RIGHTEOUSNESS

. . . We spend our days at Trevecca Nazarene College. The LIGHT has come to us. May we go forth as LIGHTS to those who sit in darkness. "Ye are the LIGHT of the world. A city that is set on a hill cannot be hid . . . Let your LIGHT so shine before men, that they may see your good works and glorify your Father which is in heaven."

... The call of youth on the Southeastern Zone with LIGHT from Trevecca Nazarene College.

We, the annual staff and student body dedicate the 1955 volume of The DARDA to our Field Representative who has given so much to make Trevecca a better institution.

IN LOVING MEMORY OF

MRS. A. K. BRACKEN

TEACHER, COUNSELOR, FRIEND

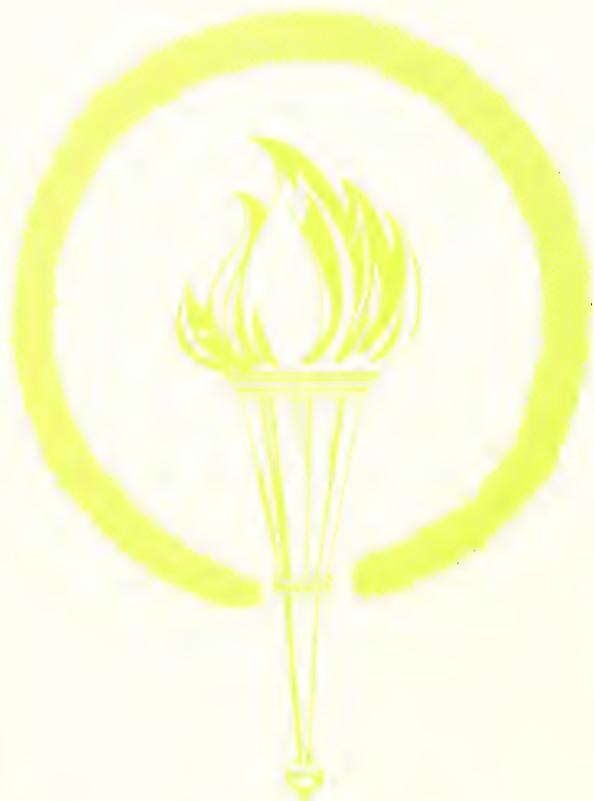

G O D C A L L E D H E R N A M E

She raised her eyes from the roll book
In her tender, thoughtful way,
And said, as she opened the textbook,
"Two are absent today."
Then she whispered with tears in her voice
Her words like a wistful prayer,
"When the roll is called in heaven
I hope no one's missing up there."

Day after day as she taught us
She often repeated the phrase.
Other than "Psych" and Botany,
She talked about God and His ways;
She seemed to know when a student was down,
The touch of her loving hands
Gave many a lift to a discouraged heart
As she whispered, "God understands."

And God came one day, stood by her side,
And whispered, "Child, well done;
I'm adding new names to the roll book of heaven
And you are the chosen one."
So she laid her work aside
And softly slipped away
To dwell among the Chosen Ones
In God's Eternal Day.

We miss her tender counsel,
Her words of faith and cheer.
The stamp of her life is engraved on our hearts
And her voice reechoes here.
But her roll book lies unopened,
Her desk is quiet and bare;
For they called her name in heaven
And she was not missing there.

Leadership

I know a man who stands on a hill,
With wisdom of life in his face.
The lines that time has placed there,
Tell a story of strength and of grace.

I know a man who stands on a hill,
With a vision for youth in his eyes.
There are lives to be molded, a task to be done
And buildings must climb to the skies.

I know a man who invested his life,
In a task that could not be done.
Yet he is unconquered for God leads him on
And smiles on the victory he won.

STUDENT ADVISORY COUNCIL

WAYNE SHARPES
President

Some of the more important duties of the Student Council are to act as the chief agency of liaison between the faculty and the Associated Students, to coordinate the efforts and activities of all student organizations, to assist in periodic organization of student organizations, plan the student activities of convocation week, help to plan the programs of student activities for the current year, and to be the agency to act on suggestions for any improvement which might be designed to further the aims, ideals, and standards of Trevecca Nazarene College.

