotted a well-rounded slate of activities.

Heading the list of projects was the purchase of metal book shelves and coat hangers for the cafeteria. These are installed and have been in use for several weeks.

Among the other activities during the year were: the sponsorship of the Junior-Senior Banquet, three class outings, three teas, several Friday and Saturday night programs, the all-school Halloween Party, Twirp Week, and a one-act play.

Runner-up to the junior class for Class of the Year was this year's senior class.

Led by Bruce Haddix, of Elkins, West Virginia, the seniors were in the running all the way.

The buying of two wrought iron benches and a table to match was the main project of the senior class. Also, a magazine rack was bought for the student center.

Included in the activities of the senior class this year were: the sponsorship of the Thanksgiving banquet, a one-act class play, an early-morning Easter pageant, several outings, teas, and receptions.

Who's Who

Elected to Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities are: GENE REYNOLDS, HELEN BURCH, PAUL JACKSON, WINSTON HATCLIFF, KEMP HIGGINBOTHAM.

Music Club Receives Club Of Year Honors

Club of the Year honors go to the Music Club for its well-organized and well-balanced program of activities.

President this year was Edith Mingledorff, a junior from Greensboro, North Carolina.

The Music Club is a departmental club organized for music majors and minors and any others who are interested in music.

Their project for the year was the purchasing of records for the music section of the library.

A close runner-up for the Club of the Year honors was the Science Club. Headed by Davie Edmondson, the Science Club had as its project improving the campus by planting trees and shrubs.

Three Seniors Are Elected To Phi Delta Lambda

Tuesday, May 31, at seven a.m., the annual Phi Delta Lambda breakfast was in the banquet room of the college cafeteria. This organization is the national honor society of the colleges of the Church of the Nazarene. Each college maintains a chapter, Trevecca's chapter being called the Zeta.

Graduates of the college with an average scholastic standing of 2.5 for their entire college record are eligible for election to membership. These elections are held each year during the commencement period.

Those elected this year are Ann Clayton, Eleanor Knotts, and Lillian Pickett. President of the society is Miss Amy L. Person. Mr. Billy Jared is vice-president; and Mrs. K. W. Phillips, secretary-treasurer.

Dr. and Mrs. Mackey Honor Seniors at Tea

A tea in honor of the graduating seniors and their relatives was given by Dr. and Mrs. A. B. Mackey at their home, Tuesday, May 31, from 4 to 5 p. m. Mrs. M. E. Redford assisted Mrs. Mackey in the serving. The table arrangement consisted of white stocks and purple gladioluses.

Dr. Hugh Rae Is Commencement Speaker, May 31

Dr. Hugh Rae, president of the British Isles Nazarene College, was the commencement speaker on May 31.

Dr. Rae, of Manchester, England, is a leader in the educational and evangelistic programs of the denomination in Britain.

The British Isles Nazarene College has completed its first year at Didsbury, a suburb of Manchester. The college was moved from Glasgow, Scotland, where Dr. Rae had served several years as the dean.

Dr. Rae was an engineer when called to full-time Christian service in the Church of the Nazarene. He completed training at the Nazarene college in Glasgow and also earned a master's degree at Glasgow University.

He served Nazarene churches as pastor at Dundee and Dunfermline, both in Scotland.

For the past several summers, he has been engaged in revival campaigns throughout the British Isles.

Music Club Presents Choral Concert

The Music Club presented the annual Spring Choral Concert Saturday evening, May 7, in the McClurkin auditorium.

The program consisted of groups of choral arrangements from the Treve-Dores, the High School Choir, the Treble Tone Choir, and the A Cappella Choir.

The "Grand Finale" was presented by the mass choirs as they sang "Battle Hymn of the Republic."

The conductors were Miss Barbara McClain and Professor Ramon Unruh. A reception was held in the Student Center for those participating in the program.

Thanks to Student Council

Let us stop and pay tribute to a hard working group of students on our campus. We do not hear too much about them; we only see their work. They are the group to whom we send our requests, complaints, and to whom we should send our thanks.

During this year they have worked faithfully to coordinate the needs of the students with the policies of the school. They are our leaders. They represent us and our desires. Because of them we are a better school. They are the foundation of our college student body. To you, members of the Student Council, we send our thanks.

"Bon Voyage" Is Banquet Theme

The annual junior-senior banquet was in the college cafeteria, May 21. Given each year in honor of the seniors by the junior class, the banquet had as its theme "Bon Voyage."