This year's Council under the direction of the president, Wayne Sharpes, was the first to act under the new Constitution which was inaugurated by the Council of 1953-54. Also, for the first time in the history of the Student Council of Trevecca an office was provided for the group which is adequate for all its needs. This room, located in the Fine Arts Building, is large enough to provide a meeting place for the entire council.

Among the accomplishments of this year's Student Council was the sponsoring of a drive for furniture for the new student center; the presentation of John Stockton, general treasurer of the Church of the Nazarene, as the Student Council Lecturer; the revision of the Student Handbook; and steps toward the establishment of a high school council.

Each of the eleven members and Dr. Adams, the faculty advisor, has sincerely endeavored to keep the purpose of the Associated Students of Trevecca Nazarene College, as stated in the Constitution, before him. This is "To foster and maintain the aims, ideals and standards of Trevecca Nazarene College and of the Church of the Nazarene."

The voice of the student body echoes on Trevecca campus and the southeastern zone through our bi-monthly publication, Trev-Echoes. It reflects the current life of the campus, including special events, news of interest and various school activities. It has regular columns of interest to the students on etiquette, health and the business of the Student Council.

Assigning articles, proofreading, drawing up the dummy copy and hurrying it off to press is the work of our Editor and Assistant. The business manager's duties include taking care of finances and collecting ads. Reporters, composed of the Journalism class, have cooperated faithfully in making this a successful year for the tenth annual official publication. Mrs. K. W. Phillips, editorial advisor, added the finishing touches to each publication of Trev-Echoes before it went to press.

The issues are eagerly anticipated by students, faculty and friends.

"Give Me Strength!"

"Hi! Rose, how is the DARDA moving along?" . . . A friendly greeting . . . a smile, and the questioner moved on, but the echo remained following me all through the months as we worked to complete the 1955 DARDA. "There is a job to be done, a deadline to meet," came the echo, "and every day counts!" When things got slow and the grind became discouraging, Frankie Edwards, my assistant, was always there with an understanding word. "The important thing is to keep moving," came the nagging echo as we flew through the first quarter, Louis Johnson, our photographer, stayed busy doing both portrait work and informal photography.

Second quarter rolled around all too soon. Ruby Potter, Clubs Editor, and Bill Galloway, High School Representative, went scouting for snapshots. Now came the laughs . . . crazy snaps . . . were a real find. "Remember, the manuscript has to go in," came the nagging echo . . . "hurry!" The typewriter clicked busily as Ruth Johnson, Literary Editor, carefully and efficiently prepared each page along with Wanda Phillips, Staff Typist. Counseling times with Mrs. K. W. Phillips marked highlights through the year. Her encouragement and understanding gave us a push at the right moments. "It's time to finish up now," came the echo as we rushed to finish last minute details, checking the dummy and consulting with the business manager.

At last the final day came. The printer arrived and took all last minute copy away. The other staff members were in class. The office was still and I reminisced for a moment. "The year has been a good one," I thought; "laughter . . . work . . . and even the old grind. I'll miss all this next year." I glanced around the office lovingly. Then the echo came again, "Why not clean up the office now? Just look at the glue on the desk and the overflowing wastebaskets." Resolutely I stood up and threw my books aside. "I'll do no such thing!" I fairly screamed to the empty office. "The DARDA has gone to press. It's spring outside, and I'm going for a walk."

It has been a pleasure and a unique experience to serve as business manager on the 1954-55 DARDA Staff. It has been a privilege to work with Rose Merchant who has edited a beautiful and complete yearbook. I am grateful to my assistants, Ralph Lee and Robert Hedgepath, for the help they have given through the year. I enjoyed working with Lou Johnson, who is responsible for the portraits, and it was equally a joy to deal with Wallace Bell who has efficiently served as staff photographer in the last two quarters.

I deeply appreciate the spirit of the pastors on the Zone and the many other boosters of T. N. C. who have had a part in the production of the DARDA. We hope that our readers will not only enjoy looking at the various pictures of the students and their activities but will also observe the ads in the back of the book. Without the financial help of our friends we could not have presented this yearbook to you. May the Lord bless you as your interest and enthusiasm grow for the most wonderful school to be found anywhere.

PAUL LOUIS ACHHAMMER

STEBENVILLE, OHIO

A.B. Religion

Ministerial Association 1; Clio Society 2.

Among those students who have successfully combined the responsibilities of a home and family with being a full-time student, Paul stands high in our estimation as an all-around Christian gentleman. He enjoys going out for an occasional round of golf for diversion. Another of his hobbies is parakeet raising. A religion major preparing for the ministry, Paul is also considering the teaching field. We are confident that he and Dorothea will "go places."

ROBERT QUINCY AGNER

MADISON, FLORIDA

A.B. Music

Florida Club 1, 2, 3, 4; Honor Society 2, 3, 4, President 4; Vice-President Sophomore Class; President Junior Class.

Bob probably has made as fine a record as anyone who was ever graduated from T.N.C. As a student of music and religion, he has excelled in scholarship, as well as being active in social activities. Bob and his wife, Joyce, live in Trevecca's Trailer Court, and in their spare time they enjoy playing the piano and singing together. After graduation Bob plans to take graduate work, after which he is going into the pastorate. A student like Bob will be hard to replace; our best wishes go with him for success wherever he goes.

MAXWELL R. BENNETT
RICHMOND HILL, NEW YORK

A.B. Religion

Eastern Nazarene College 1, 2; Ministerial Association 4.

During the two years since he transferred from Eastern Nazarene College, Max Bennett has efficiently served in the capacity of school maintenance man, always available when needed. He has successfully combined being a good student with providing for a family. Since faithfulness in small things is a major requirement for a good worker, Max should have no trouble performing his chosen task of mission work. We wish the best of everything in life for him as he goes forward for the Master.

One of the wonders of Trevecca is how this active West Virginian can do so many things so successfully. Norma, always cheerful and bustling with energy, is not only an A-grade student, but has been a leader in social and religious activities during her four years at Trevecca. We will miss her friendly voice at the switchboard and her witty remarks from the window of the General Office. Norma will surely be a success in the teaching field; we believe in her one hundred per cent.

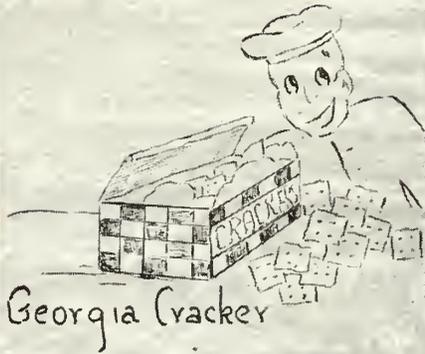

KENNETH BRESSE CLEMENTS

WRIGHTSVILLE, GEORGIA

A.B. Religion

Georgia Club 1, 2, 3, 4; Ministerial Association 1, 2, 3, 4; Speech Club 1, 4; Literary Society 2, 3, 4.

Ken hails from the deep South, and his friendly ways, genuine smile and faithfulness have made a place for him on Trevecca campus. Keeping busy with classes and a full-time job, he finds few spare moments to pursue his favorite hobbies of reading and "loafing." Ken plans to attend Nazarene Theological Seminary before he enters into the ministry as a pastor. He has been a well-rounded student whose ability to adapt himself to each situation will carry him far in the future.

Our Trailer Court boasts some fine residents, and among the best are Don and Sue Cork and their young son Micheal. Don's quiet, consistent life has been an inspiration to his fellow students. He has found time for many extra-curricular activities, and he and his family are active members of College Hill Church. Waiting for the right door to open, Don's future plans are undecided, but we are certain that whatever way he chooses, he will be a success.

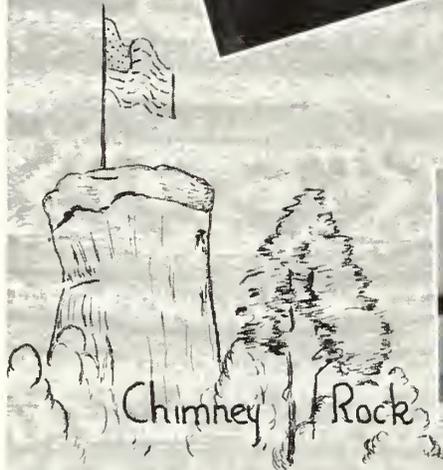

MILDRED JOYCE CAMPBELL CRANE

HIGH POINT, NORTH CAROLINA

A.B. Music Education

Choir 1, 3; North Carolina Club 1, 2, 3, 4; Student Council Representative 2.