The cafeteria resembled a large ship with all its passengers seated on the deck for the evening. The sides of the ship displayed anchors, fishing nets, port holes—the usual things found on a ship. The display was very effective due to the mural on the back wall which gave the feeling of actually being aboard ship.

The centerpiece of the tables was a hurricane lamp and candle surrounded by a "life-preserver" covered with white chrysanthemums on which the theme "Bon Voyage" was written.

The menu, including baked fish and hush puppies, and the tables being served by waitresses and waiters dressed in navy and white sailor uniforms, played a large part in impressing the banquet's theme.

The invocation was given by our "Commander-in-Chief," Dr. A. B. Mackey. An appropriate song for the occasion, "Red Sails in the Sunset," was sung by a trio composed of Karen Cox, Helen Burch, and Bess Pearson. A Last Will and Testament and Class Prophecy were given, followed by the traditional presentation of gifts to the graduating seniors. The banquet would not have been complete, of course, without the presentation of the Super Seamen (junior and senior class officers).

The ship's passengers were favored with a piano selection, "Ebb Tide," played by Miss Barbara McClain, junior class sponsor. Concluding the program, Ed Whittington sang "You'll Never Walk Alone," followed by the benediction.

Parental Sacrifice

"You are the trip I did not take,
 You are the pearls I cannot buy,
 You are my blue Italian lake,
 You are my piece of foreign sky..."

Anne Campbell

These lines, written from a mother to her child, are very descriptive of the sacrificial love of a parent for a child. What is the source of this love? What driving force compels parents to give of themselves that those who are dependent upon them may have a fuller life?

We may answer these questions with the thought that the source of every good thing is God. He, in His infinite wisdom, saw that the young needed love and care and therefore inspires this self-giving love in the hearts of parents.

Most Trevecca students have passed the tender age in which one is wholly dependent upon others. Few would find it impossible to be self-sufficient if it should prove necessary. Yet we are indebted to the loving sacrifice of our parents.

If an honor role of parents were to be made, surely each would feel his parents deserved mention. "Mom and Dad" have made such a record of love and giving that certainly there are few who would not merit tribute.

How many students are attending Trevecca because of the sacrifice of their parents and family? How many more owe their presence here to the Christian influence of those parents? In times of loneliness and despondency a word with Mother or Father does much to cheer and encourage. There is no substitute for the memories of life in a Christian home. These are part of a heritage which will continue to contribute spiritually for a lifetime.

To you, parents, who have given unselfishly for our well-being, we give tribute.

Story of Trevecca

A very important part of the story of Trevecca is the role of our chapel services. Chapel is held every day and is a part of the college plan to promote spiritual life.

Chapel services are planned to help develop the student into a well adjusted person, and to this end the chapel committee works. There are many events in the chapel year that appeal to the student in different ways. Though the spiritual is emphasized and always honored, the chapel services are helpful in other areas.

Dr. Mackey is a weekly speaker and his Monday chapel talks are anticipated by the students. In his wise and unique way he attacks the problems of life with vigor and much good sense. It would be safe to say that Dr. Mackey has set many young persons on the right path with his approach to their problems.

On the faculty of Trevecca we have many able speakers. Some of our professors have been in the active ministry and have good things to offer the students. We hear good preaching along with lectures on health, music, etiquette, and many other worthwhile subjects.

Also provided for the chapel services are special speakers from various fields. In the fall the annual fall revival is of much interest and highlights the opening of school. During the year there are the Benson Lectures, the R. T. Williams Lectures on Evangelism, (Continued Col. 4)

College Publicity Is Important

Just as advertising has proven value, so does its companion, publicity. How does publicity have value? Let us count the ways.

First, it increases the prestige of the college in the eyes of the community. The name of the college becomes well-known and is respected. Students are happy to tell everyone what school they attend when they are sure the college is familiar.

Second, it aids the students in gaining employment. Businesses would rather employ an applicant if certain of his background. If the school is not well-known, the employer fears he may be employing a fanatic or radical.

Third, the local churches affiliated with the denomination gain prestige and social acceptance as their college does so. The public feels the denomination is accepted and is a permanent institution.

Fourth, college activities are better attended. Public announcement add interest to any performance. Thus more and better activities are presented.

Fifth, it gives the college a good opportunity to change the community where it is located. It has a greater possibility to act constructively in educational and religious functions.

Sixth, more possibilities for grants and bequeathed estates are created. It is believed a moderate publicity department will more than pay for itself in this manner alone.