One would never guess that Mildred, quiet and efficient secretary to the Dean of Students, was called "Tommie" by her family because she was once somewhat a "tomboy." Besides keeping busy with studying and working, Mildred does a wonderful job of keeping house and cooking for husband Bill. She enjoys quiet hobbies like sewing, reading and piano playing. Mildred's long range plans include an M.A. degree from Peabody College, then teaching in Kansas City while Bill attends the Seminary. With her determination and ability, she will succeed as a teacher and pastor's wife.

Florida Club 1, 2, 3, 4; Speech Club 1, 2, 3; Christian Workers 1, 2, 3; Honor Society 3, President 3.

Perhaps no other Trevecca student is better known than our dietitian. A versatile person, he fills multiple roles as family man, cafeteria and T-room manager, part-time pastor, active student and top-notch scholar. A typical Floridan, he likes to slip away for a day of fishing every now and then. With his ambition and superior ability, he should succeed as he goes out to pastor full time.

This dark-eyed "Georgia peach" has gladdened our hearts with the music of her fingers in chapel during this past year. Called "Mary Lou" by her close friends, she is not only an excellent pianist, but plays the organ and accordion equally well. Mary has been active in all phases of school life, receiving a letter for participation in activities of the Girls' Athletic Association in 1953-54. Her chosen field is teaching, and we are confident that she will be a good teacher.

RUTH MARIE EVANS

CULLMAN, ALABAMA

A.B. History

Clio Society 1, 2.

When we see "Pixie" sighing over some old, worn volume of love poetry, we no longer jump to the conclusion that she has been "smitten," because now we know that her favorite hobby is collecting poetry. This little southern miss from Alabama way has done an excellent job of assisting Professor Duckett in the bookstore, and Trevecca students are going to miss her radiant smile from across the counter. Another of Ruth's hobbies is history books, especially historical novels, which will be an asset to her when she starts teaching. Her quiet, consistent life is an inspiration; we wish the best in life for you, Ruth.

When Trevecca students go through the line at the bookkeeper's office, they usually come away empty-handed, but P. J. is one who profited from it, because he married one of the office girls, Peggy, who was a graduate of Trevecca in 1954. One of Paul's favorite hobbies is proudly showing off his young daughter, Faye. He is also interested in sports and photography. A good singer, Paul traveled for the school in the Evangelaires Quartet. Contemplating the field of evangelistic music, P. J. will surely succeed in whatever task he chooses.

"Janie," busy little girl with a reputation for getting things done, has heartily and cheerfully entered into school activities. This brown-eyed Kentucky lass with a major in Biological Science is dreaming of the day when she will receive her white nurse's cap. Iris, a familiar figure back of the library desk, has also done a fine job as assistant in the biology department this year. In addition to her school activities, she finds time to teach a class of primary Sunday school children. Her main hobby is collecting salt and pepper shakers. With her energy and perseverance, Iris Jane will be a success at whatever she attempts in life.

A familiar figure with a leather briefcase, Cliff Hampton is not only a good student, but is a faithful family man, finding time to be a pal to his four children. An enthusiastic Miracle Maid salesman, he has worked full time in this capacity to keep himself and three children in school. An ardent golf fan, he finds time to include sports in his busy life. With his understanding nature and friendly disposition, he will make an excellent pastor. We wish the best of success for him in the ministry.

Trevecca students who are connected in any way with the history department are familiar with the "Support the Clio Society" motto of President Charles Hodge, which is just one of his many interests; others are photography, music, including accordion and piano, and record collecting. Coming to us from the Cotton Capital, Charles, jokingly known as "Hodgepodge," is a favorite at Trevecca, a fact proved by his recent election to Who's Who. His plans include marriage in August to Margaret Barnett, former Trevecca student, graduation from Nazarene Theological Seminary, and full-time pastorate. We wish the best for Charles and Margaret.

A religion major with a vision of a full-time pastorate in the future, Bob has made an excellent start toward success with his "faithfulness over a few things." We send our best wishes with Bob and Marguerite—they deserve them.

A campus favorite because of his friendliness and easy-going disposition, Tommy is one who has mastered the art of doing many things well. A conscientious student, he is also a full-time worker for Southeastern Truck lines. His hobbies are reading and collecting poetry. After he has earned his Master's degree, Tommy plans to teach, possibly doing missionary work with the American Indians. With his courteous ways and consistent life, he should be a success. We have confidence in you and your ability, Tommy.

One of Trevecca's most talented students, Rose has a great future in store. This versatile redhead has a knack for just about anything connected with art and music. With her humorous and serious readings, Rose has always been a favorite with the student body. An excellent vocalist, writer, artist and poet, she has a wide field from which to choose her career. We of the DARDA Staff extend our best wishes to our efficient editor; we believe in you, Rose.

If good students make great lives, Juanita's should be one of the best. "Niter," as her friends call her, is known and loved for her quiet, unassuming disposition which radiates from her expressive brown eyes. She has been active in extra-curricular interests, maintaining one of the highest scholastic standings in the college at the same time. One of Juanita's favorite pastimes is her regular evening telephone conversation with Bill. She enjoys collecting and filing material for teaching primary children, which will aid her in her future plans for a teaching career. With her ability to succeed, Juanita will make a place for herself in life.

MARION STEPHEN PRESSLEY

ROCK HILL, SOUTH CAROLINA

A.B. Religion

South Carolina Club 1, 2, 3, 4; Ministerial Association 1, 2.

The only man at Trevecca who can say that his pastor is also his wife, Press enjoys telling people that visiting with his pastor is his favorite hobby. This South Carolinian should go far in the ministry with his talent and perseverance. Still a little undecided about the future, Marion plans either to do post-graduate work or enter directly into the evangelistic field next year. Our wishes for a successful ministry go with him.

SENIORS

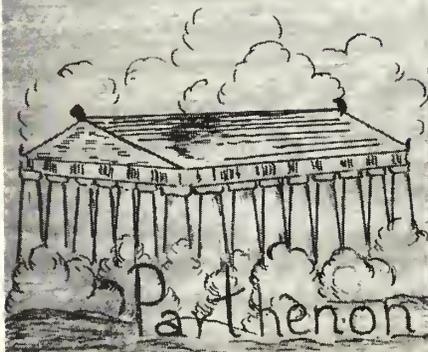

CHARLES HOWARD RHYNE

McEWEN, TENNESSEE

A.B. Religion

Honor Society 1; Ministerial Association 1, 2, 3, 4; Christian Workers 2, 3; Student Council Representative 4.

Those who know Charlie best appreciate the qualities of genuineness and friendliness which he displays at all time. Another of our busy married students, Charles still has time to participate in extracurricular activities and occasionally to indulge in hunting and fishing, his favorite pastimes. Charles, a member of the Pilgrim Holiness Church, is a consistent Christian gentleman. After leaving Trevecca, he hopes to do post-graduate work at the University of Tennessee, and afterwards to enter into full-time ministerial work.

ROY DALTON ROBERTS

CHATTANOOGA, TENNESSEE

A.B. Religion

Ministerial Association 1, 2, 3, 4; Tennessee Club 1, 2, 3, 4; Literary Society 4; Christian Workers 4.

In the wee hours of the morning when all is quiet and still at T.N.C., a lone figure watches the campus, and late-comers to McKay and Hardy Halls know to call for Dalton when all is locked and barred for the night. Jokingly known as "Rocky" from Chattanooga way, Dalton has been a good student, and is already making a name for himself in East Tennessee as a Christian worker. His plans after receiving his degree are to do post-graduate work, after which he will pastor. May his always be a successful and fruitful ministry.

Earl, a serious-minded young man from the sunny South, leaves a vacant spot at T.N.C. that will be hard to fill. This well-rounded Floridian has been active in all phases of school life, always a favorite with his classmates by virtue of his warm smile and friendly ways. In addition to his busy school life, Earl finds time to wheel a bicycle for Western Union. His hobbies include boating, reading and woodwork, a fine specimen of his latter skill being on display at McKay Hall. Prospects for Earl's future are bright as he looks forward to marriage with our Trev-Echoes editor, Velva Sharpes, enrollment in the Seminary and then full-time pastorate.