Christian Workers Have Successful Year

The Christian Workers Association of Trevecca Nazarene College is closing out a most successful year.

As we look now at the statistics we can truly say that it has been worth every tear shed. It has been worth every prayer prayed.

The office of president has been filled so capably by Winston Hatcliff. Almost without fail, Winston has been ready to take the gospel story every Sunday beginning at 8:45 to the city workhouse. This is of course only the first of the many services that he so faithfully attends.

Jim Staley has also served our association faithfully as vice-president. We certainly do appreciate all of the time and efforts that he has put into the work.

I am sure that we are all familiar with Mary Jane Still, our fine secretary. (She's the one who puts those little 'report due' slips in the box).

Every issue of Trev-Echoes has contained a fine report of our C.W.A., thanks to our excellent reporter, Martha Gray.

The financial end of the association has been handled by Ed West, the treasurer. Ed reports that the C.W.A. has had an income of $690.77 this year. We certainly (continued on Col. 5) and the Student Council Lectures. For these special lecture series prominent leaders from some area of our church are invited to the campus.

Trevecca is located in a cultural, educational and religious center. From the schools and churches of the Nashville area we are able to have good speakers from various vocations. Doctors, teachers, social workers, and businessmen are numbered among those who speak to us in the chapel. All of these add to the lives of the students and help make them better Christians, citizens, and students.

Some might question the reasonableness of asking the students to attend chapel each day of the week and might ask if it is worth the time spent. If the questioner could see some of the scenes in chapel perhaps he would change his mind. Here in the chapel many fine young people find Christ as their personal Saviour and their lives are changed. Others who are saved are convicted of a need for the second work and find the cleansing provided by Jesus' blood. Many who are serving and will serve in the pastorate, in the field of evangelism, on the mission field, and in the classroom have heard and will hear the call of God in Trevecca chapel. Many others settle their life's work under the direction of the Holy Spirit in chapel.

The singing, the praying, the respect for God's works and God's house along with the altar services and notes of victory and many other factors help convince those who attend the chapel services of their worth and create a desire to keep these good things a part of Trevecca's story.

C.W.A. REPORTS

Martha Gray

The challenge to spread the gospel which the Christian world faces is an urgent one. Many there are who face life, and death, with no knowledge of One who can save to the uttermost. They have never been told of Jesus Christ who died for their sins, that they might have eternal life. Members of the Christian Workers Association have realized this and many have gone out faithfully week after week to take the gospel to those in need. They have gone with faith and courage believing that their message could transform the worst of sinners and make of them regenerated and sanctified Christians. They have not been disappointed. God has rewarded their efforts.

Since last June 4, 851 Christian workers have ministered to 24,188 people in the various services held every week-end. In order to give a complete picture for the entire year, it would be necessary to have the reports for another Sunday. However, to date approximately 3,144 people have raised their hands and requested the Christian workers to pray for them. Of this number 842 have been definitely converted and an additional 865 reported that they received definite spiritual help in the services.

As we look back over this year and see the wonderful way in which God has worked, and the many people who have been reached, we can do no other than bow our heads and hearts in thanksgiving to God.

appreciate the $30 of this given by individual donations. The total expenses for the C.W.A. this year were $591.07.

Our heartiest thanks go to the fine follow-up secretary, Ida Vaughn, and visitation chairman, LeRoy Davis.

Through your C.W.A. some 19,812 souls have been reached this year. Of these, 2,476 raised their hands for prayer, 689 were definitely saved, and 736 received spiritual help.

Two hundred New Testaments and 35,700 tracts were distributed.

High School Class Night Is May 27

The Class Night of the Trevecca High School senior class was built around the theme, "Moments to Remember," Thursday, May 26, in the Alumni auditorium.

Roger Costa presented the valedictory address and Edna Ruth Blackmon gave the salutatory address.

Following the program, a reception was given for the seniors and their parents by Professor and Mrs. Jerry Costa in the Student Center.

Who counts his brother's welfare as sacred as his own, and loves, forgives and pities—he serveth me, alone.

—John Greenleaf Whittier

Shannon's Sidelines

Now that the year is drawing to a close and as the seniors leave, I decided that there might be things they would like to take with them. To make it really official, the best thing to do is to publish it.

To Shirley Bula goes the first chair on the first row on the second side of Miss Person's classroom.

Patsy Jones should be quite satisfied with a piece of chalk from her classroom. This will remind her of the many hours she spent instructing the grade school children.

Ruby Spear should have some materials from the library to remind her of the many days she spent there.