Already making a name for himself as an outstanding Wear-Ever salesman, Don has what it takes for a successful business career. Occupying a roomy house trailer in Trevecca's Trailer Court, Don and his wife and young son are an ideal family. His main interest, aside from his school work and salesmanship, is home movies. We feel sure that Don will be successful in his chosen career as a Wear-Ever man.

Son of Alvin C. York, famous hero of World War I, Ed has a special place in the hearts of Trevecca because of his humble Christian spirit and friendly ways. In addition to his school work, Ed keeps busy as pastor of a church in Glasgow, Kentucky. He enjoys collecting antiques of all kinds as a hobby. He and his wife and son, Gerald, are among the best of Trevecca's families. With his good speaking ability and consistent life, Ed should make a successful pastor.

Our Christian Worker graduates have obeyed our Lord's command to "go into all the world and preach the gospel to every creature." As students at Trevecca these students prepare to fulfill this command by giving a testimony to a Christian experience. Members of this organization participate in a regular Monday evening prayer meeting, services at the jail, city and county workhouse, juvenile court, street services, rest homes, and the Salvation Army social center.

CHRISTIAN WORKERS ASSOCIATION

"Christ"

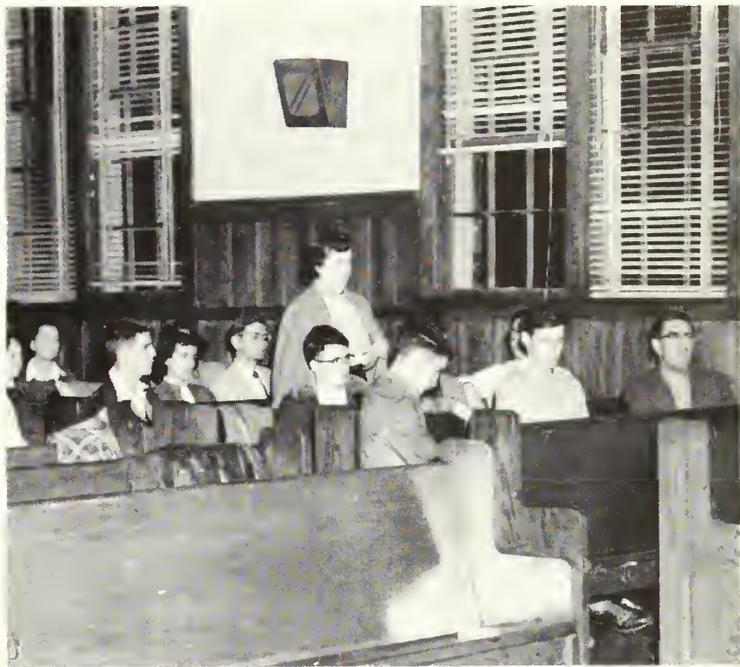

"Go ye into all the world and preach the gospel to every creature." This command is realized in the hearts of T.N.C. students as they go out into the city of Nashville and the surrounding area to work in the Kingdom of God.

Sunday is an important day for Christian workers. In organized bands students go out in the morning to the City and County Workhouses and in the evening groups go to the Juvenile Court, County Jail and to various resthomes throughout the city. A service at the Tennessee Industrial School is sponsored each month by this organization. During the week there are two street meetings in various parts of the city.

Monday evening the bell rings at 6 o'clock announcing the weekly Christian worker's prayer meeting. Reports are given from the Sunday activities and requests are made for prayer for these works.

Many students at T.N.C. are preparing for full time Christian work. These activities offer opportunities for preparation for their future work. Since Jesus gave his disciples this command centuries ago His work has prospered throughout the earth where there are willing hearts to take the message. Many victories are won for God in these weekly services.

"THY WORD IS A LAMP UNTO

The bell echoes across T.N.C. campus . . . It's eleven o'clock, chapel time. Time to forget class work, pressing responsibilities and perplexities, time to lift the heart to God in worship. Chapel is an oasis in a busy day and memories of these services will linger long after our days at Trevecca have ended.