To Bill Elkins should go the leaning stand in front of the bookkeeper's office.

Without a doubt Robert Brown should get one of the newspaper stands on campus. He is a faithful customer.

As this is the last issue of the paper this year, I would like to get as many names in this column as possible. If your name has not appeared here before, maybe it is in the following list: Dale, Mary, Sue, Carolyn, Roy, Pat, Sharon, Larry, Paul, Ed, Bob, Ken, Jean, Charles, Doris, Joan, Harold, Judy, Shirley, Ann, Jake, Bill, Frank, Shelby, Gene, Sam.

Parting thought: Best wishes to the seniors and all others.

DARDA Has New Look

This year's DARDA staff initiated a new trend which we hope is here to stay. This is a larger book. The '60 DARDA is nine by twelve inches instead of the traditional eight by ten and a half. Another first is the cover which is a beautiful brilliant red with white lettering.

This book will stand out on our shelves not only because of the cover characteristics, but also for the content. The editor, Helen Burch, captured the "Spirit of Trevecca" in learning, worship, friendliness, and cooperation, and has brought them all together in this one wonderful volume of memories.

The dedication is to our deserving musical instructor, choir director and friend—Professor Ramon Unruh.

The editor, business manager, and staff have enjoyed working endless hours to bring you this book. Their only hope is that you also will catch the "Spirit of Trevecca." May you love it, live it, honor it, and never let it die!

Ida's Animal Kingdom

My roommate owns a zoo. You might say, "Well, that's her business," but you don't understand. This zoo is in my room. Not only that, but instead of caging them, she generously spreads them over each bed. And oh, when visitors come! They must be introduced to each loving little "monster."

First there comes Watson Flopper, a rather dejected looking flopped hound; then there is Don Young Lambert Carlton Crain Lee, Jr., whose stuffing is no longer in its proper position; however, no amount of persuasion could convince her that the mangy, de-haired animal society out-cast should be thrown away. Next comes a little blue rabbit called Mr. Hop-o-long Dillinger, and Sardine the bull-dog. And I just couldn't forget Ronnie the mule that delights in wearing glasses as if he might be searching for fleas on his fellow zoo-mates.

You think you've got problems! What if your roommate owned a zoo?

Real joy comes not from ease or riches or from the praise of men but from doing SOMETHING WORTHWHILE.

—Sir Wilfred Grenfell

Look Up

Dear Seniors:

Ceaseless Time has erased another year,

At last longed for graduation is here.

You stand at a new threshold—eager? fearful?

Perhaps a little sad—even tearful; But look up as you hear the call to prayer,

Smile, be glad for the new honor you bear;

Then bow your head, your heart, for the beatitude,

Thanking Him with depthless gratitude.

Lift up the Banner of purple and white.

With perfect love walk meekly in holy light.

Remember you are climbing, striving for the top.

One goal won, be not tempted to stop;

Reach for a new star and it, too, will be

Only another milestone for you and me.

The days have been sweet and filled with joy;

Weep not for time you did not wisely employ,

Neither mourn for gems you failed to glean;

Look up! The top is nearer than when freshmen green.

Look up! And walk with a stately tread,

Meet with earnest the new time just ahead.

God will guide your every step, each day,

Till at last your gems before Him you lay;

Again you will look up—but to see His face,

Having at last reached top, ended the race.

So God bless you, Dear Seniors, each one,

As you press for the top in the race you run,

Climbing, climbing, ever upward, upward, ever on,

With His smile upon you for each victory won.

Then at last, with Him, you can rest an eon or two,

A worthy soldier, refreshed, to the dawn anew!

Tribute—1960

—Lucille Jones

G. Lewis Pennington Receives Ed.D Degree

Professor Lewis Pennington received the Ed. D. degree from the University of Mississippi on May 29.

Dr. Pennington graduated from Trevecca High School and then obtained a Th. B. and an A. B. in religion and educational psychology. He went to Peabody College to get his M.A. degree in history. In between times he was either teacher or principal for six years in the public schools of Georgia. He then went to the University of Mississippi as a graduate assistant. There he obtained his Ed. D. in education administration.

He has served seven different churches as pastor in the past fifteen years in Tennessee, Georgia, Alabama, and Mississippi. Dr. Pennington is an ordained elder in the Church of the Nazarene. He is married to the former Rosemary Layne (a former Trevecca student), and they have two children, Mary Lou, seven, and Stephen Lewis, three.

Rev. and Mrs. Larry Bryant Visit Campus

Recent visitors on campus were Rev. and Mrs. Larry Bryant, missionaries to Guatemala, who are in charge of the Bible School at Coban.

They plan to live in Kansas City while on furlough. Mr. Bryant will be in deputation work, Mrs. Bryant in Nazarene Theological Seminary, their oldest son Kenneth in Olivet Nazarene College, the other children, Marilyn, Mark, Joyce, and David in Kansas City public schools.

Rev. Larry Bryant graduated from Nazarene Theological Seminary with Professor K. W. Phillips in the class of '49.

Professor Hemmerly Receives Fellowship

Professor T. E. Hemmerly received a fellowship for the Summer Institute for Science, Mathematics, and Engineering Teachers. The National Science Foundation sponsors this program and gives college teachers additional graduate study during the summer.

Mr. Hemmerly plans to take a six-week course in genetics at North Carolina State College in Raleigh during the first part of the summer.

Seniors Honor Relatives at Tea

The senior class honored their visiting relatives and friends at a tea given on Tuesday afternoon, May 31, in the cafeteria banquet room.

Faculty Honors Seniors At Breakfast

Seniors were honored at a breakfast given by the faculty in the college cafeteria on Thursday, May 26, at 7:00.

This is a traditional event during the week preceding commencement, and is a highlight in the closing activities of the year.

Four Graduate With Scholastic Honors

Lillian Pickett and Ann Clayton, with a 2.9 scholastic record each, graduated with the highest honors Tuesday evening, May 31, when they received the Summa Cum Laude. Mrs. Eleanor Knotts and David Wofford received the Cum Laude.

Those in the Honor Society for next year are: Donnie Adams, Lanelle Cowan, Raymond Cowan, Dorothy Downing, Dwayne Little, Phyllis Lobb, Judy Magnusson, Dale Melton, John Menees, Edith Mingledorff, Carolyn Moore, Judith Parrish, Doris Sweeney, and Donald Turner.

The high school honor society is composed of Sue Cain, Roger Costa, Roy Ragsdale, Karen Unruh, and Faye McDowell.

Isaiab 41:10

"Fear thou not"

Do not fear the fiery trials,
Nor the storm or tribulation,
Nor the reality of today,
Nor the mysteries of tomorrow,
Nor the dark valley of the shadow,
Nor judgment to come.

"For I am with thee"

I will walk beside thee
To deliver thee from Satan's snare,
And to give thee present victory,
To guide thee in all tomorrows,
And to give thee boldness in the Day of Judgment.

"Be not dismayed"

So worry not
Nor be overly anxious
Concerning anything.

"For I am thy God"

I am not a God
Of gold or silver or wood or stone,
But a living, strong, and watchful God
And I am thine.

"I will strengthen thee"

The unfailing power of my Hand
Will be given to thee in time of need
And untold strength
Will be thy refuge.

"I will help thee"

Before thee I will go
To fight for thee,
To make a way for thee,
And be thy stay in time of peril.

"I will uphold thee"

Never need thou fall
For I will lift thee
In Mine omnipotent Hand
And carry thee over life's way
Into eternal life.

—Bob Mitchell

Adieu

Exam time is over, graduation is past, and summer vacation is coming up. The seniors who fretted through comprehensives prepared for graduation while the others studied for exams. We fondly and sadly bid our seniors adieu and make plans for the summer and next year. Some will not return. Many new ones will arrive. The old must give way to the new. The swift seasons roll by and we must prepare for the future which all too soon becomes the present and past.

IN MEMORIAM DONNIE JOEL SMITH DIED JUNE 1, 1959

I saw a star from heaven fall last night.

Through the dark it traced a path of light.

There they shone, the billions in the sky

And one that had to fall to earth and die.

This one is not alone, for many fall,
But this one seems the saddest of them all,

For I myself its fall to earth did see,

And so it seems so very close to me.

And yet a greater hope springs up within—

Perhaps the end is only to begin!
I never saw a star to heaven go,

And yet that does not mean it can't be so.

This time last year to heaven God called a star,

But heaven from earth does not seem very far.

—Mary Jane Still

Fine Arts Recital Presented May 20

The first event of the commencement activities, the Fine Arts Recital, was presented Friday, May 20.

Piano solos were played by: Esther Costa, Ruth Ann Klintstiver, Ellen Phillips, Hilda Kea, Sharon Norrick, Sylvia Thrasher, Ann Bohannon, Marquita Thomas, Sue Ryland, and Marie Price.