The 1954-55 services have been well planned, including lectures on personality development, student speakers, and programs sponsored by various departments along with wonderful evangelistic speakers. Revival fires have swept the services and campus this year. Our hearts lift in gratitude to God for His blessings and for the LIGHT we have received from every chapel hour.

MY FEET AND A LIGHT UNTO MY PATH."

THE EVANGEL TRIO
Joyce Schurman, Patsy Decker, Delorus Brown.

Trios and quartets go out regularly from T. N. C. to the districts on the Southeastern Educational Zone. Under the direction of Rev. C. E. Keys, Field Representative, organized tours are planned. This year the Evangel Trio along with the Crusaders Quartet toured Florida during February.

The summer months are busy ones for these groups traveling to as many of the churches of the zone as possible.

"The family that prays together stays together." This band of consecrated young people boost the family of missionaries who are on the field. Trevecca students preparing to go to the mission fields and those who will be laymen boost together through the weekly hour of prayer and fasting on Friday.

THANKSGIVING

"Father we thank Thee," was the theme of the Thanksgiving season at T. N. C. During this season we were honored to have Rev. J. Southerland Logan, of London, England, to hold a week's revival, November 15-21.

His inspiring messages made us realize God's goodness. Our hearts were uplifted in Thanksgiving to Him.

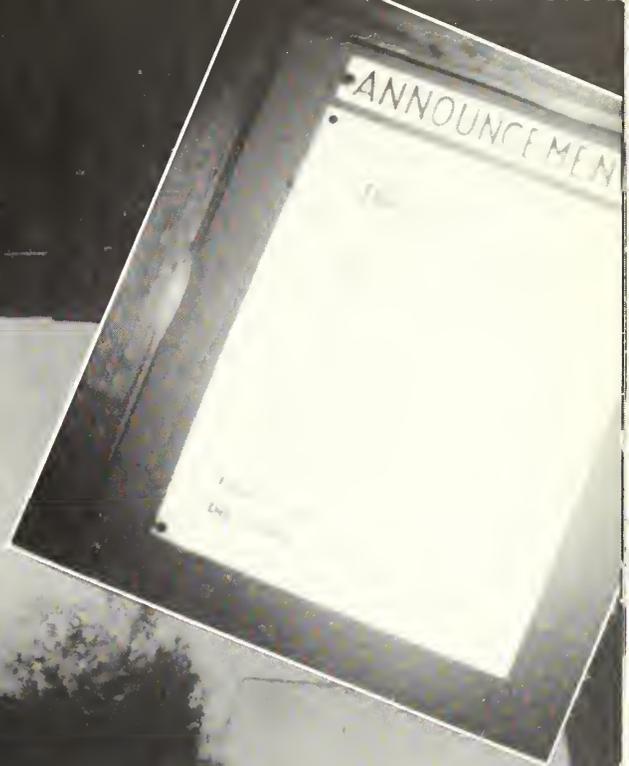

Saturday night, November 20, the Senior Class sponsored a Thanksgiving Banquet. Dr. Logan climaxed the evening with his Thanksgiving Message to us.

COUNSELING

One of the great advantages of attending a Christian College such as Trevecca, compared with the larger secular colleges and universities, is the opportunity for individual counseling. Every student has available numerous opportunities for personal guidance. A purposeful counseling program plus personal interest on the part of our faculty and special counselors makes our Christian Education here an opportunity in personal growth and adjustment as well as a rich opportunity for an education in a positive Christian atmosphere.

MEN'S ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION

About mid-afternoon on T. N. C.'s campus, thoughts turn from classroom to sports and the pathway of many students leads to the athletic field. The M.A.A. is organized to promote this interest and encourage physical education by planning the football, basketball and softball seasons. The membership of the M.A.A. has grown from forty members to a membership of over seventy. The increase in interest and membership this year has made 1955 the best year for the Men's Athletic Association in its history.

FOOTBALL

Contested games and exciting upsets combined this year to make an exciting football season. The Freshmen were crowned football kings. These "gridironers" compiled an 8-1 record, only losing a 7-6 decision to the Sophomores. Things became exciting on December 7 in the annual T-Bowl Game. The Freshmen, league champions, defeated the All-Star 31-16 in the highest scoring game in the T-Bowl's history. Results:

The 1954-55 basketball season will long be remembered for its success. The Upperclassmen ran their record to a 7-0 count, the longest in the history of the school, before falling in defeat to the Sophomores. The Sophomores' two defeats came at the hands of the second place Upperclassmen. The Sophomores were champions with a 10-2 record.