Vocal solos were presented by: Ann Benson, soprano; Sandra Nedrow, soprano; Bill Elkins, baritone; Bobbie McCleskey, soprano; Jeanette Beel, soprano; Patsy Hayes, soprano, Janice Hay, soprano; and Don Eads, tenor.

Jo Ann Smith and Ann Fleming gave readings. An organ solo was played by Uldine Stewart.

Following the recital, those who participated were entertained at a reception in the student center.

Grade School Has Graduation May 28

The Trevecca Demonstration School graduation took place on May 28, at 2:00 p.m. in College Hill Church.

The program began with "The Star Spangled Banner" by grades one through seven. This was followed by prayer. The graduating class gave a choral reading by Longfellow entitled "The Builders." Then they sang "We Would Be Building" by Dietz and Sibelius. Reverend K. W. Phillips, dean of admissions at Trevecca, gave the graduation address.

Diplomas were presented to the following students: Mitchell Mann, Patricia Mann, Barbara Hunley, Ellen Phillips, Ruth Ann Klintstiver, Joyce Robertson, Linda Spruill, Harry Grady, Ray Jones.

Following the exercises, the graduates and their families were entertained by the college senior class at a reception in the College Hill Church annex.

Don't be afraid of opposition. Remember—a kite rises against, not with the wind.

Chatter Box

Wendell Poole, in his second year as T.A.A. president, has done a commendable job in building Trevecca's athletic program. He has served on the Student Council for the past two years and has worked very hard in expanding Trevecca's athletic program. "Congratulations on an excellent job, Wendell."

Throughout the year as the boys are playing the various sports, they often hear a voice say, "Have you paid your T.A.A. dues?" Mary Jane Still, treasurer of the T.A.A., has had the job of collecting the dues. Money is very hard to secure from college students, but Mary Jane has been on the beam all year in collecting dues. "A job well done, Mary Jane."

As the meeting convenes, you notice a small dark-haired girl with a pencil in her hand taking down all the important facts that are brought up. This is the very capable secretary of the T.A.A., Joyce Woodard. Joyce in her year as secretary has done a fine job of keeping the various records of Trevecca athletics. "A very fine job, Joyce."

Alphas Defeat Betas 16-12

In a slugfast the Alphas edged the Betas by the score of 16-12 with a total of 25 hits among them. At the plate for the Alphas Al Wood and Darrell Dennis went 2.3. For the Betas, who collected fifteen of the hits, Bill Thompson was the big gun with 3.4. Clyburn, Carr, Clancy, and Woods boosted the Beta attack with two hits each.

Wendell Poole hurled for the Alphas, opposed by Gerald Woods for the Betas.

Betas Edge Deltas 8-7

Playing like champions the Betas came from behind to defeat the Deltas in the last two innings by the score of 8-7 as Gene Cook and Roger Costa led the Beta batting attack with 2 for 2 each. Cook plastered a three-run homerun to lead in the R.B.I. department. Dave Edmondson hurled for the Betas, opposed by Byron Dollar of the Deltas. At the plate for the Deltas Gene Reynolds and Charles Kirby had three hits each.

Deltas Beat Alphas 16-3

The Deltas powered their way to a 16-3 victory over the Alphas with Jerry Andrews leading the Delta batting attack with 2.5. The Deltas made some excellent fielding plays to boost Byron Dollar's fine pitching performance as he only allowed four hits.

Darrell Denis led the Alphas at the plate with 2.4. Wendell Poole pitched for the Alphas, but was hindered by the Alphas' miscues.

Betas Clobber Alphas 22-12

The Betas flexed their muscles in romping over the Alphas with Lowell Clyburn getting 4 for 6 at the plate including a powerful homerun for the Betas in hitting. Roger Costa was 3 for 5; Joe Carr, 3 for 4; and Gene Cook, 2 for 6. Charles Klintiver led the Alpha batting attack with 2-4. Laverne Deel hurled for the Alphas against Bill Thompson for the Betas.

They helped every one his neighbor; and every one said to his brother, "Be of good courage."

Girls Softball

The girls seem to have three well-matched softball teams. In a close season, the Alphas have come out on top, with the Betas second and the Deltas third. The season started with the Deltas defeating the Betas 8 to 1. The second game, a two-extra-inning thriller, resulted in an Alpha victory over the Betas 17 to 16. In the third game the Alphas continued their winning ways with a 9 to 7 victory over the Deltas. The season continued with rousing Beta wins: Betas 22 and Deltas 2, Betas 21 and Alphas 13, leaving the Alphas in close first place.