The season was climaxed with the Annual Tournament. An All-Star team of outstanding players was chosen from the different teams. They were: Bill Strickland, Dan Godby, Howard Spruill, Harry Evans, Ray Petitt, Ed Whittington, Bob Bellville, E. C. Rose, Joe Finger and Larry Finger.

WALK! WALK! WALK! When everyone else was sleeping soundly, the G.A.A. members were getting their morning exercise. Even on rainy days, the teams, captained by Carol Poling and Geneva Franz, rose early and took long walks through Percy Warner Park and other interesting places. The hikes were climaxed with hot coffee and donuts supplied by the team acting as host.

Among other activities in which the G.A.A. participated were the weekly volleyball games. The Freshmen team was victorious in this sport. The High School girls were champs in the basketball games which were played at Lucy Holt Moore gymnasium. The girls kept the softball diamond well occupied during the spring.

BASKETBALL

This year's basketball season was very successful with a continuation of the league organized last year. The High School came out champions with the Upperclassmen and Freshmen second and third respectively. The games were played at Lucy Holt Moore Gymnasium on Saturday afternoons. Team captains were: Audrey Sweeney, Upperclassmen; Elaine Eby, Freshmen; Linda Hampton, High School. Miss Joyce Smith's loyal support as sponsor of the G.A.A. helped to make the basketball season a thrilling one.

"WAKIE"

I am indebted to T.N.C.
for sending the quartet in 1932 for a home mission campaign in West Nashville.

SOMEONE KNOCKED ON MY DOOR

Someone knocked on my door; it was a dreary, rainy day.
I did not know the man, so I had but little to say.
I don't remember how he came; it matters not very much—I guess.
But he found a heart so hungry, for my life was in a mess.
He smiled—I could see he was happy, and I stood wondering shy,
"We just stopped by to see you as we were passing by.
Won't you come to the home mission campaign?
Won't you come and help us sing."
I was glad for the invitation; I told him others I would bring.
As he turned away from my door, I wanted the man of God to talk some more.
I saw he had the Master's love, trying to win a soul for heaven above.
I made up my mind I would go over that night.
When we got there they were singing—my, my what a sight!
Some were crying, some were shouting out loud;
I did not like it much—I was too stinking proud.
The man of God preached as only A. E. Kelly can
He talked of Heaven, then of Hell until I almost ran.
Then I saw them hit the altar one by one
Most of the people prayed until the job was done.
They found peace and joy for their troubled hearts.
I said "That's what I want," but I didn't know how to make the start.
But I hit the altar—I went there to stay
Pulled the shoes off my feet—they were hurting that day.
I thought the meaner you were, the more you'll have to pray.
I started to tell the Lord I would stay there all day.
About that time the Lord from Heaven above,
Gave me peace and joy and filled my heart with love.
I found the Saviour so dear to all;
The One who can keep us and never let us fall.
Praise God today and forever more
For sending a man to knock at my door.
It meant but little for him to knock it—stranger's door.
But it meant Heaven for Old Wakefield and the peace of God forevermore.

Friday Night

Dear Folks,

This has been a busy week. but, I have relaxed this evening and enjoyed the program in the Fine Arts Building. It was a Speech Recital.

Time around to hold suppose time certainly does fly here. I almost want back the moments. I waste a lot of when I should be studying, but we stay busy in class. Whew!!

During the snow last week, it was even

TREVECCA NAZARENE COLLEGE

A. B. MACKEY, President
NASHVILLE 10, TENNESSEE

dangerous to walk to class. The snowball flew!!

It is swell to have christian classmates and we have plenty of good times.

The chapel service today was wonderful. Brother Tidwell spoke. Dr. Mackey will be speaking Monday.

Folks, don't forget to write. I almost tear up the sidewalk getting to the mailbox

It's getting to do my tomorrow late and I plan laundry early so I'll climb into bed now.

All my love,
